FUMBLES AND PENALTIES MAR RUGGED SCRIMMAGE

Quarterback Rodes Runs the Local Team With Superb Generalship.

By H. A. Cronin.
Holding till the cows come home, fumbling like neophyte fishermen, with ever and anon a slug-slug like a "white hop" on parade, but without providing a mighty interesting exhibition of brawn against agility, the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club and the Washington State college struggled through four 15 minute periods on the club field yesterday afternoon, the older and more experienced players finally putting over a touchdown and kicking a goal.

Even then it was not free from an argument, because Coach Bender of the States volubly protested against a decision by Referee Fawcett that gave the heavy clubmen the touchdown for the official blow the whistle just as Halfback MacRae fumbled the ball, only to recover it again as he crossed the line in a dense tangle of arms and legs. The ruling was correct, for the ball was in motion when the blast sounded and the club's 7 to 0 victory a well earned one.

They are Hard Fighters.
Coach Bender brought from Pullman a well balanced, hard fighting team and worthy the steel of any club in the northwest. Time and again they gained through the heavy line of the clubmen by punting plays, and it was well into the second half before Captain Keck and his mates had solved the attack of the inlanders. Early in the game, the three boys came in, and the clubmen devised a system by which the coach could successfully skirt the wings.

Early in the first period and for a spell in the second, Bender's proteges sprung a line play that proved successful in gaining a number of first downs and revealed the fact that Fullback Foster of the States is one of the most ferocious line plungers since the days of Henry Mottney. The halfbacks would swing to the right or left, drawing the defense in the direction of the expected attack, and Quarterback Gaudin, crouching low behind Big George Harter, would shoot the ball into Foster's stomach as he was plunging straight through guard. It was a smart ground game.

In the second and third quarters, however, the club center trio refused to be hoodwinked and Foster and his mate, Coulter, who sometimes alternated on the line assault, were able to make only what their natural ability as ground gainers netted them. While the Washington line came off in the lead in the first half, the Multnomah forwards evened up the score in that particular respect in the second. Instead of trying, as was expected, the clubmen displayed the ginger of a lot of freshmen.

Washington's forward passing was superior to that of the club as the kicking of Keck overreached that of Coulter. On their take punts the inland team was weak. Multnomah contented itself for the most part with straight football. When they were stumped for yardage Keck's strong hoof was called into play. But Keck failed in his two attempts at place kicking, while Durham booted wide of the goal posts on his one attempt at drop kicking.

Fumbling is Frequent.
While poorly played from the standpoint of accurate football, the game nevertheless was a most interesting one to watch. Fumbling predominated. On one occasion Multnomah lost the ball on a fumble on the first play of the day an ideal one for football. Probably eagerness to gain ground or return

ILLINOIS STEPS INTO CONTENDER CLASS BY WINNING YESTERDAY

Indiana Goes Down to Defeat Before Pogue's Fine Work and Good Team Work.

Indianapolis, Oct. 25.—Illinois stepped into the ranks of contenders of the western college conference football championship by defeating Indiana this afternoon 10 to 6. Brilliant work by Quarterback Pogue, together with the superior playing of the entire Illinois eleven, especially the back field, was responsible for Indiana's defeat, although injuries to three Hoosier varsity men kept them out of the game.

Except for the reliance on straight football and the failure of occasional efforts at the open game, the first quarter was featureless. In the next quarter Indiana twice held Illinois on downs within 48 inches of a touchdown. Refreshed by the rest between halves, Indiana came back in the third quarter and on line plunges and two successful trick formations, all by Echert, the Hoosiers planted the ball on the Illinois fourteen yard line. This was followed as Indiana came to scoring during the game. The ball was lost here by Indiana on an attempted forward pass on the last down.

Pogue then started a series of sensational runs to a touchdown. On a fake formation, he went down the field for forty yards, being downed from behind by Fleming. After two unsuccessful attacks on the line, Pogue took the ball around left end for twenty yards and on the next play around right end for a touchdown. Rowe kicked goal.

No Action Taken for Dissolution of Club.
No action was taken in the special meeting of the Portland Motor Boat club trustees last week to consider the dissolution of the club. Only four members of the trustees board, Commodore Boost, Gus Fleming, secretary, George Kendall and George Kinnear, were present.

WOLVES RETAIN HOLD ON SECOND PLACE BY WALLOPING STANLEY

Only Beaver Pitcher Who Has Won This Week Welcomed With Avalanche of Hits.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 25.—Bill Rodgers sent recruit Stanley, the only pitcher to win a game from the Wolves this week, to the hill again. Sacramento greeted him with an avalanche of hits in the first two innings that sewed up the game.

Incidentally it enabled the Wolves to retain their hold on second place, and being their fourth win of the week, it gave the Wolves their first series of the year from Portland. This is the second time since the teams have been in the league that Sacramento has won a series from Portland.

Langford Topheavy Favorite.
Taft, Cal., Oct. 25.—Sam Langford expects to defeat Jack Lester here Monday afternoon in spite of a bulging waist line that indicates about 35 pounds excess weight. Lester is in fine shape. The men are scheduled to battle 20 rounds, with George Blake of Los Angeles as referee. Langford is a topheavy favorite in the betting.

TIGERS' CLAWS UNABLE TO HOLD SOGGY BALL IN DARTMOUTH GAME

Football Contest Was Turned Into Aquatic Affair and Visitors Paddle to Victory.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 25.—There were presented in this soggy little city this afternoon two notable aquatic events. One was a boat race between Princeton and Yale, and the other was the annual football game between Princeton and Dartmouth, which also took place on water. It was won by Dartmouth, a most uncommon proceeding for Dartmouth and rather meritorious, judging from the wild and judgment strikes of the Dartmouth students at this time, for Dartmouth is not generally regarded as an amphibious institution.

The final score, and we are speaking of the football game, was 6 to 0. This is intended to deal mainly with the strange struggle staged on the Princeton gridiron when a large coterie of strong young men sloshed around in puddles of mud and water like infant buffalo in a favorite wallow, until certain issues on which they had differed had been settled.

Dartmouth Gets First Victory.
Reader, if you have never seen a football game on a sea of mud, you have something left to see. A rain that began driving across the Jersey town was a steady drizzle when the game began at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and it continued throughout the first half of the game, which saw the triumph of Dartmouth over Princeton for the first time in some years.

Speaking briefly of the football game we shall begin with that part in the third period when young Mr. Beers of Hanover, N. H., blocked a kick propelled from the muddy toe of Giles of Princeton.

A. M. CRONIN WINS FIRST PAPER CHASE OF SEASON

Conquered and the Unconquered Guests

A. M. Cronin, riding Tamarack, won the Portland Hunt club paper chase, the first of the season, yesterday afternoon from a field of 30 entries. Walter Grunetter was second on Lady Myrtle, and James Bolman, on Call Bond, was third.

The chase was started near the clubhouse, with Mrs. William L. Wood and Miss Helen Wood as the lasses. The course extended over a new country for a distance of seven miles, with 12 or 15 jumps. The finish was near Tigrard. A number of ladies rode in the chase.

A large gallery saw the start of the event. No accidents occurred during the day.

Fullback Minds, of the Penn eleven, is very clever at forward passing, throwing as he would a baseball and very accurately for distances varying from 20 to 40 yards.

CONQUERED AND THE UNCONQUERED GUESTS

The unconquered and conquered were guests of Captain H. F. Todd at a banquet last week. During last August, Captain Todd, owner of the sloop Grayling challenged T. J. Mendenhall to a seven mile race, the loser to pay for a banquet for both crews.

Mendenhall, who is the owner of the Virginia, accepted the challenge and defeated the Grayling after an exciting race. Captain Todd then arranged the banquet.

Commodore J. M. Yates of the Oregon Yacht club was an honor guest and presided at the table. Plans for the 1914 season were fully discussed by those present.

Around the tables, which were decorated with flags and pennants, were H. Todd, F. B. Newton, A. W. Stanchfield, F. O. Crensey, R. B. Bain Jr., crew of the Grayling, and T. J. Mendenhall, C. H. Hastorff, A. S. Hollis, James Troy, A. T. Brown and A. C. Coonrad, crew of the Virginia.

MUCH FEARED IDAHO MACHINE CRUMBLES AT OREGON'S ATTACK

State University Players Get Three Touchdowns; Fenton Kicks Field Goals.

FAIR WORK SAYS HUGO WHEN PUPILS WIN GAME

Fenton, Malarkey, Bradshaw Play Brilliantly Against Gem Staters.

(Special to The Journal)
University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., Oct. 25.—The University of Oregon football team defeated the 11 from the University of Idaho on Kinoshid field this afternoon by Fenton's foot work and three touchdowns, 27 to 8. Trying three times from placement, Fenton was successful with two. He kicked three goals and scored one touchdown.

The game was featured by clean playing by both teams. Oregon was penalized but four times, twice for off-side plays, once for hurdling and once for holding. Idaho was not penalized.

Lockhart played a brilliant game for Idaho, and Brown and Phillips showed up well. For Oregon Fenton was the star. Besides playing a good defensive game and punting and place kicking, he figured in several sensational forward passes, one going for 30 yards and a touchdown.

Malarkey was overshadowed only by his larger team mate. Time and again he slipped the Idaho line for fifteen yards and his tackling brought the stands to their feet. Cornell ran the team in good style.

Fenton in First Quarter.
The first quarter was largely a punting duel between Phillips of Idaho and Fenton of Oregon. On several exchanges near the first of the quarter, Phillips had a shade the best of it. After several exchanges of punts Idaho made yardage by tackle and guard plays. Lockhart carrying the ball.

Idaho fumbled on her own thirty yard line. Oregon getting ball, Malarkey made eight yards through guard, four after being thrown. Bryant and Bradshaw advanced the ball ten yards on the next two downs. The quarter ended with the ball on Idaho's 12 yard line.
