Portland fans withessed three of the greatest 105-pound bouths ever staged in Pertland. Four classy youngsters, Holiday of Vancouver, Ross of Multinomah, Baird of Seattle and Nelson of Spokane, exchanged blows in this class, and put up rattling good bouts.

Holiday, who is but 15 years old, put up an excellent scrap against rangy Nelson of Spokana. The Spokane boy was a head taller, and had a longer reach than the Vancouver paperweight, but was not as aggressive, Holiday, time after time, shot his left into Nelson's face without a single return. The Vancouver boy dodged like a veteran of Vancouver boy dodged like a veteran of the ring, sidestepped many of Nelson's right swings, and countered with a straight left. This was his first fight away from home.

Ross of Multneman was given the decision over Baird of Seattle in the second semi-final of the 108-pound class.

Baird fought a game battle, but Ross' stinging lefts and rights had the Seattle boy nearly out in the third round.

Walter Knowlton won his second bat-tle over Phil Noonan in the sami-finals of the lightweight class. His straight lefts had the Olympic club boy groggy in the second round.

Clark Jargstorff, of Los Angeles, holder of the coast heavyweight title for five years from 1806 to 1811, was the victim of the same accident that befell his team mate, Clark, in the first night's bouts. In his bout with Earl Miebus, of Multnomah, Jargstorff broke his right hand, but stayed until the end of the third round, Outweighed by 30 pounds, Miebus put up a great battle and was given the decision.

Harry Mahoney won on a foul from Mahoney had a slight shads in the first round. In the second Madden hit the Beaver club boy in the groin and he fell to the mat.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 15 .- The Corvallis high school team took on the McMinuville eleven yesterday afternoon, on the college athletic field, by a decisive score of 18 to 0. At no time during the contest did the visitors have a show, the Corvallis lads ripping through their defense in all quarters.

Toward the latter part of the game McMinnville opened up, and pulled off three pretty forward passes, but it was too late to save a shutout, their ad-vance being stopped by the whistle on the 40 vard line. the 40 yard line.

Seattle Bunch Drops to Thirteen Points For Even Money.

Betting on the Washington-Oregon game was very light today; in fact the lightest yet recorded between the supporters of the two elevens. Washington came down prepared to given even money that Washington would win from 20 to 25 points, but when they found the Oregon admirers ready to snap them up they beat the points down to 12 and 13 for even money.

"Tou can almost write your own ticket on Oregon's chances for a victory," said a well known sport this morning. You can even get 10 to 1, but nobody wants to take the Oregon end. On that line the Scattle bunch is willing to bet Mount Rainier against Council Crest. There's a lot of argument, but no wagering to speak of." Betting on the Washington-Oregon
