of lace and spangles. Among those who made up box parties were: Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Burns, Dr. and Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koehler, Miss Clara Weidner Jennings Sutor, Mrs. Donald Green, Mrs. Ross Bloch Bauer, Mrs. C. E. E. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cole, Mrs. Rose Courson Reed and Miss Madeline Stone.

Mrs. Otis B. Wright was hostess at a formal reception Thursday afternoon when several hundred of the maids and matrons of the smart set called to greet her. Chrysanthemums and autumn leaves formed the attractive decorations throughout the rooms. Presiding in the dining room were Mrs. A. E. Rocky, Mrs. Richard Nunn, Mrs. J. H. Young and Mrs. David A. Shindler. Mrs. Alma D. Katz and Mrs. Frank Branch Riley served punch and others who assisted about the rooms were Mrs. C. Edward Grelle, Mrs. Herbert S. Nichols and Mrs. R. L. Donald.

An event of much interest will be the wedding of Miss Romaine Wood to Henry Wessinger, which has been set for November 5. Mr. Wessinger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wessinger, and is one of the popular men of the younger set. Miss Wood is of Aberdeen, Wash., where the wedding will take place. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alanson D. Wood, and a sister of Mrs. Fred Green of this city.

Invitations have been received for a large reception to be held at the Multnomah hotel Friday evening, October 31, by the Japanese consul and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ida, in celebration of the birthday of his imperial majesty, the emperor of Japan. This will be an event of much interest and elaborate arrangements have been made for the occasion. A number of prominent society matrons will assist in receiving. About 600 invitations have been issued.

Among the matrons who will assist Mr. and Mrs. Ida are Mrs. Henry L. Corbett, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Robert W. Lewis, Mrs. K. A. J. Mackenzie, and Mrs. O. M. Clark.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Matson will leave November 17 for San Francisco from where they plan to sail November 1 for a year's travel around the world. They will first visit Honolulu, then the Philippines, India, China, India, the Holy Land, and then Europe, where Dr. Matson will pass some time in Vienna. They plan to be gone a little over a year.

Monday afternoon Mrs. I. D. Peters presided at an informal tea at Alexander's restaurant for the benefit of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Peters, who with Mr. Peters, left Thursday evening for Oakland, Cal., where they will make their home. About 60 guests called to bid Mrs. Peters adieu. Clusters of yellow chrysanthemums and Oregon grapes formed the attractive decoration of rooms and on the tea table. Mrs. George Peters and Mrs. Frank Ransom presided and Mrs. James A. Ellis and Mrs. Ray Matson assisted the hostesses in receiving.

An event of much interest in the young set yesterday evening was the dancing party given by Miss Diana Erskine, daughter of the British Consul, and Mrs. Erskine, at her home on Kearney street.

Mrs. Robert Smith has as her house guest Miss Lella Simpson of New York, a charming young woman, who made many friends in Portland when she visited here last year. Miss Simpson arrived last Monday, and will remain until after Christmas. Many delightful affairs will doubtless be given in her honor.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Miss Selma Lu Knapp, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight F. Knapp, and Arthur Alban Murphy, set for the evening of November 5, at the home of the bride's parents, 726 East Burnside street. There will be about 300 guests assembled for the wedding, including relatives and intimate friends and a large reception will follow, to which about 200 guests have been invited.

Miss Knapp is one of the popular and talented members of the younger set and many praiseworthy affairs have been given in her honor. Friday afternoon Mrs. Hazel Reed presided at a delightfully appointed luncheon for 12 intimate friends of the bride to be, and during the past week, on Monday evening, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Applewhite were hosts at a supper for the pleasure of Miss Knapp and Mr. Murphy. Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. William House gave an informal crawfish supper in their honor. Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Charles E. Stolte presided at a charming card party at her beautiful home on Mount Tabor. A miscellaneous show was a surprise of the evening. The house was decorated elaborately with yellow chrysanthemums and ferns.

Mrs. Adelaide Loewenson was married Tuesday evening to Dr. Lawrence Selling, with a beautiful and elaborate ceremony at the Multnomah hotel. Rabbi Jonah B. Wise read the ceremony at 3 o'clock in the ball room of the hotel before a gathering of 100 of the relatives and friends of the families. Elaborate and beautiful in every detail were all the arrangements. Baskets of feathery ferns were hung from the ceiling in both the ball room and banquet hall adjoining. Standards with great clusters of pink chrysanthemums and fern and pampas grass were also used with autumn leaves to decorate. Dancing followed an informal reception, and a wedding supper was served during the evening, with tables arranged in the banquet hall. Pink was the predominating color throughout, with clusters of chrysanthemums on the bride's table. Dancing continued after the supper, during which Dr. and Mrs. Selling slipped away for the wedding trip unobserved by their guests.

The bride was beautifully attired in white crepe meteor trimmed with rare old point lace, which was worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Ida Loewenson. She wore a simple veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms, and carried a handsome shower of lilies of the valley. Her bouquet was made in three parts, which were thrown separately, and Dr. Esther Rosenkrantz caught the part with the ring attached, and the parts with the wishbone and thimble were caught by Miss Frieda Baruh and Miss Dorothy Loewenson. The bridesmaids and maid of honor wore attractive gowns in pink chiffon combined with white lace and made in similar design. Their bouquets were of shaded pink chrysanthemums arranged in pink baskets and tied with satin and tulle ribbon in the same shades.

Mrs. Ben Selling, mother of the groom, wore a handsome gown of black lace trimmed with ermine bands. Mrs. Max Loewenson, mother of the bride, was attired in a beautiful gown of white crepe meteor draped in black chantilly.

The subscription parties of last season which were among the most popular events with the younger set of smart society have reorganized this year as the Friday Night Dancing club. The first party of the series had been planned for October 21, but in courtesy to the Japanese consul and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ida, who will hold a large ball and feast at the Multnomah, in celebration of the birthday of the emperor of Japan, the committee have set their date ahead to Wednesday evening, October 23.

Miss Helen Hall was a charming hostess at luncheon Saturday, followed by military whist, at her home in Irvington, 325 Hancock street. The luncheon was served at the small tables, each backed in a dainty bouquet of pink Killarney buds. About the rooms were clusters of white chrysanthemums and asparagus ferns. Little Misses Cornelia Pevis and Lucille Evans received the guests at the door, and Mrs. Edwin Hill

Menefee, Miss Dorris Smith, Miss Irma Austin, Miss Edith Merriman.

Miss Helen Hall will leave about the first of November for Boston to visit with friends and relatives, where she will be joined after Thanksgiving by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Krause, for a sojourn in Boston and New York, after which they will pass the months of December and January in Cuba, returning home the middle of February.

Wednesday evening Miss Pearl McKenna and James Shanard Johns of Pendleton were married at the home of the bride.

Miss McKenna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McKenna and the wedding took place at their home on Williams street in Pendleton at 7 o'clock, the Rev. Luther B. Dyott officiating. The bride and groom were unattended. Mr. McKenna giving his daughter in marriage. They took their places before an improvised altar arranged with two white columns linked together with a white silk rope and standard baskets with huge clusters of white chrysanthemums stood at either side. The decorations were elaborate throughout the house, quantities of the autumn foliage of vine, maple and dog wood being used in combination with the yellow chrysanthemums. The wedding march was played by Lowell Parton and Miss Harriet Lauch sang "O Perfect Love" and "Because God Gave Me You."

The bride, a dainty and charming little brunette, was attractively gowned in an ivory white satin draped elaborately with chantilly lace, which was caught up with pearl ornaments and clusters of orange blossoms. She wore a handsome old lace veil worn by her mother, and her bouquet was of lavender orchids and lilies of the valley made in a shower effect. Her only ornament was a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom.

reception followed the ceremony, when Mr. and Mrs. McKenna received with the bride and groom. Mrs. McKenna was attired in a gown of amethyst crepe de chine elaborated with lace and she wore a corsage bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses.

Both Miss McKenna and Mr. Johns are graduates of the University of Oregon, and count their friends by the score both in Portland and Pendleton. The home of Mr. Johns, where they will be at home about the middle of November, after a wedding trip to British Columbia.

The dining room was attractive with a profusion of Prima Donna roses, palms and autumn leaves, and was presided over by Mrs. J. B. Yoon, Mrs. Frank McCutley, Mrs. Roscoe Giltner, Mrs. Claude McCulloch, of Baker; Mrs. A. C. Micken, and Mrs. Coe A. McKenna. They were assisted by Miss Edith Woodcock, Miss Ada Kendall, Miss Mary Johns, of Pendleton, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Katherine Standfield. Stationed at the punch bowl were Miss

WITH preparations under way for the elaborate production of "Jappyland," the spectacular operatic extravaganza which some 400 or 500 of Portland's elite men, maids and matrons are to present at the Army Thanksgiving week for the benefit of the Baby Home, there is little prospect of other social affairs of importance during the next five weeks. Rehearsals will be almost continuous, and the whole social world of Portland will be actively interested in one way or another, helping to make the ambitious undertaking the most noted success, both socially and financially, since the splendid Kirmesses of a few seasons ago.

Rehearsals, which are to begin during the coming week, are to be held in the assembly room of the Multnomah hotel, the use of which has been generously tendered by the hotel management, and the dancers are to be trained under professional direction, under the supervision of Edward H. Costes, author of the extravaganza. "Jappyland" has recently been produced in Oakland, Cal., and other cities, whence come reports of its elaborately beautiful effects, tuneful melodies and strikingly brilliant ensemble. The place is decidedly oriental in atmosphere, but ingenious intricacies in the frivolous plot provide for a great variety of interpolated song and dance numbers, richly costumed, so that the whole is really a dazzling panorama of changing scenes and distinctive dances, running all the way from stately powdered wig and ponceau minuets to fiery Spanish love dances, rollicking "Yama Yama" choruses, and cowgirl specialties with jingling spurs and fringed leather skirts.

The list of dancers has not yet been announced, and will probably not be determined definitely until after several rehearsals, but the machinery of the production is already well organized, under the supervision of Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, devoted friend and supporter of the Baby Home, and an advisory board, of which the following are members: Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Mrs. Sigmond Frank, Mrs. Thomas D. Honeyman, Mrs. A. J. Barker and W. D. Wheelwright.

A few of the dance specialties and the chapertons assigned to them have been announced. A partial list of the chapertons for "Jappyland" dancers: "Moonlight Dance," Mrs. D. W. L. MacGregor, Mrs. David Honeyman, Mrs. Gay Lombard, Mrs. C. Hunt Lewis, Mrs. Peter Kerr, Mrs. Robert Lewis; "Yama Yama" Dance, Mrs. Victor Johnson, Mrs. J. Jay Morrow, Mrs. Donald Green, Mrs. George Kirkham Smith, Mrs. Edmund Deveraux, Mrs. Adeline Labbe, "Spanish Love Dance," Mrs. Julius Meier, Mrs. Dan Malarkey, Mrs. George W. Boschke, Mrs. I. N. Lipman, Mrs. Oskar Huber, Mrs. Don Zan, "Western Girl" Dance, Mrs. James Dougherty, Mrs. Morris Whitehouse, Mrs. Thomas Robertson, Miss Hazel Dolph, Mrs. David Lewis and Miss Claire Houghton. The opening performance of "Jappyland" will be given on Thanksgiving night, Thursday, November 27, with repetitions on Friday and Saturday nights, November 28 and 29, and Saturday matinee.

At the University club, a popular rendezvous for luncheon and afternoon tea since the completion of the new club house, two events of especial interest were given, the luncheon Tuesday night, which Mrs. Robert Lewis presided, and last night Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Labbe entertained with an elaborate dinner for the pleasure of Mrs. Labbe's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hyde, of Spokane.

Mrs. Lewis complimented Mrs. Spence-Black, who is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Norman R. Lang. Covers were laid for Mrs. Spence-Black, Mrs. Lang, Mrs. John C. Alasworth, Mrs. Schermerhorn, Miss Sallie Lewis and Mrs. Lewis.

November 12 is the date which Miss Ruby Cleiton has set for her wedding to James Monies Ambrose. Miss Cleiton is one of the most popular and talented of the girls of the younger set and her wedding will be of interest to a wide circle of friends. Owing to the recent bereavement in the family, the wedding will be very quiet only the immediate relatives being asked. They will be married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ernest W. Crighton, on the evening of the 12th and will be unattended.

Thursday afternoon the Catholic Women's league held its annual party for the benefit of its work. A card party was given this year and the fountain grille of the Oregon hotel was charmingly arranged for the occasion. Both bride and five hundred were played. The grille was beautifully decorated with palms and pink chrysanthemums and made a delightful setting for the many beautiful gowns worn. Over 600 ladies were present. The patronesses were Mrs. John Manning, Mrs. J. Clarkson, Mrs. J. D. Sullivan, Mrs. J. C. Costello, Mrs. J. P. O'Brien, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. M. F. Brady, Mrs. M. W. Daly, Mrs. John Maginnis, Mrs. James J. Hogan, Mrs. John Driscoll, Mrs. W. E. Conan, Mrs. B. Gildner, Mrs. Frank Dooley, Mrs. F. W. Jopherwood, Mrs. John H. Kern, Mrs. John Kavanagh, Mrs. P. H. Flynn, Miss Helen Clark, Miss Katherine Gils, Miss Margaret Flaherty, Miss May Healy.

Society en masse gathered at the Hotel last evening for the opening concert of the Portland Musical association. Madame Alda, lyric soprano; Gutta Casini, cellist and Frank La Forge, pianist, were the happy choice of the management for the initial concert, and were greeted with enthusiasm by the large and representative gathering of society and music loving people of the city. Many beautiful costumes were worn in the audience, and Madame Alda's gown was especially lovely, a white charmeuse en train, made with a front panel and train of spangles and a panner effect of the satin with a bodice
