Bark Thistlebank Supposed to Have Put to Sea When Near Entrance to River.

As the result of a storm on th coast jast night, it is probable that the British' bark Thistlebank, which has en reported outside, had to stand out sea again. She was expected to get into the river today, but reports from astoria say that the bar is rough and she would not tikely cross in even if she were close enough in to be picked up by one of the bar tugs.

Southwest storm warnings were ordered displayed at all stations in this district last night, and a wind velocity of 88 miles from the southwest was experienced at North Head, while at Tatoosh island they got 48 miles from the south. Some of the storm that is central over Dutch Harbor drifted in and was responsible for the blow.

impression is That City Council Will Grant No More Liquor Licenses.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Nov. 5.—For the first time in its history, the capital of Oregon has been voted "dry." The prohibition forces won in yesterday's local option election by a majority of 488. One of the largest votes in the history of the city was polled, there being 2784 votes for prohibition and 2296 against.

It is reported today that the saloon men will contest the election. They appear bitterly disappointed, and while they are not talking freely, it is reported that they will take the matter into the courts and endeavor to have the election declared void on the ground that the petition calling the election was imperfect, and perhaps on the ground that it was illegal to swear in votes under blank A.

Hundreds of votes were sworn in yesterday by both sides. William H. Trindle, campaign manager for the drys, charged yesterday that the wets were violating the corrupt practices act by hauling voters to the polls in automo-biles. The names of the drivers and the numbers of several machines were taken, and Mr. Trindle says pains were taken to secure evidence. He said if the county attorney bill becomes a law. assuring the appointment of E. R. Ringo as county attorney for Marion county, complaints probably would be filed against the alleged offenders.

All saloon licenses in the city expire December 1, and it is understood that the city council, in face of the returns in the local option election, is not in fa-vor of renewing any of them, even though the local option law does not go into effect until January. The saloon men declare they will contest the council's right to shut them out of the last month of the year.
