

M'CREIDIE'S CRIPPLES HOP ONTO HARRY WOLVERTON'S STAR FLINGER

SENATORS BAFFLED BY SOUTHPAW STANLEY IN FIRST BEAVER VICTORY

Johnny Williams Saved From Defeat Again by Indulgent Manager.

(Special to The Journal.) Sacramento, Oct. 23.—Lefty Louis Stanley has at last won a game in the Coast league. Heretofore the North-western league recruit has either been knocked out of the box in his two starts, or else he has been used to fill in. It is with great gratification, therefore, that we announce Lefty Louis has won a game. And while we are passing the bouquets to Stanley, here are a few compliments for Honolulu Johnny Williams. Williams, drafted by Detroit, will be leading pitcher of the league when it closes, but why? Simply because Manager Wolverton refuses to let him finish a game the moment that the enemy begins to crack out a few hits.

Mighty few games has "Lulu John" finished up in the last three months as the starting pitcher. If it were not for Wolverton's solicitude he would be down among the halfway twirlers. Of course, when the Solons start off with an overwhelming lead, Johnny is allowed to stick. It will make good with Detroit, Bill James ought to be a sensation in the American league.

Sacramento started off in the lead with one run in the second session when Moran walked and stole, going to third on Hallinan's out and scoring on Tennant's single.

Knell for Hawaii. Portland not only tied it up in the third inning, but chased Williams out of the box. Stanley started with a single and Derrick was sent on Stark's error. Rodgers forced Stanley on a grounder to Hallinan and then Davis singled, scoring Derrick. Wolverton very graciously allowed Williams to seek seclusion on the bench. Munsell, who took up mound duty, fanned Speas and Bliss threw Rodgers out on an attempted steal.

MAMMOTH PITCHER OF NEW YORK GIANTS WINS BRIDE

"Big Jeff" Tesreau and his bride. Following the example of two of his teammates, Tesreau, the hottest member of the twirling staff on the New York Giants, has taken unto himself a wife. She was Miss Helena Elizabeth Blake, a pretty stenographer. George Burns, the speedy young left fielder of the Giants, was best man, and Miss Julia Blake, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. There are rumors regarding the last named couple, but no confirmations, nothing but confused answers and blushes, from both parties. There will be three pairs of newlyweds to make a honeymoon trip out of the Giants' world tour. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Larry Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Tesreau, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thorpe.

OVER THREE THOUSAND SEE FOOTBALL BATTLE

Three thousand, one hundred and twenty-two persons witnessed the Lincoln-Washington game yesterday afternoon, which is the largest crowd that has ever seen a football game between two scholastic teams. This number included 111 free admissions. The gate receipts were $364. The attendance yesterday was bettered but one time and that was in 1910 when the Washington high school eleven played the Oak Park high school of Chicago.

Besides giving Lincoln the upper hand in the fight for the interscholastic championship for the 1913 season, yesterday's victory put the Cardinal team

AGED "CRISS CROSS" AND YOUNG FORWARD PASS BEAT EARL MEN

Borleske Makes No Changes Throughout Game and Men Score One Touchdown.

In a thrilling and exciting game, but by no means the best played of the interscholastic league, the Lincoln high school players triumphed over Coach Earl's Washington high school eleven yesterday afternoon by one touchdown and a goal kick. The battle was one that kept the supporters of each team on the anxious seat until the final whistle was blown.

One trick play and a beautiful forward pass spelled defeat for the Washington team. The scores were made in the third period, a few minutes after the kick off. Washington kicked off to Lincoln and Newman made a return of 20 yards. Lincoln suffered a 5 yard penalty and Knouff on the next down gained five more. Washington was penalized 15 yards for holding. Johnson gained 13 yards on the penalty on a criss tackle play and then Knouff made a poor punt of 15 yards. An offside play gave Lincoln first down. Rusty Groce went through the line for three yards and then the trick play was tried.

Caught Morrow Guessing. It was successful because Right End Morrow of the Washington team tried to cover too much ground. The play was old style criss-cross. Hanson, Lincoln's right end, going around the left end of Lincoln's line after receiving the ball from E. Groce, Morrow, instead of playing his own end, went around to back up the Washington line and as a result Hanson made a beautiful 35 yard run. He was partly downed by Ball and later tackled by Edris.

Earl's Men Start Gaining. Mulkey and Hanson gained 15 yards on a forward pass, but Hanson lost the same ground on a criss-cross play on the next down. Mulkey then stepped. After an exchange of punts, Washington started to go through Lincoln's line like water through a pipe, but a hole was called as Tegar, made 21 yards, because of Washington players was holding. This ended the half.

The third period opened and Lincoln served several plays made its touchdown. On the kick off after Mulkey had punted, Washington worked the ball to Lincoln's 30 yard line, but lost it when Wilson of Washington fumbled. Mulkey's longest punt of the day put Lincoln on one of its own 40 yard line. Washington then started a march toward Lincoln's goal but the quarter ended with the ball on the 24 yard line. Knouff tried a place kick but failed at the beginning of the fourth period. Lincoln punted out and recovered the ball when Washington fumbled on the 49 yard line. Washington regained possession of the ball when Knouff intercepted a forward pass. They lost the ball on downs, but soon regained it when Ball intercepted another pass and made a 20 yard run.

Ball Near Lincoln Goal. This brought the ball in the shadow of Lincoln's goal, but Washington could not score. Another thrilling run of 35 yards was made by Mulkey after he intercepted a pass, but he was downed 23 yards from the goal line.

The Cardinals won the game, because of the kick off. Mulkey, who generated Washington's pivot players, Mulkey appeared nervous at the start of the game, but he did not lose his head. He deserves great credit for the way he handled the team.

Time after time in the first quarter, Laughton, playing the quarterback position for Washington, called on the backs to hit the line, but they failed to gain any yards on 11 successive plunges. When Ball replaced Laughton, the east side team gained many yards, the new quarterback using a variety of plays.

Fumbles in the first half marred the game. Many times, Washington's players would fumble when the team was playing consistently. Washington lacked experience, but Coach Earl was well satisfied, considering the fact that the team was weak in the most vital part of the line-up, the quarterback position.

Former Multnomah Wonder Gets Blow Under Chin; McCarthy Is an Easy Winner.

(Special to The Journal.) San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Ernie Heino of the Olympic club of San Francisco is hailed as a hero here today as a result of his sensational defeat last night of Edgar Frank of the Multnomah club of Portland in the Postola wrestling matches.

Victory came to Heino after one of the greatest mat bouts ever seen in an amateur journey in San Francisco. Heino's shoulders were but a fraction of an inch from the mat many times, but he always managed to wriggle out of danger. Finally, Heino shot one of his arms upward, and catching Frank full under the chin, sent him sprawling backwards, his shoulders hitting the mat simultaneously.

George McCarthy of the Multnomah Athletic club won the match in the 155-pound class. Athletes from the university of California also won. The results of the tournament follow: 125-pound class, final: Heino, Olympic club, defeated Edgar Frank, Multnomah, in 13 minutes and 30 seconds.

145-pound class, final: Morrison U. C., defeated Parker, O. C., by getting a 15-minute decision. 155-pound class, final: McCarthy, M. A. C., defeated Mackay, U. C., in 4 minutes and 4 seconds.
