

DIAS DEFIES DICTATOR AND REFUSES TO QUIT SOIL OF NATIVE LAND

Guard Placed Over Him—He Will Be Arrested if He Tries to Leave Brother's House.

(United Press Lined Wire.) Vera Cruz, Mexico, Oct. 23.—Sentinels were placed today over the home of Felix Diaz, brother-in-law of the late Diaz, since his arrival here, and he was warned that if he tried to leave he would be locked in a cell immediately. The situation could not have been more threatening. If Diaz persists in defying Huerta it is believed another revolution would result. The former's strongest friends were urging him to obey Huerta. They were prepared to fight if Huerta attempted violence against him, but they feared Huerta might act so suddenly that fighting would not save his life. It was in his capacity as president and commander-in-chief of the army that Huerta ordered Diaz, as a general, to board the gunboat Zaragoza to go to Havana. His arrest followed. In the event of Diaz's continued refusal to go, it was feared Huerta would have him arrested and shot for disobedience. Departure from Mexico, however, meant Diaz's definite elimination from the presidential contest. Diaz announced on his arrival that he refused to be eliminated, so he stayed at his home in the home of his brother-in-law, Attorney Alcala. The members of the party which arrived with him from Havana yesterday were all under arrest, awaiting court martial at the barracks. There were 12 of them, including three army officers. These three were charged with disobeying Huerta's order to remain in Havana. Diaz did himself. The civilians were held for various alleged offenses. There was not much pretense of making out genuine cases against them. They were arrested simply as friends of Diaz. Huerta's nominal reason for ordering Diaz to Havana was to accompany Mexican Minister De la Barra to his post in Paris, as a member of his staff. Diaz pretended excuse for not going was that he lacked funds for the trip. Diaz was permitted to leave the Corcovado yesterday, it leaked out in connection with today's developments, not through any good will on the part of Huerta's part but because officers from the German cruiser Hertha insisted on it. He had been so effectively tied by official red tape that he undoubtedly would have been kept on board the steamship until after election in the territory's committee had not sent a representative on board to demand that, as a passenger on a German boat, he receive fair treatment until he left it.

PHILIPPINE SCOUTS ARE TRAPPED BY NATIVES

ALCALA, WHITE SLAVER, BEGINS LONG SENTENCE

John Alcala, Spanish white slaver, convicted last week in federal court of bringing a girl to this country from Spain for immoral purposes, was this morning taken to McNeil's Island penitentiary, in Puget sound, near Tacoma, to begin his sentence of 10 years. Deputy United States Marshal D. E. Fuller was in charge of the prisoner, with William Harmon as guard. Alcala's sentence is the biggest ever imposed in the local federal court for the violation of the immigration statutes. It is the maximum. After Alcala finishes his sentence he will be deported, a warrant for that purpose now being in the hands of the immigration officials. Alcala was brought to the office of United States Marshal John Monte yesterday afternoon, and there he had a chat for an hour and a half with his girl wife, who was the government's principal witness against him. An interpreter was present to see that no threats were made by the prisoner against his wife or any of the federal officials. But there was but little need of that. Alcala, between upbraiding his wife for testifying against him and protesting against the laws that had put him in the position he now occupies, expressed his undying love for the girl, and planned with her for the future. The girl was unaffected to the point of indifference, but Alcala, like in all his previous appearances, wept copiously.

DUST INJURIOUS TO HEALTH, SAY WOMEN

The escape of grain dust from a blower on the M. H. Houser dock, at the foot of Hancock street, was declared injurious to health yesterday in the municipal court by a dozen witnesses living near the dock, who testified of conditions. Women from the neighborhood told the court the dust penetrated their homes to such an extent that carpets, hangings and pictures are ruined. Houser explained that he had installed a dust consumer, that collected 97 per cent of the dust. He agreed to make further efforts to collect the remaining 3 per cent. Mrs. Helen A. Young, of 414 Larrabee street, signed the complaint against the grain merchant. Attorney Fred Olson represented her and the other complaining neighbors. Both sides agreed to report to the court October 31 relative to the abatement of the nuisance.

RAILROAD ANXIOUS TO HELP FARMERS

O.-W. R. & N. Co. Plans Extensive Campaign of Education.

With the development of reclamation projects in eastern Oregon, the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company is planning a campaign to educate the waterusers in the actual application of moisture to the land, according to announcement of J. D. Farrell, president of the company, this morning. "Most of the water available for irrigation in this state is cold," said Mr. Farrell. "An undue quantity put on the soil at once tends to chill the growing plants, as well as to wash up the alkaline matter and injure the productivity of the soil. "We have in mind the sending of an experienced irrigation man from farm to farm and giving actual working instructions on the best way to utilize the water. How not to irrigate is as essential as how to irrigate and when not to turn on the water as when to turn it on. Mr. Farrell said the company has another project also in the making—to establish a model dry farming establishment, with an expert in charge. This would be located somewhere on the highlands in central Oregon, where experiments with different crops under different treatments will be made and the results made known to the farmers of the region. This would be supplementary to the Oregon Agricultural college's extension work. Plans for putting both these propositions in active operation are now being made by Mr. Farrell and C. L. Smith, agriculturist of the railroad.

FIELDS' DEFENSE WILL BE THAT HE TOOK ALL POSSIBLE PRECAUTION

Former County Clerk on Trial Because Bank in Which He Deposited Funds Failed.

The trial of Frank S. Fields, former clerk of Multnomah county, on an indictment returned last March charging him with larceny by the embezzlement of $18,056.36, began today in Judge Kavanaugh's department of the circuit court. When the court took recess at noon two prospective jurors, John Hisea, a dairyman, and C. S. Hamnum, a contractor, had been passed. Mr. Fields was clerk of Multnomah county from 1903 to 1913. In turning over his office last January to his successor, John B. Coffey, it was found that the county's funds were short the amount given in the indictment. It was claimed that this sum was on deposit with the American Bank & Trust company which failed last year and was lost by reason of the failure. The indictment is based on the statute which makes county clerks criminally responsible in case of failure to render full account of moneys. In his defense, Mr. Fields claims that he used all due care in depositing the money and therefore is not liable. The defense will be conducted on technical grounds on this basis. In the examination of jurors both the state and the defense endeavor to ascertain the prospective juror's opinion as to whether a county official should exercise greater caution in caring for public money than he would for personal money. The state is being represented by District Attorney Evans and the defense by John F. Logan and J. J. Fitzgerald.

AWARDED $6211 FOR THE LOSS OF A LEG

Suit Was Brought Despite $1000 Settlement Which Had Been Made.

Melzar English, a solicitor 43 years old and married, was awarded a verdict for $6211.55 against the Portland Railway, Light & Power company by a jury in Circuit Judge Kavanaugh's court this morning for the loss of a leg. The accident occurred at Lents February 28. In the verdict the jury also provided that $1000 which had been paid him in settlement and $58.56 interest on this amount since the date of the settlement should be deducted from the award, leaving $5172.99 to be paid by the company. The suit was brought despite the settlement of $1000 which was made immediately after the accident. It was alleged by English that the settlement was made within 24 hours after the accident while he was under the influence of the opiates and was therefore not binding. The testimony showed that the $1000 was paid him in gold coin and that after accepting the money he kept it under his pillow and refused to allow his wife or anyone to remove the sack in which it was contained.

SECOND HAND DEALERS COMPLAINED AGAINST

Accused of Buying Stolen Goods and Failing to Report to Police.

Three complaints were filed in the municipal court this morning against second-hand dealers for violating the ordinance. One is against H. Cohen, 373 Front street, while two are against John Rosumny, 262 Front street. In each case, the accused had stolen goods, and failed to turn in an account to the police, it is said. Cohen is accused of buying two pieces of leather that had been stolen from the Western Leather & Findings company, 270 Front street. This concern is in the hands of a receiver, George Spence is under arrest for taking five trunks and two pieces of leather from the bankrupt stock. He admits selling the leather to Cohen, who failed to make a report. Rosumny purchased several old coins from James Madonna and Lloyd Carpenter, two 14-year-old boys. They admit taking the coins from the home of Hulda Linquist, 511 Forty-sixth street. The ordinance forbids second-hand dealers purchasing goods from minors. No report of this purchase was made to the police.

NEW ARMORY MAY GO ON EAST SIDE TRACT

O. N. G. Committee Puts the Proposition Before County Officials.

Adjutant-General Finer and members of a committee from the Oregon National Guard this morning appeared before the county commissioners, asking that about six acres of ground, embraced in the four blocks and a fraction bounded by East Sixteenth, East Eighteenth and Oregon streets and the O.-W. R. & N. right of way through Sullivan's gulch, be purchased for armory purposes. Representatives of the Anglo-Pacific Realty company, which recently purchased the holdings of Charles X. Larrabee, made a tentative offer of the land for $100,000. The committee made two requests of the commissioners. The first was to permanently repair the present armory and modernize it, at a cost of approximately $91,000, and the second was to repair it and purchase this land, on which to build a new armory in the future. It was pointed out that armories on each side of the river would prove beneficial, and that the land desired would soon become too expensive to warrant its purchase. The county commissioners asked that a written proposition be submitted giving estimates of proposed expenditures. When such a proposition is submitted, action will be taken. The committee said that the land suggested is very suitable as it would be possible from that point to embark troops on trains directly from the armory, as sidetracks could be provided in the gulch below the site proposed. Should any action be taken, it is proposed to embody the improvements in the next tax levy to be determined within a short time. By having two blocks of Pacific street, two blocks of Holladay avenue, and two blocks of East Seventeenth street vacated, the proposed location, it is argued, would give a splendid site for the building and a good parade ground.

IMMENSE QUANTITIES OF HOPS ARE SHIPPED

"My road is just as wide as any in the country, even if it is as long as some," explained H. Hirschberg of Independence, builder and owner of the Independence & Monmouth railroad, today. Mr. Hirschberg is in Portland conferring over shipments of hops out of Independence, where his line connects with the Southern Pacific. Mr. Hirschberg said that 15 carloads of hops, the product of a single yard, were moved out of Independence in one train this week. The whole shipment is destined for Europe, he said, the yard being controlled by an English syndicate. Many growers are still holding their hops at 25 cents, waiting for a possible rise, he said. In spite of this, however, the movement is strong and constant.
