EGG MARKET LOWER WITH INCREASE IN THE ARRIVALS ON STREET

Supplies Greater All Along the Coast and Lower Values Are Forced; Last Year's Market Showed a Similar Condition at This Time.

> Today's Produce Trade Egg market lower. Chickens rather quiet Cheese stocks exhausted. Butter make heavier. Hop trade very quiet. Potatoes remain dull. Onions held high. Country meats steady. Many apple consignments. Orange arrivals heavy.

There is a weaker feeling in the egg trade again and a further loss of ic a dozen is shown for selected ranch along the street today. The top quotation this morning for candled eggs in the local market was 46c a dozen and the trade was not dar a dozen and the trade was not really firm at that figure.

As recently forecast in these reports the supply of fresh eggs is growing quite rapidly and there is every likelihood of very sharp losses in prices within the immediate future.

At this time a year ago the market began to soften considerably. While sales of fresh ranch stock were made as late as December 4 last year at 47½c a dozen, the same day the market began to break and values dropped to 45c and almost every day there was a further concession in value.

With increasing receipts here and the same condition in the north and south as well as lower prices at both places, the outlook is for a repetition of last year's sales.

the outlook is for a repetition of last year's sales.

While storage egg stocks this season are somewhat heavier than they were at this time a year ago prices prevailing now are higher. This therefore is a detriment to the present market, for ice house operators are making desperate efforts to unload and are likely to cut their prices to the quick to facilitate movement before the drop is too severe. This will therefore have a direct effect upon the price of fresh stock.

LETTUCE MARKET HOLDS FIRM

There is a firmer tone in the lettuce market, and most sales along the street are reported today at $2.50 a crate for best offerings. Another carload was reported in from the south today. MIXED SWEET POTATO PRICES

Various prices on sweet potatoes are ruling in the local market, with a big difference in quality of offerings. While some stock is being sold as low as 1½c a pound, best offerings are firm at 2c.

ORANGE ARRIVALS ARE HEAVY

Rather heavy arrivals of oranges are reported on the local market. Several cars arrived late Saturday, but were not placed on the street until today. Prices are generally easier, although tops are unchanged.

SICILY LEMONS DRUG MARKET

LOCAL GARLIC SCARE ARTICLE

There is a great scarcity of garlic in the local market, and prices are being held firm at 12½c a pound for loose offerings and 15c for strings. The for-cign stock which recently arrived has all been cleaned up.

Wistler Apple Bill Would Regulate Packing of Fruit

In an effort to standardize the apple box of the country, which directly affects the Pacific northwest, C. E. Wistler, the well known fruit authority of Medford, has prepared a bill which will be presented to congress during this session. The bill aims to regulate the size of apple boxes, just as the Sulser bill regulated the packing of apples in barrels. Much good has been accomplished by the latter, and it is generally believed that the entire boxed apple industry will be aided by the law proposed by Mr. Wistler, The bill was adopted unanimously by the state horticultural societies of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, and at the recent confrerence at Spokane was adopted with slight changes. Mr. Wistler, author of the bill, desires every fruit shipping and growing organization of the northwest to indorse the measure and send notice of such indorsement to him at his home in Medford, as soon as possible. The bill is as follows: "Section 1.—That the standard box for apples shall be of the following dimen-

WASTE PROBLEM IS INTERIOR GETHING BEFORE FRUIT MEN

Meeting of Interested Parties Has Values Are Again Above the Export Been Called at Walla Walla for December 18.

The coming meeting of apple men at Walla Walla, which will be held December 18, is attracting much interest from the trade. The meeting will be held for the purpose of investigating thoroughly the best methods of utilizing off-grade fruit that now either go to waste or else bring unprofitable to waste or else bring unprofitable prices.

H. C. Sampson, secretary treasurer of the North Pacific Fruit Distributors, who was made chairman of a committee to handle the matter of conservation of fruit waste, has called a meeting to be held at Walla Walla, Wash, December 18, for the purpose of making more definite plans. His committee will gather data on output, what percentage of the fruit is wasted, freight rates and assembling rates, and also will compile statistics of existing northwestern by-product plants. This work will be largely one of investigation, and the committee's findings will be presented either to a convention of fruit growers several months hence or to next year's conferences at the National statistics of existing and no sales for foreign account to next year's conferences at the National statistics of existing and no sales for foreign account to next year's conferences at the National statistics of existing and no sales for foreign account to next year's conferences at the National statistics of existing and no sales for foreign account to the price of the first had been account to the price of the first Strenuous efforts are being made by local interests to clean up without delay their holdings of Sielly Iemons with sales reported for best at $6.50, while California stock is holding at $7.50@8. The foreign stock is now showing very good keeping quality.

CRABS AND CLAMS ARE ABSENT

Owing to the storms off the coast, no clams or crabs have been available in the local trade for several days. This is a general occurrence at this time of the year. The salmon run is likewise being affected.

Another Rise in Values is in Pros pect, but It Is Opposed by All Who Have No Foreign Stock to the year, Sell; Increasing Supplies.

Strenuous efforts are being made by importers of New Zealand butter to force still another advance in the price of the local product so they can obtain greater profits from their alien stuff. By forcing butter prices higher at this time the manipulators would be able to kill two birds with one stonethey would secure more money for their speculative product and also force home creameries to lose money. Eugene, Or., Dec. 1.—During the month of November just past 42 carloads of fruit and supplies were handled at the plant of the Eugene Fruitgrowers association, making a total of over $50,000 worth of products handled dur-ing the month.
