

APPLEBY ANNOUNCES LINE OF MARCH AND FORMATION OF PARADE

All Who Participate Must Be in Line Promptly at 1:30 o'Clock Tomorrow.

Line of Industrial Parade. From Broadway bridge south on Broadway to Columbia; east on Columbia to Third; north on Third to steel bridge; crossing the river to Grand avenue; south on Grand avenue to Hawthorne; crossing the Hawthorne bridge; west on Clay to Broadway, where it will disperse.

J. E. Appleby, assistant to Grand Marshal W. J. Clemens of the interstate bridge parade tomorrow, this morning announced that the parade contingent would be formed in four sections, for the sake of expedition and order. He also announced that everyone who expects to be in line should be in his place not later than 1:30 o'clock, because the start will be made promptly at 2 o'clock.

The four divisions will assemble as follows: Division 1, including the county commissioners of Clark and Multnomah counties, the city band, mayor and city commissioners, city officials and dock commissioners, will form on Glisan street west of Broadway.

Division 2, including the firemen's band, city fire apparatus, the Ad club, Rotary club and kindred organizations, will form on Flanders street, west of Broadway.

Division 3, industrial and advertising features, will form on Everett street, west of Broadway.

Division 4, immense band donated by the Musicians' Association of Portland, will head the automobile club and all touring cars, forming on Couch and Davis streets, west of Broadway.

East side organizations, including the representation from Vancouver, St. Johns and every organization east of the Willamette, will assemble at Albina and Killingsworth avenues and cross the Broadway bridge, joining the parade line on Broadway.

The line of march will be as above, several changes having been made from the program previously announced.

Boosters for the bridge across the Columbia river have encountered some opposition to the bond program from people who, despite repeated public statements to the contrary, had formed the opinion that the bridge was to be free. One of the chief arguments of the workers at every meeting held in the bridge interest has been that tolls would be charged, and in that way the cost of erecting the span be taken care of without increased taxation.

Final preparations for the banquet Saturday night as the climax of the "bridge day" celebration have been made by the North Portland Commercial club and the women's auxiliary. The garage at Albina and Killings-

TRUST INVESTIGATION IS NEXT ON PROGRAM

Whether Monopoly or Competition Is Better to Be Decided by Congress.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 31.—Promises of a vast trust investigation by Uncle Sam were voiced today by Joseph Davies, federal commissioner of corporations, in an address before the National Association of Hardware Manufacturers in convention. "It will be possible to destroy the trusts without hampering industrial development or freedom," Davies declared. The next congress, he said, would deal largely with the trusts. Whether laws will be enacted providing for the destruction of the trusts or merely control of monopolies will be determined, he said, by the question: "Does monopoly or competition afford the fairer a better system for all the people?" Davies asked the convention to cooperate with congress in the proposed investigation.

ROSEBURG-NORTH BEND ROAD UNDER DISCUSSION

(Special to The Journal.) Roseburg, Or., Oct. 31.—A committee from western Douglas county and North Bend is in Roseburg conferring with the county court and citizens of this community in regard to the building of a hard-surface water-grade road from the Pacific highway at Roseburg to North Bend. Residents of Coos county offer to build such a road to the Douglas county line if assurances can be secured that Douglas county will build a hard-surface road to connect it with the Pacific highway.

It has been decided that the best route to Coos Bay, in order to avoid the Coast range mountains, especially during the winter months, is from Roseburg down the Umpqua river to about seven miles below Scottsburg, then across the Umpqua river to the south side, and thence on down to near Reedport, and from there to follow closely the former Southern Pacific railroad survey to meet the road from Coos. This route can be made on nearly a water-level grade, and the distance to Coos Bay will be about the same as the Myrtle Point route.

If this road is built, it will be a valuable factor for the people of the lower Umpqua river country, who are now almost isolated from the county seat during the winter months, and will help develop a rich section of the county.

Neck Broken—Will Live.

Eugene, Or., Oct. 31.—It is the belief of attending physicians today that A. Hyland of Alpine, Benton county, whose neck was broken Monday and who is in a local hospital, will live. He was injured in a logging camp and was brought 30 miles to Eugene in a wagon. His family, in destitute circumstances, came with him.

worth avenues has been gayly decked and the winds will be served "family style," with none of the frills of the ordinary hotel function.

WARRANT OUT FOR OREGON OFFICIAL

Dr. Steiner of Insane Asylum to Be "Goat" in Test Case.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., Oct. 31.—A warrant was sworn out in justice court this morning by Labor Commissioner O. F. Hoff against Dr. Steiner, superintendent of the state insane asylum, on the charge of employing Merton Mortenson, a farm laborer, and W. L. Davis, an engineer, more than eight hours a day. The suit is brought to test the question of whether the eight hour law applies to employees of state institutions. Labor Commissioner Hoff met with the state board of control yesterday and endeavored to obtain an agreement, that when he arrested one of the superintendents the board would resort to habeas corpus proceedings to get him out of jail and by such proceedings carry the case to the supreme court immediately. The members of the board would not agree to any procedure until after Hoff had caused the arrest.

Hoff said if they let the case take its natural course it would be a year before the question would be decided by the courts. He said in the meantime all the work he has done to have the law enforced in cities is being undone by this uncertainty. He mentioned Ashland, Klamath Falls, Eugene, and Roseburg and Oregon City as being affected. Secretary of State Olcott asked Hoff if he had made the statement that the board was trying to "play horse" with him, and Hoff said he probably did. Governor West told him to go ahead and do his part and the board would do its part in having the question settled as soon as possible.

"COME RIGHT ON UP" SAID MEAN OLD THING

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 31.—After six months of married life, Ella L. Dennick deserted his wife, Marian, in 1905, leaving behind this note: "Goodbye, kid, I'm going away." Today Dennick called his wife on the telephone, saying: "I'm back again, honey, and I'm just coming for a sight of you and the baby." "Come right up to the house," answered Mrs. Dennick. He did—and was served with divorce papers.

TWO CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM PRISON GANG

Salem, Or., Oct. 31.—Two convicts escaped last night from the gang employed at the state tuberculosis hospital. They were K. O. Nelson, sent up from Clatsop for one to seven years for larceny, and J. L. Alvord, sent up from Wasco for two to five years for burglary. Nelson was received at the prison March 2, 1912, and Alvord on February 12, 1912.

Normal Student Dies.

Monmouth, Or., Oct. 31.—Miss Alva Johnson of Allice, eastern Oregon, who has been attending normal since September, died today after four weeks' illness. Her body was sent to relatives at LaGrande.

MRS. ASTOR AMERICAN IF HER HUSBAND ISN'T

Wife of Expatiate Says "Yankees May Change but Virginians Never."

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Oct. 31.—Dressed simply but becomingly, Mrs. William Waldorf Astor, accompanied by her 6-year-old son, William Jr., arrived here today from England. Mrs. Astor's husband, who owns many millions of dollars' worth of real estate in New York, renounced his citizenship in this country to become a subject of Great Britain. Mrs. Astor, however, says she is still a citizen of the United States. "Yes, I am an American," she said, "and I am proud of it. I am a Virginian. And I am proud of that, too. Yankees may change, but southerners never. I simply could not stay away from Virginia any longer, and I intend to visit my people there." Mrs. Astor congratulated the United States on forbidding the importation of bird plumage, adding: "If any of the women who came over on the Lusitania with me are wearing the question mark, I hope the feathers are confiscated." It was the first visit to this country of young William Astor, and he was all eyes and full of interest.

LANE TEACHERS FAVOR U.-O. APPROPRIATIONS

Eugene, Or., Oct. 31.—The Lane County Teachers' Institute, before it closed its annual session in this city yesterday afternoon, passed resolutions supporting the appropriations for the University of Oregon and favoring the reestablishment of the Southern Oregon state normal school at Ashland, approved State Superintendent Chairchild's administration, endorsed County Superintendent Moore's plan for spelling schools and endorsed the Lane county plan of standardizing public schools. A spirit of complete loyalty on the part of the teachers to the University of Oregon was shown throughout the institute and in an enthusiastic manner. The question of the university appropriations was constantly talked of in the corridors of the high school building during the periods of leisure, and yesterday all the teachers wore badges upon which was printed, "Vote for the university."

The institute passed a resolution calling for a committee of teachers and citizens to devise a plan for junior high schools for the rural districts. Dr. Joseph Schaefer of the university proposed the plan, and the resolution was prepared by Professor W. A. Beer of Eugene.

SPEEDING TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE; ONE DEAD

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 31.—Run down at Whitefish, Mont., by Great Northern No. 4, eastbound, when about to cross the track in an automobile at a blind intersection, W. E. Wells, manager of the Somers Lumber company, died in hour later in the hospital last evening. Willard Burns, treasurer of the same company, was hurled from the car, receiving injuries believed to be mortal. Wells' wife hastened in an automobile from Kallispell and reached her husband a few minutes before he died. The train was behind time and running 40 miles an hour.

Kitty Gordon Collapses. Los Angeles, Oct. 31.—Kitty Gordon, possessor of the "perfect back," collapsed during a performance here. Her audience was sent home and the remainder of her engagement was cancelled.
