

BUDGET COMMITTEES PUTTING RIGHT, LEFT TO REDUCE THE TAXES

Commissioner Dieck's Department of Public Works Feels the Knife.

Despite the work of the budget committee, which has eliminated many items in an attempt to eliminate as many as possible from the budget, the estimate for the city health department for 1914 has jumped from $25,000 of last year to approximately $45,000.

The increase is due to several new positions, the equipment of the new emergency hospital, new equipment for the laboratories and elsewhere.

Everything that looked like an increase in working force received a right and left from the budget committee.

Commissioner Bigelow stated that probably everything asked for was worthy, but as the people expected to have their taxes lowered last year, the new positions would have to go for this year and be given consideration at some future time.

Learning that the budget committee had riddled his budget estimate, Dieck set about this morning to get some figures regarding the license revenue of the city.

DIRECTOR WILL GIVE FAREWELL ADDRESS

As tomorrow is the last Sunday that R. R. Perkins will be with the Portland Young Men's Christian Association as religious work director, the services of the day will be largely in the nature of a farewell to him.

Mr. Perkins will deliver the principal address at the meeting, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

His subject will be "The Fight of Fighting Men." Frank B. Killey will also appear on the program at the request of the Columbia river bridge committee.

With a brief explanation of that project, there will be special music, including selections by the newly organized Y. M. C. A. Glee club and a solo by G. H. Sorenson.

The discussion clubs, which meet immediately after the main gathering, have a particularly interesting topic, "The High Cost of Living." These classes, as well as the main meeting and the fellowship supper which follows, are open to all men.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY FINDS INDICTMENTS; SEVEN BILLS SECRET

Counterfeiting Charge Among Accusations; One Not True Bill in Batch.

As a result of a steady grind of eleven days, in which time more than a score of cases were heard, the United States grand jury this morning returned 18 indictments. Seven of these bills were secret, one was adjudged to be a not true bill, and the rest were placed in the general file, as all of the arrests have been made.

Four men arrested by United States Secret Service Office W. A. Glover since he took charge of the force and office were indicted, Ralph Fouts and L. F. Morris, partners in a counterfeiting game near Corvallis, who have confessed, received the official accusation.

Frank Morgan and James Bliss, arrested at Oregon City on suspicion that they had broken into the post office at Willamette, were indicted.

W. S. Armstrong, Ham Kantman and E. C. Ashmun, proprietors and editors of the Columbia Herald, at Holton, Columbia county, were indicted for sending obscene and indecent matter in the mails.

Calvin J. Eddy, of Wasco county, is accused of forging vouchers to an application for a civil service position in the United States Engineering department. He is accused not only of forgery, but of false affidavits.

J. J. Marvin and George Isham, arrested by Secret Service Agent W. A. Glover, are charged with impersonating a United States secret service officer. Marvin was taken on Saucy Island and his case has proved to be a mysterious one.

Sam Schobell and Charley Frank, Indian boys, are indicted for taking raw alcohol on the Siuslaw school grounds and the school farm of the Warm Springs reservation.

Solomon Davis, a negro, is charged with transporting Goldie Miles from Seattle to Portland in violation of the Mann white slavery act. The woman is also charged with carrying Miles on the charge. Davis is under arrest.

Pierce Truesdale is freed of the charge of selling whiskey to an Indian at the Klamath reserve.

PART OF LAW ON LIENS IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

No Day in Court Given Owner, Rules District Judge Dayton.

District Judge Dayton this morning held unconstitutional a part of the law of 1908 which relates to filing of liens, and the seizure and sale of property for repairs by blacksmiths, wagon makers, automobile repairers and machinists.

No day in court is given the owner of the property by the law and notice to him beyond the posted notice is made unnecessary. Judge Dayton said that this feature gave the owner of the property no opportunity to contest the validity of the claim for services on account of which the lien was secured.

The decision came in the replevin suit E. B. Alvord against Constable Weinberger to recover an automobile. C. C. Daniels had the machine seized on a lien for $61.65 for repairs done.

PUPPIES PLEASE GO TO HAZING AND GET OFF WITH A WARNING

Judge Gatens Allows the Six Hill Military Academy Boys Off Easy.

Arraigned before Judge Gatens in the juvenile court this morning, the six boys of the Hill Military academy, charged with hazing a fellow student, Clair Sutor, of Chilliwack, B. C., pleaded guilty to the charge and after an admonitory lecture by the court, were dismissed with a warning.

The defense tried to make a technicality out of the fact that the car used on young Sutor was in reality an asphaltum roofing compound. Judge Gatens refused to allow any bickering, however.

The Sutor boy recounted the story of his hazing, adding that the application of the various malicious materials to his body and of the difficulty experienced in having it removed, including a four hour session in a local Turkish bath.

Boys Admit Charge. The accused frankly admitted the charge, and assigned as their reason for the stiffness of the dogs that young Sutor acted as if he owned the academy, which was entirely out of place for a newcomer to the institution.

In counseling the six boys Judge Gatens remarked that hazing had gone out of date, that it was not practiced in the larger schools nowadays, and so it was time to discontinue the practice in the Hill academy.

No Rest No Peace

There's no rest and but little peace for a person whose kidneys are out of order.

Lame in the back and sharp stabs of pain with every sudden strain, the day is just one round of pain and trouble.

It would be strange if all-day back-ache did not wear on the temper, but it is not only on that account that people who suffer with weak kidneys are nervous, cross and irritable.

Rheumatic pain, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, neuritis and gravel are further steps in uric acid poisoning.

Don't neglect kidney weakness. An aching back, with unnatural passages of the kidney secretions, is cause enough to suspect the kidneys. Use Doan's

Every Picture Tells A Story

Read Portland testimony.

Mrs. A. E. Fulton, 970 Glenn ave., N. Portland, Oregon, says: "My limbs swelled something terrible from dropsy and there were large, puffy spots under my eyes. The kidneys were in an unhealthy condition. I doctored and tried several remedies, but didn't seem to find relief. At last a friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. After using the first box, the bloating began to disappear. By the time I had finished two boxes, there was no sign of it at all. After taking another box, I was entirely cured. Since then, I have had no trouble."

"Oh, I shall go mad."
