

OFFICERS, PASSENGERS AND CREW SAVED IN SEA DISASTER

Principal Events of the Week Stated in Brief for the Information of Busy Readers.

Executive and Political.
PRESIDENT WILSON has been requested by the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church to secure legislation prohibiting polygamy and abolishing Mormonism in the United States.
 Members of the house are planning to join in presenting Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of the president, with a handsome wedding present. Speaker Clark will appoint a committee to select the present.
 Secretary Lane has instructed the department of justice to bring suit in order to determine the rights of the Indians to the water in the Takima valley.
 The government has announced that a plan has been discovered that will prevent the waste of natural gas in oil well drilling. The department of the interior has been working on the plan.
 Fred Williams, of Boston, has been picked by President Wilson as minister to Greece.
 The army and navy of the United States are said to be held in readiness to be sent to quell disturbances in Mexico.
 President Wilson notified members of the currency committee that he will not accept, under any circumstances, the substitution of the central for the regional plan. He will not sanction any fundamental change in the bill.
 Secretary of State Bryan has informed President Wilson that he has received positive assurance from provisional President Huerta of Mexico that he will not accept the presidency, even if he should be victorious at the elections.
 President Wilson has commuted the sentence of Frederick A. Hyde from two years to that of Jont Schneider from 18 months to 120 days imprisonment. He did not remit fines of $1,000 and $1,000 respectively assessed against Hyde and Schneider.
 Secretary of State Bryan told the M. E. church Women's Home Missionary Society that the world is in need of spiritual redemption, adding that there is no community which is not in need of redemption.
 President Wilson's selection of four Filipinos to act on the Philippine commission will not be confirmed by the senate until assurances are given that the new appointees will work to eliminate slavery from the islands.
 To force members to attend sessions, Senator Cummins advocates adjournment of some other means of compelling the members to attend.
 As special representative of Governor West, Miss Fern Hobbs, private secretary to the governor, has arrived at Washington, D. C., on official business.
 Petitions are in circulation in Chicago asking ex-Congressman Lorimer to run for United States senator again. The petition came from the Republican club of Galesburg, Ill.
 "America is magnificent, but young and exuberant," says the Prince of Monaco, while visiting Washington. The universal desire for learning here surprises the guest.
 Lieutenant Oswald F. Henning, of the medical reserve corps, was transferred from Fort Columbia, Wash., to Monterey, and will be succeeded by Lieutenant Charles R. Bastien, now at Fort Worden.
 The interstate commerce commission has ordered that for two years railroad rates on imports west bound from New York and Boston shall remain the same as at present.

 Secretary of War Garrison and Brigadier-General Weaver, chief of coast artillery, have left for an inspection of the Panama canal, and to confer with Colonel Goethals and other members of the canal commission relative to legislation for the canal.
 The crew, instead of being a detriment, is a benefit to farmers, according to the report of the department of agriculture, which says that the bird destroys outworn, grasshoppers and other insects that injure crops.
 Factional strife in Honolulu over the appointment of a successor to Governor Frear will result in rule by an army commission, and the territorial government will be discontinued, says Loren Andrews, ex-United States attorney-general of Honolulu.
 Mrs. E. A. Orchard, 38, of The Dalles, registered. She says she would like to vote for Joe Cannon for president. She is a "black Republican" and a suffragist standpatter.
 Fifty per cent of the voters of Stanislaus, Cal., will be unable to vote in the November elections because the county clerk failed to name a registrar for that district.
 The order of the immigration officials in denying Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst privilege to land at New York was overruled by Washington authorities, and the militant suffragette leader of London was allowed to enter the United States.
 On account of operations of the Oregon Elks law, the Oregon Miners' association has filed resolutions with Secretary of the Interior Lane, asking suspension of the annual assessments.
 President Wilson has entirely recovered from the attack of indigestion which bothered him for a time. He climbed the hills at the golf links during a heavy wind and rain storm, showing that he was himself again.
 District Attorney Lingenfelter, of Idaho, will be dismissed by the administration on charges of a serious nature, it is said. The nature of the charges was not given out.
 President Wilson has received a letter from Yuan Shi Kai, acknowledging the president's felicitation on the election of the emperor as the first president of the Chinese republic.
 Protest has been made to the interior department by Oregon city against the Portland Railway, Light & Power company for cutting off its access to the intake of the Clackamas river for its own system. Oregon senators have been asked to take action.
 President Wilson has written to Representative Underwood, leader of the majority in the house, asking that the administration currency measure be reported to the senate not later than the first week in November. The president feels sure the bill will pass that body without material change.
 President Wilson has nominated Charles W. Fay postmaster of San Francisco, to succeed Arthur Plak, resigned.
 It is expected that every country of the world having a navy will be represented in the parade through the Panama canal. The battleship Oregon will lead the procession. Russia may not appear in line, because of international issues.
 The government is planning to teach practical farming on reclamation projects.
 The urgent deficiency bill, providing for the abolishing of the commerce court and removal of about 1000 deputy revenue collectors from civil service, has been signed by the president.

Municipal and Legislative.
AN investigation of conditions in every insane asylum of Massachusetts will be ordered by Governor Foss, as the result of charges of cruelty in the Worcester asylum.
 Starting in with 11 cents and a span of mules and a wagon, a homesteader named Janssen, of Idaho, who filed in 1910, now values his place at $10,000.
 Venues, Wash., has a smallpox scare. Executions are being taken following the discovery of one case in the town.
 The plea for local option elections in Kootenai county, Idaho, has been denied because the county commissioners discovered that many of the names to the petitions were irregular.
 Farmers of Salsar valley, east of Centralia, Wash., will ask a telephone franchise. The Boisefort company also is in the field for a franchise.
 The standard Oil company has issued a statement in California that it will not buy any more oil lands which are under litigation.
 J. T. Chinook, water superintendent of western Oregon, will inspect water rights in the Klamath district. Rights of the government reclamation department are involved.
Commercial and Industrial.
VOTING power in the Umatilla drainage district will be based on the amount of land owned, one vote being allowed to each dollar or major portion thereof.
 Mesford sees railroad activity ahead. The Southern Pacific, the Oregonian and other heads of the road.
 Grant county, Oregon, is out of debt, and has balance of $30,000 in the treasury. Crops are good, and best cattle has been selling plentifully, and at high prices.
 Sheriff Mass, of Clackamas county, has turned over to the county treasurer $32,878, which represents the last half of the tax payments for the year.
 The state capital commission of Washington declares that it will be impossible to issue the $4,000,000 bonds for the new capitol building. The completion of the structure will have to wait until the legislature meets again. About 60,000 persons have registered for farms in the North Platte forest reserve.
 Addressing the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, Secretary of Commerce Redfield says that he hopes the day will come when men will be fitted for the work through which they hope to make a livelihood.
 Forty thousand locomotive engineers and firemen have notified 30 railroads that November 10 they will terminate the agreements, and ask for an increase in wages amounting to $50,000,000 a year. The roads are said to welcome any adjustments.
 Washington authorities have promised Dr. Kinney, chairman of the Ports of Columbia committee, that a searing dredge will be sent to work on the Columbia channel just as soon as the Panama canal is opened to permit sending the dredger around from the Atlantic coast.
 The laws concerning weights and measures will be enforced to cover all classes of commercial enterprises, if the inspectors follow the letter of the statutes.

 Rumors of cold weather in Brazil and unfavorable crop reports have caused a sharp rise in the price of coffee. Spot market remained firm in New York, and half a cent higher.
 Interstate commerce commission at Kansas City is hearing evidence that rates on bananas shipped from Galveston to Kansas discriminate in favor of shipments to Nebraska.
 Idaho and Washington should follow the example of Oregon and complete its reclamation projects, in order to attract new settlers, says Director Newell.
 The Southern Pacific company is said to be willing to sell its Pacific Mail line for a "reasonable figure."
 The steamship company has until 1914 to change from railroad ownership, if it wishes to operate through the Panama canal.
 Because all the railroad cars are being used to move Oregon crops, the Toledo Lumber company has shut down its mill.
Legal and Criminal.
ARTHUR REYNOLDS, president of the American Bankers' Association, in suit filed at Des Moines, says he was swindled out of $40,000 in the sale of stock in the Des Moines Life insurance company.
 The body of a man, believed to be that of a soldier, was found in the bay at San Francisco.
 Washington Irving, a descendant of the famous author, is defendant in a divorce suit filed at Oakland. Irving is general agent of the Phoenix Assurance company.
 William Hoppe, father of Willie Hoppe, the former pugilist, is charged in a warrant of stealing $11 from Carl Goertz at San Francisco.
 Harry Anderson was suit to quiet title to 120 acres of land in the Reedville district, Oregon. A fraudulent deed to the land had been passed to Oscar E. Carlson.
 Harvey E. Cross, mayor of Gladstone, is accused in a criminal complaint, filed at Oregon City, of allowing dirt to remain on the sidewalk in front of his place. Cross had failed to remove the dirt which had accumulated during construction of a retaining wall.
 Tentative pleas of not guilty to the charge of operating a corner in cotton in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act were made by Eugene R. Seales, Frank B. Hayne and William Brown, at New York.
 William Payne, a farmer, near Trenton, N. J., killed his wife and committed suicide because his wife, from whom he was separated, had refused to return to live with him.
 Elmer Myers, a Brooklyn boy, was fined $50 in the United States court for setting up a wireless plant without first getting a license. The conviction is the first under the new law.
 A letter containing disease germs was sent through the mails, the writer demanding $1500 from the recipient. Chicago federal authorities are investigating.
 G. S. Graham was given the limit, 13 years in the penitentiary, at Los Angeles, Cal., for the theft of an automobile. The court said that "joyrides" threaten the worst menace confronting the authorities today.
 Ex-Governor Sulzer, of New York, in a statement to the public, declares that the real reason for his impeachment was that he would not do the bidding of Boss Murphy, of Tammany Hall, and because he had relentlessly pursued Murphy's corrupt henchmen in office.
 The supreme court of the United States has advanced for hearing in January the "bleached flour" case, which involves the interpretation of the pure food laws.

 A temporary injunction restraining the city of The Dalles from paying the paving bill of the Linden-Kilbe Construction company, of Portland, and the issuing of bonds for payment of the claim, has been issued.
 An attempt is being made by counsel to fight the indictments of Thaw in New York.
 The American Mining Congress has adopted resolutions presented by Sidney Norman, of Spokane, declaring the "dishonest operations of the financially powerful" to be a menace to the mining industry.
 Authorities have no right to release insane patients from the asylum on parole, without first getting an order of court, according to the ruling of Judge Chapman, of Tacoma.
Foreign.
PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT HUERTA denies that he intends to resign his office and flee the country. He declared he will stay at his post.
 The British government offers to delay fulfillment of its naval program for next year, providing Germany will do the same. It is hoped that other nations will follow suit, declaring a "naval holiday."
 Crown Prince Frederick William was called "on the carpet" by his father to explain why the prince opposed Emperor William's Brunswick policy. The prince denied authorizing publication of the letter.
 Half a block of the business section of Ottumwa was destroyed by fire, causing $350,000 damages.
 Eight Huns and a tiger escaped in a collision of a street car and a circus wagon in Leipzig. Within five minutes the entire city was in an uproar. Two of the Huns leaped through the plate glass windows of the Blucher hotel, frightening guests.
 John Freeman Mitford, cousin of Lady Randolph Churchill, and son of Baron Rosedale, will marry Fraulein Marie Anna von Friedlaender, daughter of Berlin's coal king, who is said to be worth $25,000,000.
 King George and Queen Mary of England are rejoicing because of the expected arrival of an heir some time during the latter part of February.
 Princess Augustine Victoria, of Hohenzollern, who has been ill, has left the hospital at Munich. Rumors that the sickness was the result of another cause are denied.
 James F. Hays, believed to be mentally unbalanced, fired at Bishop Marsh, injuring the prelate's ear. The shot was fired just as the bishop was elevating the host.

Belgium has cancelled the year's dirigible military plans, as result of the latest Zeppelin balloon disaster.
General News Notes.
CONSTABLE CHENEY, of Denton, Mont., in a duel killed Stanley B. Scofield, and himself received a dangerous wound. He was protecting Miss Hazel Wright, whom Scofield had threatened to kill for rejecting him.
 Secretary Redfield has declared that he has not given up his intention of prosecuting employers who close down their plants on the pretense of injurious effects of the tariff.
 Duluth has had its first experience this year with zero weather.
 Governor Glynn's nomination of James M. Lynch as labor commissioner of New York has been confirmed by the state senate.
 When the body of the late Adolphus Busch arrived at St. Louis from New York, thousands of people stood in line at the depot and at the family residence.
 About 150 people, mostly Americans, have arrived at San Diego on the United States transport Buford, from Mexico. They will return when conditions become more settled in that country.
 Mrs. Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader of London, has done harm to the cause in England and America, according to Mrs. Anna Shaw, president of the National Woman Suffrage association. She says women are at a disadvantage when trying to use physical force to accomplish political ends.
 Mrs. Mary Lathbury, writer of books for children, artist and social worker, died at East Orange, N. J., aged 72.
 Girls attending Barnard college, New York, are required to pass a swimming test. They must swim the length of a tank, turn on their backs and return to the starting point.
 The industries should be made adjuncts to the common school in the vocational training of children, it is said.
 While bound from Fort Williams to Buffalo, the steamer Elphicks grounded off Long Point with 100,000 bushels of wheat on board. Captain and crew reached shore in lifeboats.
 The body of Armand Klatt, a bookkeeper, was found in the offices of John T. Wright & Co., of San Francisco, where the man had evidently killed himself because of ill health.
 Less than a week's visit was enough for William Schneider, of Clarke county, Washington, who returned to his old home, in Germany, only to find that nearly all his oldtime friends were dead or had moved away.
 As result of a cave-in in the Milwaukee road tunnel at Koshong, Wash., one man is dead, three injured and others missing. The slide came after a big powder blast had been put in.

Two men burned to death and others injured as result of an explosion in a smelting in the Stepien smelter at McGill, Wash.
 Miss Marie Collier, who disappeared from Chicago, leaving a note, saying she had been banished from society because she had been a nurse in a leper colony, returned. She had intended to kill herself, but changed her mind.
 Engineer M. H. Dorsey, of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road, was here in a wreck. He reversed engine and got the train out the way in time to save the lives of many passengers.
 A marriage license has been issued to Miss Ernestine Y. Rosenthal, sister of the wife of deceased Governor Sulzer, of New York, and Walter M. Friedenberg, of Edhill road, Cleveland, Ohio.
 Abraham Brancher, aged 13, has been asleep 15 days in a hospital at St. Paul, and attempts to arouse him have failed. He is insensible to pain.
 A girl pianist in a moving picture theatre at San Francisco prevented a panic when she notified the management of a fire in the operator's room. The audience left the house quietly.
 Thirty teachers attended the institute in Lane county. Miss Van Bibber, superintendent in that district, was in charge.

ROMAN MEAL BREAD
 The ancient Roman soldiers, who ate no meat but who subsisted upon black bread, developed a strength of physique and a hardihood of nature which enabled them to exact tribute from every known nation, and to conquer the world.
 A modern cereal food, over-refined, catering to the daintiness of appetite and weakening digestive powers, develops no such traits as were found in the Romans of old.
 A physician has now given to the world something new in Roman Meal, which is a scientifically balanced food composed of wheat, rye and flax. The flax, after being deodorized by a secret process, is called flaxseed. The combination of these cereals, which is contrary to ground for a purpose, is called Roman Meal, and the Log Cabin Baking Co. is now baking bread from this meal.
 Roman Meal Bread is to be had at all grocers and delicatessen stores in Portland and vicinity, at 60 a loaf. If you cannot find it at your grocer's, ask him for a 4-oz. package of Roman Meal, which he will sell you for 25c, and bake the bread yourself. It is worth while.
 Roman Meal may also be used in making game souffles, fruit puddings, custards, etc. It is a most valuable and all the proteins and vitamins found in the last word in scientific nutrition.

PHOTO BY INT. NEWS SERVICE

- 1—Captain Francis Inch, heroic commander of the steamship Volturno, photographed aboard the rescue ship Kroonland.
- 2—William Seddon, at the left, chief wireless operator on the Volturno, who heroically stayed at his post sending out distress signals; H. G. Larry, assistant purser of the Volturno, who escaped.
- 3—Crew of the Grosser Kurfuert, who saved 105 persons from the burning Volturno.
- 4—Survivors of the Volturno fire, photographed aboard the Grosser Kurfuert.
- 5—Surviving members of the crew of the Volturno.
- 6—Three wives of the sea, whose parents lost their lives in the Volturno disaster. The lad on the left is dressed in a suit made from a ship's flag by one of the passengers on the Kroonland, his clothes having been torn to shreds when he was pulled from the sea.
- 7—Unnamed boy, picked up at sea from an open boat 13 months ago by Captain Inch, and a cabin boy aboard the Volturno, who was saved by the personal efforts of Captain Inch at the risk of his own life.