

CLUBMEN AND TARS IN GOOD CONDITION FOR BIG GAME TOMORROW

Referee's Whistle Will Blow Promptly at 3 o'Clock to Start Bremerton Battle.

With but one shift, caused by the injury of Patay O'Rourke, the Multnomah club eleven will line up tomorrow afternoon against the All-Navy team of Bremerton, Wash. The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock.

The "Winged M" players held light signal practice last evening and every member of the squad is in good condition for a hard game. Captain Keck who played against the Washington States last Saturday with a weak ankle, reports that it is as strong as ever again.

Captain Holings of the sailors has gathered together the best eleven possible and has had them working out daily since the game with the University of Oregon two weeks ago.

Manager Plowden Stott is hopeful of a victory over the tars tomorrow. "If we defeat them by a score as big as the University of Oregon, I think we stand a pretty good chance of beating the collegians on Thanksgiving day," said Stott.

Tickets can be secured at Schiller's cigar store and at Huntley's drug store. The gates will open at 2:30 o'clock.

The line-up:
Sailors: Pos. Mutnomah.
Hickson.....Hickson
Armstrong.....F. L.Conville
Allen.....F. S.Philbrook
Coville.....R. S.Cherry
Breneman.....L. T.Rupert

Reid (c).....L. S.Ludiam
Carpenker.....L. S.Rodes
Reber.....L. S.McEas
Harrigan.....F. H.Striebig
Staley.....L. S.Keck (c)

The Chemawa Indian school eleven will play a preliminary game with the Multnomah second team. This contest will start promptly at 2 o'clock. The contract calling for the game was signed late last evening.

The admission to both games will be 50 cents. A number of football followers have been under the impression all season that the club has been charging 75 for admissions.

WILLIE MEEHAN MEETS G. CHRISTIAN TONIGHT

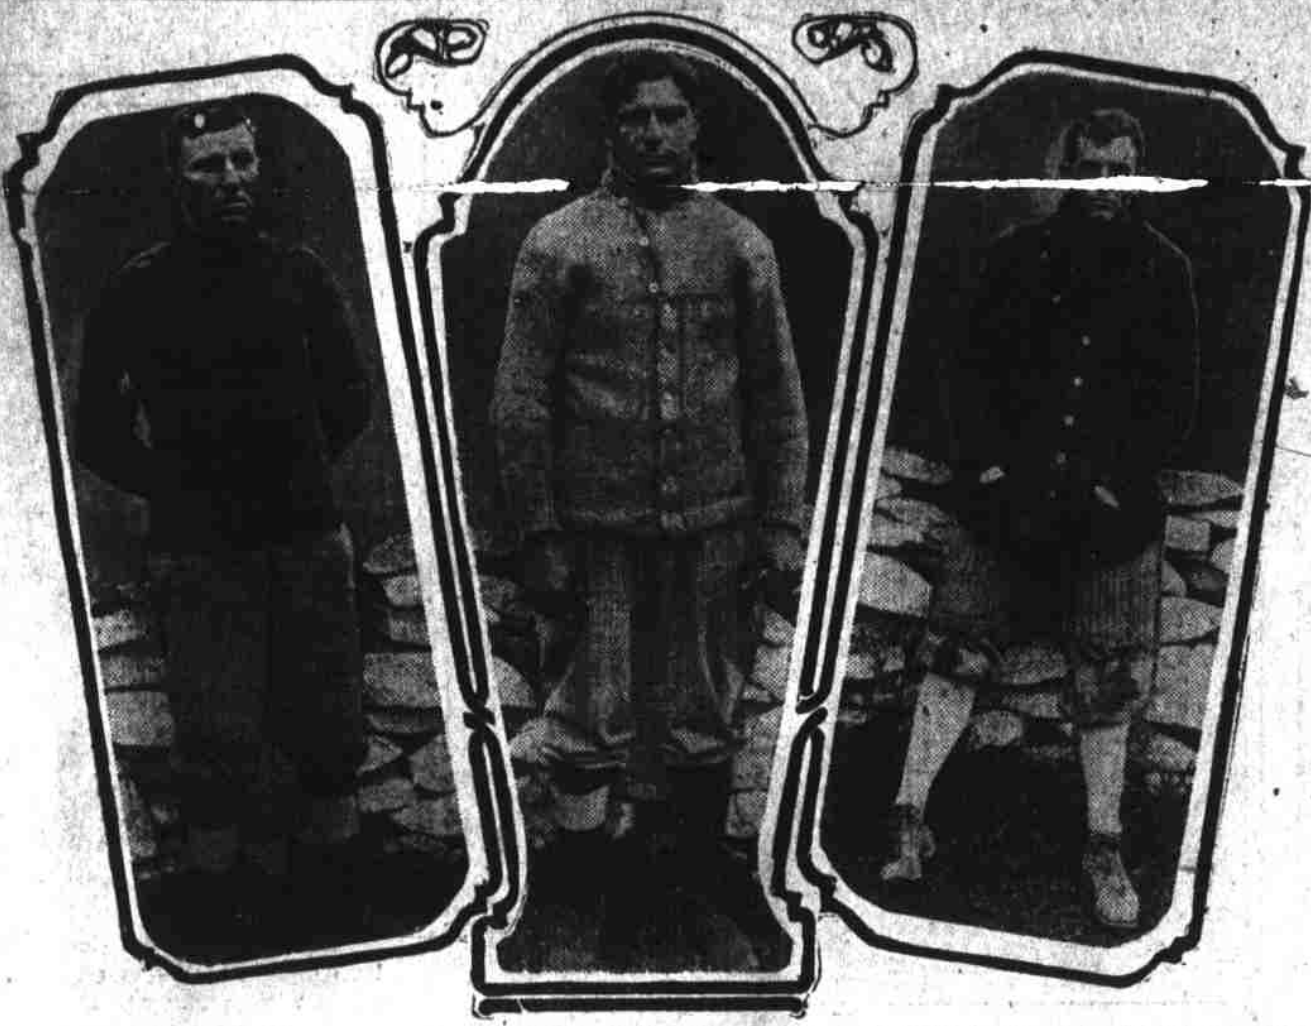

Otto Berg, Astorian, Will Step Four Rounds With Sailor Grande.

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—Willie Meehan, San Francisco newsboy heavyweight, and George Christian, a negro of Albany, N. Y., meet here tonight in the main event of the weekly four round show at Pavilion rink. Little is known of Christian, a newcomer, but he is said to be a shifty boxer and to carry a punch in either hand. Meehan wins decisively he intends going out in search of a match with Gunboat Smith, Sam Langford and the other heavyweight topnotchers.

The other bouts carded follow: Johnny Bodenberg of Omaha vs. Tom Nicola of Manila; Otto Berg of Astoria vs. Sailor Grande of Vallejo; Bubbles Robinson vs. Jimmy McVey; Jack Hempie vs. Ted Jordan; Leo Crevier vs. Eddie White; Eddie Santy vs. Sailor Brodie.

Princeton university began playing football in 1889, Yale in 1872, Harvard in 1874, Pennsylvania in 1876, Dartmouth in 1882 and Cornell in 1887.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE TOMORROW WILL NOT AFFECT EAST'S TITLE

Two of Harvard's Regulars to Be Out of Cornell Game; Yale Practice Aggressive.

New York, Oct. 31.—Football games scheduled for tomorrow throughout the east were not expected to affect the championship, but the coaches of the various eleven do not intend to take any chances, and regular players will be used. Ideal football weather was predicted for tomorrow by the weather bureau.

Two of Harvard's regular players will be out of tomorrow's game with Cornell on account of injuries. They are Hitchcock and Mahan. Cornell was not expected to make a very strong showing against the Crimson, and it was not believed the two regulars would be missed. The practice of the Harvard squad today was confined to 20 minutes easy scrimmaging, the coaches giving the men a letup on account of the large number of minor injuries.

The Yale team engaged in its final scrimmage practice yesterday. The regulars put up an aggressive game, scoring five touchdowns on the scrums. Dartmouth and Amherst also meet tomorrow. The Dartmouth eleven, which recently defeated Princeton, 6 to 0, was in fine shape today and was a big favorite over Amherst.

Princeton will meet Holy Cross and the Tiger coaches were confident of victory.

"GUNBOAT" SMITH AND MILLER BOX TONIGHT

Each Heavyweight Expects to Stop Other Before Ten Rounds End.

New York, Oct. 31.—Gunboat Smith and Charlie Miller, San Francisco heavyweights, are scheduled to clash in a 10 round bout here tonight. Both were confident of victory today.

"I defeated Smith in four rounds in San Francisco," said Miller, "and he is due for another beating tonight. After I dispose of Smith I am going to Paris and meet Jack Johnson for the heavyweight championship."

Smith was equally confident. "Miller will be lucky to stick five rounds," he said. "It will never go 10 rounds, because I'm going to settle Miller's championship aspirations by knocking him out."

KILBANE STOPS CHAP WITH FIGHTING NAME

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 31.—Fight fans here are convinced that Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, packs a punch, following his stopping last night of "Knockout" Mars of Cincinnati in the seventh round of a scheduled 10 round bout.

Until Kilbane put over the knockout wallop the men were about on an even basis. In the second round Mars floored Kilbane, but the champion was up fighting fiercely in an instant, and evened up matters by sending Mars to the mat. Mars met his finish when he made a rush at Kilbane. The champion caught him coming in with a straight right to the jaw and Mars went down for the count.

BARNES' PUTT IS LIKE EGAN'S AND BRITONS WIN AT SEATTLE 1 UP

Vardon Holes on 36th and Tacoma Professional Rims Cup and Settles Away.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 31.—James M. Barnes, professional of the Tacoma Golf club, who took part in the national championships at the Brookline links and made a creditable showing, paired with Robert Johnstone, Seattle professional, against Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the great English professionals, on the local course yesterday and made much the same finish against them that Chandler Egan and Harry Davis, amateurs, did at Portland Wednesday, being beaten one up at the thirty-sixth hole. Barnes had the same poor luck that Egan had Wednesday to halve the final hole, when his 25 foot putt rimmed the cup and then dropped outside. A thousand people saw the match.

It was the masterly playing of Vardon that defeated the northwestern professionals. Barnes played the great Ray to a standstill, his direction being better, but the Englishman had a little better of the argument in the average length of his tee shots. An idea may be obtained of the class of golf played by Vardon when it is stated that he was for the Seattle Golf club score is 76 and Vardon negotiated the morning round in 72, the first time he had ever been on the course. In the afternoon, Vardon holed his last putt for a 76. His total of 141 for 36 holes is a new record in competition on the Seattle course.

The beginning of the match yesterday morning opened inauspiciously for the northwestern professionals.

Ray took the British team into the lead on the 10th when he went down for a three, but both Barnes and Johnstone negotiated three on the 12th and again the match was square. The 13th saw Ray hob his drive in an attempt to carry onto the 200 yard green, and after striking a tree in trying to get out of the rough, he picked up. Vardon, Barnes and Johnstone, however, were good for four. The 14th saw the English team again go into the lead, when both Vardon and Ray were given fours, but Barnes again squared the match on the 15th with a four. They halved the 16th and 17th with fours, but the most sensational putt of the day on the home green gave the northwestern professionals the first round. All hands were on the home green or within easy striking distance in two, but the rolling turf made putting a decidedly delicate task. With Vardon dead to the hole with three, Barnes putted over a small hill to halve the hole, going down in the hole. Then Vardon did the unexpected. With but a two footer to sink, his ball went to one side and the northwestern professionals had the edge for the first round when they went to luncheon.

The home professionals were not long to enjoy the advantage of playing an up game. The first hole of the afternoon round went to the Englishmen when Ray holed a four, Barnes missing a short putt, through carelessness to halve the hole. The second was halved with fours and Barnes and Vardon both made threes on the third, the Tacoma pro having to hole a long one to keep from losing another hole. All made threes on the fourth, but the green saw Vardon make a magnificent three, when he holed a 20 footer after getting on the green in two truly wonderful shots. Ray got a four on this hole, Barnes and Johnstone halving it with Colonel Bogey in fives.

The situation of the northwestern professionals was further depressed on the eighth, after halving the seventh. Again Vardon did the seemingly impossible and captured the hole with a four. The turn found the northwestern professionals three down and nine to go. Barnes' drive on the 10th took him into the rough and he was forced to use the club to get to the green. He halved the hole with the Englishmen in spite of this handicap and cut down their lead on the 11th when he holed their lead on the 11th when he holed a two after a beautiful iron shot to the green. The 12th was halved and it remained for Johnstone to cut the lead of Vardon and Ray down to a single hole on the 13th when he went down for a three. The 14th and 15th were halved with fives and on the 16th Johnstone squared the match with a four. Barnes' drive went into the swamp and he picked up. With but two holes to go, Barnes and Johnstone both drove perfectly. Ray overdrove, while Vardon sliced into the rough. It looked like the northwesterners' hole. Vardon, however, electrified the large gallery by playing perfectly for the pin and holing out with a three, a seemingly impossible feat under the conditions. Then came the sensational 18th, where Barnes' ball refused to stay in the cup and the match was over.

"ORANGE O" CLUB IS STRONG INDORSER OF DR. STEWART, O. A. C.

Mass Meeting of Students Shows Attitude is Favorable to Present Director.

(Special to The Journal.)
Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Oct. 31.—The student body of the Oregon Agricultural College is much wrought up over the athletic situation, and the undue publicity it has been given. At a mass meeting of the students last Wednesday noon everybody expressed a most favorable attitude toward the present director of athletics and gave their support to his actions. The ill feeling which has been attributed to the whole student body, is merely between the two principals, and is not general in any way.

The Orange O club, made up of the members of the teams who have won their monogram in any branch of conference sport, met yesterday evening to discuss the situation. Every one of the athletes was behind Dr. Stewart, and the organization appointed a committee to draw up a statement of the conditions here and to disseminate it throughout the state press. The committee submitted the following statement, which was accepted by the club:

"We, the members of the Orange O club of the Oregon Agricultural College, having read the malicious attacks made by the press of the state concerning the athletic situation at this institution, wish to make the following statement concerning the aforesaid conditions:

"The athletic situation at O. A. C. is under the complete control of the student body, and the selection of the various coaches is entirely within their jurisdiction. The statements emanating from many of the leading papers of the state are misleading to an extreme degree. A faction opposed to the present athletic director and football coach is making a villainous attempt to discredit him in the eyes of the public. This faction is not connected with the student body in any way, and the assertion that they are working from the so-called 'inside' is false.

"The student body is behind Dr. Stewart in every move, as demonstrated by spirit shown and expressed in a mass meeting of the students last Wednesday noon. The statement that 'Hunky' Shaw 'quit' because he had a 'yellow streak' is absolutely false. A personal disagreement with Dr. Stewart was the cause of the break. In a statement to the entire team Shaw explained the situation and the members of the team respect Captain Shaw for his action, realizing that he was doing for the sake of the team, a thing which few men would do. He was entirely sincere in his withdrawal.

"Therefore, we, the members of the Orange O club set forth this statement as the only true portrayal of the athletic situation, and request its publication in all the papers of the state."
(Signed) ORANGE O CLUB.

This statement has been sent to all of the papers in the state through the College Press service. It is believed that the Orange O club, being composed of the athletes of the college, is more capable of judging the true situation than any other organization, will be able to set matters right throughout the state by use of their statement.

The defeat administered by the University of Washington has done a great deal to bring the students closer together, and a great wave of spirit has been aroused. The team is working more smoothly than ever before, according to the statements of the men, and the O. A. C. squad is expected to be in far better condition to meet the University of Oregon than they have been before this time.

FOOTBALL NOTES

Princeton and Rutgers began playing football back in 1889 and have met almost annually ever since.

The line of the University of Pennsylvania team averages 184 pounds, the backs 166 pounds and the eleven 178.

McCas, the great Lafayette punter of a decade ago, is assisting "Doc" Newton coach his old college eleven at Leaton, Pa.

John Foster, secretary of the New York Giants, will handle the big football games on the polo grounds, New York, this fall.

Brown and Ingram, who have reported to Coach Howard at Annapolis, complete the list of 1913 veterans on the Middles eleven.

A colored player on the Michigan agricultural team, cannot be induced to wear a headguard. He claims that his head is harder than any headgear made.
