

Let Us Be Your Christmas Counsellor--Confer With Us

Among Ourselves

A certain well-known monthly publication, distinguished as the mentor of American dress and social fashion, has been offering a free shopping service to its patrons, together with a long list of gift suggestions.

The list is interesting because it has been made up by discriminating shoppers from the wide horizon of the New York shops. The prices quoted are those charged in New York, as an example they quote a pair of rhinestone buckles at $4.50; an after-dinner coffee table and "Peter" the Kathe Kruse Doll at $15.00, each of these items are to be found here, identical with those of New York, with the prices the same. They also speak of the remarkable Chinese lamps, as unique, exceptional and rare. We have them in every style with prices in each instance trenchantly less than New York.

It is gratifying to us, to be able to prove our contention that the best merchandise in the world is assembled here for Portlanders.

Silk and Merino Underwear

That Women Like.

"It is because there are three kinds of thread in it," said the underwear expert. "The cotton thread adds to the wearing qualities, the wool thread to the warmth, and the silk thread makes it look pretty and keeps it from shrinking." Add to this perfect fit and you have a combination that spells satisfaction.
