Monday's Delayed News Briefly Told

Resume of World Happenings Received From 8 o'Clock Yesterday Afternoon Until 8 o'Clock This Morning.

Eastern
Eugene R. Scates, Frank B. Hayes and William Brown of New Orleans, entered tentative pleas of not guilty to the indictment charging them with operating a corner in cotton in violation of the Sherman anti-trust laws. They were given 10 days to demur in New York.

Because of the rumors of cold weather in Brazil and unfavorable crop reports, the price of coffee has taken an advance in New York markets. Spot market remained firm and half a cent higher.

In an explosion in the smokstack of the Steptoe smelter, at McGill, Nev., two men were burned to death and others received slight injuries.

Miss Marie Collier, who disappeared from Chicago, leaving a note saying that she had been banished from society because she was formerly a nurse in a leper colony, has returned. She said that the unfounded reports had caused her to contemplate killing herself.

William Payne, a farmer, aged 50, living near Trenton, N. J., killed his wife, then committed suicide. The couple had been separated, and the wife had refused to return to her husband.

It is learned on investigation that the wreck of the Wahkiakum, a steamer owned by Quincy at Nelson, Wis., in which one man was killed and 18 injured, had a hero, in Engineer M. H. Dorsey, who reversed his engine and backed on to the main track. His action saved other passengers.

A license to wed was issued to Miss Ernestine V. Roedelheim, sister of the wife of William Sulzer, deceased governor of New York, and Walter M. Freidenberg of Edhill Road, Cleveland, Ohio.

In case of Abraham Bruchner, aged 18, who for 12 days has been asleep in the hospital at St. Paul, is puzzling physicians. The boy appears to be oblivious to pain. His condition is said to have resulted from hysteria caused by ill-treatment before the lad left Russia.

Elmer B. Myers, a Brooklyn youth who set up a wireless plant on top of the roof of his home without first obtaining a federal license, was fined in the United States court. He is said to be the first offender under the new law.

A new and deadly method of extortion, or a hoax, may be revealed in a letter which the postal inspectors of Chicago are investigating. The missive contained deadly germs which could be transferred to the one handling the letter. The writer demanded $1500.

Evidence that the freight rates on bananas shipped from New Orleans and Galveston to Kansas City were discriminatory as compared to the rates on points in Nebraska, was submitted to the Interstate Commerce commission at the hearing in Kansas City.

George Hartman, who escaped from quarantine at St. Louis to return to his home, claiming that he was cured of leprosy, has been returned to quarantine. Authorities say that apparent cures were characteristic of the disease.

Executive and Political.
Petitions asking ex-United States Senator Lorimer of Chicago to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the senate next spring were circulated in Chicago. The petition was mailed to Chicago by the Republican club of Galenburgh, Ill.

Prince Albert of Monaco, at Washington, told an interviewer that America was "magnificent, but young, and has all the exuberance of youth." The almost universal desire for learning here, was what impressed him most.

Lieutenant Cayser F. Fenning, medical reserve corps, has been transferred from Fort Columbia, Wash., to Monterey, and will be succeeded by Lieutenant Charles K. Sautter, now at Fort Worden. The interstate commerce commission has ordered that for two years the railroad rates on imports westbound from New York and Boston shall be the same. The two cities have been fighting the rate case for some time.

Secretary of War Garrison, accompanied by his wife and Brigadier-General Weaver, chief of Coast artillery, will sail from New York Wednesday for Colon. The secretary will inspect the canal and confer with Colonel Gosthale and other members of the commission relative to legislation which will be necessary for the operation of the waterway.

Addressing the delegates of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church at Washington, Secretary of State Bryan said that there never was a time when the people needed the inspiration of the Bible as they do now. He said that there is not a community which cannot be purified and redeemed.

Pacific Coast.
G. S. Grabow, convicted of stealing an automobile, was given 10 years in the penitentiary—the extreme penalty—by Judge Willis of Los Angeles, Cal. The court said that the "jorjiding thief was a menace to the country."

The coast division of the reclamation service, states that Idaho and Washington should follow the example set by Oregon, and complete its reclamation projects, in order that that section of the northwest can be made ready to receive new settlers.

The Southern Pacific might be willing to sell the Pacific Mail for a "reasonable figure," according to the statement of Mr. Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors. The steamship company has until 1914 to change from railroad ownership if permitted use of the Panama canal.

A panic in a moving picture theatre at San Francisco was prevented by a young girl plant when, without attracting the attention of the audience, she notified the management of a fire in the picture operator's room. The girl continued playing while the audience was asked quietly to leave the house.

Oregon Briefs.
Douglas county voters are said to be in favor of the appropriations for the state university at Eugene. A canvass of the county was held, and the result almost entirely on the side of the appropriation plan.

Governor West has received a copy of the bill introduced by Senator Chamberlain providing for reimbursement to the state of $19,448, spent in recruiting volunteers for the Indian wars of 1864-67. The bill was introduced October 13 and was referred to the committee on claims.

The coast division of the Lane County Teachers' institute has opened at Florence, 30 teachers being in attendance. Miss Van Bibber, supervisor of that district, is in charge.

County School Superintendent Gary of Clackamas is sending more than 2000 copies of books for children to the various county school districts. The books were bought by the assessment of 10 cents for each child in the district.

CONFLICT IN LAW MAY NULLIFY VOTE FOR BRIDGE BONDS

of the state must register before the general election of 1914. Mr. Holman's contention was in effect that the bond issue, all citizens of Multnomah county must register anew; but that a 1912 registration is sufficient for a vote on referendum measures. The argument was made upon the ground that the general registration law of 1912 is unconstitutional, but Mr. Holman points out that it might be held unconstitutional.

Richard W. Montague, of the firm of Wood, Montague & Hunt, after a cursory examination of the technicalities at issue, takes an opposing view, believing that the registration proviso for the coming election applies to the election of a whole and not to the measures alone.

Point is Important.
He says briefly of Mr. Holman's contentions on the technicalities of the forthcoming election and of the 1912 election in general. "While the point Mr. Holman makes is important and worthy of serious consideration, I do not see why the section to the act permitting electors to vote under their 1912 registration might not be held to apply to the election provided for in the act, not merely to the special measures referred to."

"There is nothing in the wording of the section which precludes such a construction and it certainly would be in accord with public convenience and the reason of the thing. If the election called for by the act may include other than the referendum measures why should not the clause for registration also apply to the other measures?"

Mr. Holman in following up his line of reasoning states that in his belief the general compulsory registration provision in the 1912 election law is unconstitutional and cites court decisions to that effect in the past. If it is unconstitutional he argues, then Oregon has no valid registration law, as any election only qualified would be able to vote without registration.

Mr. Montague further states that he does not believe the general law of 1912 would repeal the provision made for the special election to take place next month. Regarding Mr. Holman's contention that the compulsory registration proviso of the 1912 law is unconstitutional, he says, "I think that any decision holding the compulsory registration provision unconstitutional would probably also hold that such provisions are separate and that the act is otherwise in effect."

Holman's Contentions Set Forth.
This, in effect, means that an elector not registered may be allowed to vote by bringing to the polling place six freeholders who will certify as to his fitness and qualifications.

Mr. Holman's contentions are in full in the following letter: "I desire to call attention to complications which have arisen and which will probably hereafter arise in regard to the changes made in the Oregon legislature of 1913 in the registration laws of Oregon. Two acts were passed, one being chapter 321, which went into effect February 23, 1913, as it had an emergency clause. The other act is chapter 323, which went into effect June 1, 1913.

"It has been the habit of Oregon governors in the past few years to escape responsibility by not approving laws that have passed, and allowing them to become laws by being filed in the office of the secretary of state. Each of these acts was filed in the office of the secretary of state, February 23, 1913.

"Chapter 321 provides for a special election to be held November 4, 1913, for voting on all measures enacted by the legislature of 1913 on which a referendum may be invoked. Section 2 of said act provides that:

"Legal electors may vote under their registration for the year 1912, or upon affidavit of six freeholders as provided by law."

Applies to Referendums.
"It is assumed to have been assumed by the public at large that this provision applied to all measures to be voted on in 1913, but it applies only to the referendum measures on laws passed by the legislature of 1913. It does not apply to the interstate bridge act nor to amendments of the city charter.

"Chapter 323 is an act to provide for the registration of voters, etc., and repealed all the existing laws in relation to registration, excepting that it amends section 2465 of Lord's Oregon laws, which provides penalties for violation of the registration law by any county clerk, his deputy, or any judge or clerk of election, etc.

"This act provides (section 1) that: "It shall be the duty of every elector in the state to register prior to the regular general election of 1914."

"No elector who is not registered as provided in this act shall be entitled to vote at any election provided for by law, except in school district or ward district elections, provided, that in case the supreme court should hold the above provisions for compulsory registration invalid then, and in that case only, the elector may register with the judges of the election on the day before subscribing to the following form and securing the affidavit of six freeholders that they are personally acquainted with the elector and his qualifications as an elector.

Apparent Extension of Law.
"It therefore appears that it was the intention of the law to do away with allowing an elector to vote on affidavits of six freeholders as has been heretofore provided. It will be noted that a person who has registered can vote through the affidavit of freeholders only in case the supreme court should hold that section 6 of said act is invalid. No such case has been brought in any court of the state of Oregon so far as I am informed.

"If said chapter 323 is unconstitutional, then the law would seem to be: That any elector could vote on a referendum under his or her registration for the year 1912, or upon affidavit of six freeholders, as provided by law, and that on all other measures, which includes the interstate bridge act and the amendments to the Portland charter, no person can vote who has not registered, under said chapter 323.

"With others, I have been misled by the statement in the newspapers and by county officials that those who registered in 1912 did not have to register to vote on initiative measures. It was announced in yesterday's papers that the registration books would not close until today, October 21.

"Section 5 of said chapter 323 provides that:

"The county clerk shall register any qualified elector who may request to be registered, at any time after this law shall be in force and effect except that he shall refuse to register any elector during 30 days next preceding any general or primary election, or 15 days next preceding any special election."

"The fifteenth day next preceding November 4 is October 20. It would then appear that the registration of any person on or after October 30 and prior to November 4 is illegal. It would seem that the registration books would be open on November 4 for the citizens of Portland to register in order to vote at the election in December on amendments to the charter.

"But, I call attention to another phase of this law. As I have said, chapter 323 repealed all the important parts of the registration laws then in force.

Contents Provision Unconstitutional.
"It can scarcely be doubted that the provision of chapter 323, requiring an elector to register in order to be entitled to vote at any election, is unconstitutional. The original registration law passed in 1885, having a similar provision, was held to be unconstitutional by the supreme court of Oregon, in the case of White vs. Commissioners of Multnomah county, 12 Oregon, 317, for the reason that the constitution of Oregon fixed the qualifications and places of voting of electors and the provision that no elector could vote unless he had registered was, therefore, invalid.

"In the case of Woodward vs. Barbur, 59 Oregon, 24, this act is cited and approved, on another point under a case involving the right of the city of Portland to require the city auditor to judge of the qualifications of the signer of the registration books in the offices of the county clerk.

"The subsequent registration law provided that if a person did not register, he could vote by securing the affidavit of six freeholders. This allowed him to vote even if he had not registered and was a reasonable provision to identify the elector.

Section Possibly Repealed.
"There is one question which I merely call attention to, and that is whether section 2 of chapter 321 is repealed by implication by chapter 323. Following the rule laid down by the supreme court of Oregon in many cases, as chapter 323 has an independent title, it would seem that there is reason to claim that section 2 of chapter 321 is repealed by implication.

"For the purposes of this communication, I shall assume that said section 2 has not been repealed, and that on November 4 legal voters who have registered for the year 1912 have a right to vote on all referendum measures. But this does not apply to any initiative measures, nor to the interstate bridge act. As pointed out in a recent statement by the secretary of state, a person who has not registered under said chapter 323 may vote on referendum measures November 4 by bringing with him to the polling place six freeholders to make the certificate required by chapter 323.

Those Who May Vote.
"The conditions seem to be as follows: "First: That on referendum measures on laws passed by the 1913 legislature, all voters may vote thereon under his or her registration for the year 1912, or upon the affidavit of six freeholders, as provided by law.

"Second: Assuming that said chapter 323 is constitutional, then no person can vote on any other measures, including the interstate bridge act and amendments to the city charter who has not registered as provided in said chapter.

"Third: If said chapter 323 is unconstitutional, then any elector duly qualified may vote at any election without registration, and Oregon has no valid registration law."

the low lying portions of practically every town on the Maryland coast early today. The water in some places was four or five feet deep. Much damage was done on shore, and it was feared the losses to coast shipping will prove even heavier.

Atlantic Swept by Gale.
New York, Oct. 21.—A 60 mile gale struck along the Atlantic coast last night and today. Several ships were reported in distress and it was feared there would be wrecks of many small craft. The crew of the schooner Marjorie was brought in by a north German Lloyd boat, which picked them up as their vessel was sinking 200 miles off shore.

Minneapolis Cars Blocked.
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 21.—One of the earliest really bad blizzards this season has known in years put the street car service seriously out of joint here early today. The temperature was below freezing, and the wind approached 60 miles an hour. Trains were considerably delayed.

SAGE TEA PUTS LIFE AND COLOR IN HAIR
Don't stay gray! Sage Tea and Sulphur dardens hair so naturally that nobody can tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. "Millions of bottles of this hair restorer have been sold annually," says a well known druggist here, "because it dardens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied."

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

Retired Georgia Planter's Advice to Kidney Sufferers
Regarding the wonderful curative merits of your Swamp-Root, I cannot say too much. After suffering severely for three years or more, with severe pains caused by weak kidneys, I was finally induced to try Swamp-Root through a testimonial I read in one of the newspapers. I was in such a condition that I was obliged to arise from my bed six or eight times every night. I purchased a fifty cent bottle before I had used it and I felt so much relief that I purchased a one dollar bottle and by the time this was taken the old pains had left my back and I could sleep the whole night through. I am a retired planter, 70 years of age, and owing to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I am in the best of health and feel like a boy. I am always glad to recommend Swamp-Root to those who are in need of it.

Sincerely yours,

You may not notice that a cough persists in clinging to you late winter days, you neglect trying to stop this supposed trivial trouble the throat and lungs later become affected. In many cases Eckman's Alternative has been the means of bringing permanent relief. Investigate this case.

Saratoga, N. Y.
"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Lung Trouble by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Croton and other medicines, but without benefit. At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. R. H. McCarty, he advised the use of Eckman's Alternative, which I took with excellent results. I have gained in weight, I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold since. I have had these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alternative."
