Harriet Leach, Miss Helen Johns, another sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Steiner.

Assisting about the rooms were: Miss Margaret McKenna, sister of the bride, Miss Bertha Masters, Miss Agnes Beach, Miss Gertrude Holmes and Miss Florence Leach.

The wedding of Miss Javina Stanfield and Arthur Means was attended by only one relative and the most intimate friends, including about 50 guests. Dr. Morrison read the ceremony at high noon at Trinity Episcopal church. Hugh Stanfield, the second brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. She was unattended and wore her traveling suit of blue serge, with chic black hat and a corsage bouquet of Sunburst roses.

After services at the church a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Harriet T. Stanfield, 1965 East main street, for the immediate family. Mr. and Mrs. Means left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home at Umatilla, Or., where the bridegroom is engaged in business. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Means of Umatilla.

Mrs. James A. Dowling was hostess Wednesday afternoon at a sewing bee and surprise shower in honor of Miss Saides Knapp whose wedding to Arthur A. Murphy will take place early in November. Autumn leaves and salvia converted the rooms into a wooded bower. Among those present were Mrs. Harvey Lounsbury, Miss Hazel Reed, Mrs. Pearl Watson, Mrs. Dwight F. Knapp, Miss Ruth Murphy, Mrs. J. Strain, Mrs. Arthur P. Kerron, Miss Susanne Varwig, Mrs. William Geller, Mrs. R. L. Gillespie, Mrs. J. A. Applewhite, Mrs. Charles E. Stolte, Mrs. Ralph Hall and Mrs. E. D. Jorgensen.

Tierney, a recent arrival from St. Paul, who has come to make her home here. Military whist will be played and the affair will be given at the home of Mrs. Robert McIntosh on Savier street.

A reception will be given in honor of W. L. Everett Knowles, artist, by Dr. Clement B. Shaw and J. A. Finley, assisted by Mrs. R. Berger, Mrs. G. A. Nichols, Mrs. W. Bradford and Miss Matha Nichols Friday afternoon and evening, October 31, in the Columbia building. A number of musical selections, vocal and instrumental, will be rendered. A special exhibit of two large canvases, recently completed by the artist, "The Light of the World," and "Young America on the Path to Glory," also some "Sunshine and Shadow" landscapes will be on view.

The Masonic Temple was the scene of a charmingly appointed dancing party Wednesday evening when the Knights Templar club gave their opening party for the season which included a reception with dancing and cards following. A special feature during the evening was a supper served in the banquet hall. The guests assembled in the parlors off the large ball room until about 9 o'clock when the receiving line formed at the rostrum where a charming setting of palms and ferns with a huge standard of yellow chrysanthemums made a fitting background for the many pretty gowns worn. The guests passed into the ball room from the south parlor greeting the patronesses and forming a grand march.

Following are a few of the attractive costumes noticed. Mrs. A. H. Averill wore a handsome gown of white crepe interwoven with a delicate brocade in pink flowers and trimmed in white lace.

Mrs. N. U. Carpenter was attired in shrimp pink chamoisee draped with a crystal beaded net.

Mrs. Charles E. Runyon wore an imported gown of black combined with white chamoisee and draped with a black embroidered net with touches of King's blue.
