

NORTH PLAINS HAS CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

Only Two of Original Founders, Forty Years Ago, Living Today.

Hillsboro, Or., Nov. 20.—Members of the North Plains Presbyterian church at North Plains celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the organization of the church Sunday with appropriate exercises. A historical review of the church was given by the pastor, Rev. Andrew Garrick. This church was organized with 12 charter members, only two of whom are now living, Mrs. Sarah M. Smith of Portland and John Milne of Hillsboro. Both were present at the exercises Sunday.

For the first three years after the organization of this church meetings were held in the Columbia academy. At the end of that time the membership had grown sufficiently large so that funds could be raised to erect a church edifice, and this building is still in use.

From the parent church at North Plains a number of church organizations have sprung, there now being one at South Tualatin, Buxton, Forest Dale, Orengo and Redville, respectively. The first pastor of the North Plains church was Rev. George Ross.

Another church organization that dates even farther back than the North Plains church is that of the Baptist church at West Union. This church was organized in 1843, when there were only a baker's dozen of white people in Washington county. It is the oldest organization of the Baptist denomination west of the Missouri river. For some years services were held in a log cabin, but in the early fifties a frame structure was built, and it is still standing. When the building was erected the church was reorganized. Of this reorganization there are now living only two members, so far as is known. They are Zina Wood, Jr., Mildred Connel and Zina Wood, Jr. of Hillsboro, and George Armentrout of Forest Grove.

The journal of this church giving a resume of its history for the first 40 years of its organization is now in the possession of David Leonard of Roseburg, one of the original members. A second journal was kept as long as the church was active, and this is now in the possession of a Hillsboro resident. It contains a copy of the first record, and the man who has it considers it one of the most valuable records from a historical standpoint in Oregon. He will have it bound and present it to the Oregon Historical society.

NON-PARTISAN JUDICIARY ABSTRACTLY INDORSED BY BAR ASSOCIATION

Forensic Storm Bursts. The Reames resolution was the signal for the forensic storm to burst forth. Colonel C. E. S. Wood objected to it because it provided for special procedure, saying that a committee should be unfettered in drafting such a bill. Bert E. Haney pleaded that the resolution might be put in a right light; Colonel F. V. Holman seconded Mr. Wood's earlier statement. George S. Shepherd bobbed up with another amendment, to which Colonel Wood objected, saying: "So important a provision should go to a committee of high standing, in order to get as perfect a bill as possible."

The debate did not wax fervid, or, rather, perferid, until Gus Moser took the floor, and, in ringing accents, re-iterated the resolution as a reflection on the state judiciary. "It is a reflection on the judiciary of today," he protested, "if it had been offered 15 years ago, when we had the convention system, I should have been in favor of it."

"What is the meaning of this word 'non-partisan'?" Does anyone mean to insinuate that our judiciary is partisan in its decisions? Under the present system of law in Oregon, men must compete in open field to get the nomination. This resolution is introduced for the benefit of the minority. Let us not be carried away by this idea of a non-partisan judiciary. I am surprised that the members of the bar should take it up."

"The judiciary" should be taken out of politics altogether," said Colonel Wood. "Do not go on tickets as party nominees, and go to the polls asking for the assistance that can come from party favor and party faith. A non-partisan judiciary would produce a better and abler judiciary."

At the close of the convention, the resolution, was next on the floor, saying: "I would like to see this organization loosen up, let us start out with the final efforts of practice completed, the members of the February graduating class of Jefferson high school, who are to present 'When a Man's Single' tomorrow and Saturday evenings, are looking forward with anticipation for the rise of the curtain. For the past month the students have been practicing faithfully each evening after school in order that the production shall prove successful."

GRADUATING CLASS OF JEFFERSON HIGH TO PRODUCE SOCIETY PLAY TOMORROW

With the final efforts of practice completed, the members of the February graduating class of Jefferson high school, who are to present "When a Man's Single" tomorrow and Saturday evenings, are looking forward with anticipation for the rise of the curtain. For the past month the students have been practicing faithfully each evening after school in order that the production shall prove successful.

In the first act of the play the plot is laid. Eleanor Horton, a farmer's daughter, falls heir to a fortune, and as a result becomes the object of the attentions of Paul Briscoe, a New York lawyer, who needs the money. The latter goes to visit the Hortons on their farm, which is a typical New York state place.

Fred Packwood, as Pete Adams, a country bachelor, and Harold Melendy, as Jim Horton, a rustic widower, are the laugh producers. Elizabeth Knight as Nora O'Neil, the Irish maid, and Wilma Dittich, as Eleanor Horton, the heiress and daughter of Jim, display talent in their interpretations of their parts.

The second act of the play shifts the scene to Newport, where Paul Briscoe and be progressive." Again George S. Shepherd bobbed up with an amendment. Former Senator Charles W. Fulton took up the debate at this point, repeating the affirmation that the resolution was a reflection on the judiciary of the state and eulogizing government by political parties. Richard W. Montague denied this.

Name and Reputation Enough. Others who spoke were R. R. Dunaway and Judge Davis, who said: "I believe a judge is judge of all the people; I believe nothing but his name and reputation should stand after his name." W. C. Bristol, Robert T. Platt, W. P. LaRoche and W. T. Slater also spoke.

The resolution as it now stands is an emasculation of all the provisions of the original resolution and of the Reames substitute and commits the Bar association to favoring the general principle of non-partisan judiciary and nothing more. It is undoubtedly satisfactory in a measure to its opponents for this reason.

The election of officers came late in the afternoon, with United States District Judge Robert S. Bean as the choice for president. Bert E. Haney was chosen secretary, and Charles J. Schnabel, treasurer. For his twentieth consecutive term, "I make no promise for administration," said Judge Bean, "except that it shall be non-partisan."

Officers Are Selected. Other officers elected were: Executive committee—Oscar Hayter, J. N. Tsal, Albert B. Ridgway, W. M. Davis, R. A. Lelter, W. T. Slater and R. W. Montague.

Vice president, First district (Jackson and Josephine counties), Porter J. Neff of Medford; Second district (Benton, Coos, Douglas, Lincoln, Lane, Curry, A. J. Sherwood of Coquille; Third district (Marion and Linn), John H. McNary of Salem; Fourth district (Multnomah), Robert T. Platt; Fifth district (Clackamas, Columbia, Clatsop, Washington), W. H. Hollis of Forest Grove; Sixth district (Morrow and Umatilla), Will M. Peterson of Pendleton; Seventh district (Crook, Hood River and Wasco), W. H. Wilson of The Dalles; Eighth district (Baker), Gustav Anderson of Baker; Ninth district (Grant, Harney, Wheeler, Tillamook and Polk), James McLean of McMinnville; Thirteenth district (Klamath), John Carnohan of Klamath Falls.

Resolutions were passed indorsing the action of the last meeting of the American Bar association at Montreal, in providing for a conference of judges to secure uniformity in judicial procedure, and indorsing Cincinnati as the next meeting place of the national association. An amendment for section 4, article 4 of the constitution of Oregon, proposed by Senator Mulkey, was referred to a committee. Final adjournment was taken at 5 o'clock. The meeting began Tuesday.

CHAIRMAN CLOUGH IS VISITOR AT ALBANY

Declares That Purpose of His Visit Is Information on County.

(Special to The Journal.) Albany, Or., Nov. 20.—"The purpose of the trip is to look over the Willamette valley from the car window, to get an idea of what it is and incidentally to inspect the Oregon Electric railway. No other significance whatever is attached to our visit," said Colonel William P. Clough of New York city, chairman of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific railroad, who, with a party of eight other railroad officials, was in Albany Tuesday.

Shortly after 1 o'clock they left for Eugene, to return from there direct to Portland. In the party were George T. Slade of St. Paul, first vice president Thomas Cooper of St. Paul, assistant to President Hannaford; E. C. Blanchard, general manager; George T. Ried and J. B. Richards, general superintendent, all of Tacoma; A. J. Davidson, L. Wickersham and W. D. Skinner, railroad officials of Portland.

Members of the party highly praised the Willamette valley. It was Colonel Clough's first trip through the valley and he expressed himself as very much pleased with the country. The party arrived here unannounced. Several leading citizens met at the hotel to welcome the visitors and offer any courtesies. It was announced that the party was in a hurry to complete the round trip from Portland to Eugene, and the invitation for an automobile ride through the city was declined.

MARION COUNTY MAY BUY VOTING MACHINES

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., Nov. 20.—The county court of Marion county is considering the purchase of voting machines. County Clerk Gehlar has presented a request to the city council to cooperate in the establishment of such machines, and he has requested the state board of examiners, which, under a law passed by the last legislature consists of the members of the state board and two other electors, to meet with the county officials tomorrow to inspect the machines under consideration. No voting machines can be purchased without the approval of the board of examiners.

CALIFORNIA OFFICIALS WANT H. L. NELSON

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., Nov. 20.—A fight by California officials for the extradition of H. L. Nelson, under arrest in Klamath Falls, and wanted in San Francisco on a charge of alleged grand larceny, is being made before Governor West. District Attorney John Irwin of Klamath Falls is urging the governor not to grant the extradition, on the ground that F. J. Bunschuh, who has made the charges against Nelson, is issuing the criminal statutes merely to collect on a promissory note. The governor is waiting for further information from District Attorney Irwin before deciding the matter.

Albany May Get Meet.

Albany, Or., Nov. 20.—That the next state convention of the Oregon State Sunday School association may be held in Albany next April was indicated at the Monday night meeting of the Commercial club, when an invitation was extended by that body to the state executive board, which will hold its semi-annual meeting in Portland, November 24.

Ten Men in Siuslaw.

Eugene, Or., Nov. 20.—J. Roy Harvey, supervisor of the Siuslaw national forest, has returned to Eugene from Portland, where he made arrangements to employ a number of additional men in the reserve this winter, making field examinations of the land upon which homesteaders have filed or desire to file. There are now 10 men in the field, and the recruits secured will about double the number. They will work all winter.

Nelson Extradition Granted. (Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., Nov. 20.—Extradition of H. L. Nelson, under arrest in Klamath Falls and wanted in San Francisco on the charge of grand larceny, has been granted by Governor West.

Strength and Appetite Restored
This Brooklyn woman is now the picture of health, thanks to the wonderful restorative power of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and she cannot praise it too highly. Here's what she says:
"About a year ago I was down with a very heavy cold and I had a bad pain under my shoulder blades. I was under the care of different doctors, but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand, and I could not keep anything on my stomach. A druggist near where I lived advised taking a tablespoonful of Duffy's Pure Malt whiskey with an egg in milk before meals, and after following his advice I found that I could eat; I overcame my weakness, and gradually gained in weight. I believe that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a tonic for rundown people is a great thing, and I recommend it to my many friends in Brooklyn and New York. I cannot praise Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey too much." Mrs. Mary Carmody, 116 N. Elliott Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey
taken just before mealtime stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to healthy action, improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the system its full proportion of nourishment. This action upon the digestive process is of great importance, as it brings to all the tissues and organs of the body the nutriment necessary to their sustenance and indirectly to the whole system strength and vigor. It is prescribed by doctors and is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.
Don't let a dealer induce you to accept a substitute because it's cheaper. That's the very reason it is inferior to Duffy's—the original and only true medicinal whiskey. Sold by most druggists, grocers and dealers, $1.00 a large bottle. Medical booklet and doctor's advice free if you write.
