

WILLIAMS IS GIVEN A VERDICT OVER HARD FIGHTING AL McNEILL

Walter Knowlton Gives Away Weight to Cronquist and Secures 4 Round Decision.

Never giving Allen McNeill a moment's chance to square away, and jabbing, hooking and uppercutting at any exposed portion of the Beaver star's anatomy, Walter Williams clearly earned a four-round decision in the main event of last night's smother of the Beaver Athletic club, which was witnessed by over a thousand fans. Williams put up the best bout of his career, while McNeill looked to be in only fair shape. His face was pale, unusual and considerably drawn. Williams was in the pink.

Working around the body in the first round, Walter took considerable of the steam out of Allen. Twice in the first round he caught the Beaver bantam going away and set him spinning on his heels. McNeill grew better in the third round but was slugged in the third and there seemed no necessity of calling for a fourth. There was not a second of the bout when it was not full of action, in that respect being better than any bout staged here recently. Whenever McNeill and Williams hook up there is something doing and it is hoped that they will be seen in action again shortly, when McNeill is stronger than he appeared to be last night.

There seemed little reason, too, for calling a fourth bout between Knowlton and Cronquist, both Pacific coast champions. Cronquist made 135 pounds for the lightweight and towered over him, but the fireman's greater experience gained him a four round decision. Cronquist scored but three clean blows throughout the fight, and these were not ponderous enough to overcome the lead Knowlton had piled up. He kept in close with his left and Cronquist was unable to fight the battle of which he is capable against a different opponent.

Referee Stanley McDonald, after repeatedly cautioning Allen to quit, butting in his bout with Monnier, finally chased Al out of the ring and gave the bout to Mon. The veteran was roundly applauded for his action.

Madden, of the Multnomah club, had Stockdale, unattached, on the floor most of the time in the first and second rounds, knocking him down six times, yet when Ernie ran a foul of a punch that started him up a bit in the third round, partisan fans "booed" the decision in favor of the brunette. You can't beat it.

The bouts resulted as follows:

Hewitt, Beaver club, defeated Santol, Newboys' club, 108 pounds, in two rounds.

Hill, unattached, decision over White, unattached. Two rounds.

Johnstone, unattached, decision over Felchtinger, unattached, 135 pounds. Three rounds.

Knottier, Multnomah, awarded decision over Allen, unattached, 125 pounds. One round.

Madden, Multnomah club, decision over Stockdale, unattached, 158 pounds. Three rounds.

Knowlton, Multnomah club, decision over Cronquist, Beaver club, 135 pounds. Three rounds.

Williams, Multnomah club, decision over McNeill, Beaver club, four rounds, 115 pounds.

EVEN MONEY OFFERED W. RITCHIE WILL STOP MURPHY IN 20 BELLS

Harlem Tom in Great Shape and Champion Plans to Keep Up "Gym" Work.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 6.—Even money that Champion Willie Ritchie will stop Harlem Tommy Murphy within the 20 round limit when they clash here next Wednesday evening, was offered here today by the Ritchie admirers. This proposition brought out quite a bit of Murphy coin. It was expected that the general odds on the contest would shift to 2 to 1 before the fight.

Visitors to the San Rafael camp yesterday were convinced that Tom Murphy is in great shape. He went several rounds with Frankie Edwards and Eddie Miller, and the boxing was carried along at a fast clip. The 70 minutes engaged in shadow boxing for 20 minutes and at the end of the session was not even breathing hard.

"Don't you think my wind is good?" Murphy asked his visitors. He was assured that it certainly was.

Has Champion Sized Up.

"Good wind is what has helped me out in all my battles," declared Tommy. "However, I know Ritchie is a tough bird to beat, and that is why I am training so faithfully. Remember, I saw Ritchie in his bout in New York with Leach Cross, and I have him pretty well sized up."

Ritchie was down to 135 1/2 pounds when he finished his work yesterday. He went through the usual performance of handball and rope skipping, and wound up with six rounds of boxing. The champion now plans to carry on his boxing work as late as Monday, and may even don the gloves Tuesday.

"I don't think it is the best scheme in the world to lay off from work two or three days before a fight," said Ritchie. "I prefer to keep going right up to the last moment, as it loosens up the muscles better."

Foley's Plans for Weight.

Manager Harry Foley, who is watching Ritchie's condition like a hawk, said he planned to take a half pound off his charge today, another half pound tomorrow and three quarters of a pound on Monday and Tuesday.

"Ritchie was never better," said Foley. "He tells me he is feeling stronger and faster than when he met Leach Cross, and he looks and acts the part. His frame of mind is all that it should be. He does not exhibit the least peevishness, and is not worrying a bit. If anybody is worrying it is Murphy. He says the Ritchie Cross bout, and naturally has something to worry about."

"I believe Ritchie will stop Murphy in six or seven rounds. Sunday will be his last day of hard work, but he will do some light boxing on Monday and Tuesday."

The Portland academy basketball quintet defeated Estacada team yesterday by the score of 28 to 20.

X-COUNTRY RUN AND TENNIS ARE ADDED TO CONFERENCE SPORTS

Washington State Gets Northwest Championships; Will Be Held May 29.

A five mile cross-country run and an intercollegiate tennis tournament have been added to the list of sport events of the Pacific Northwest College conference. The managers, who are in session here, voted unanimously in favor of these two sport events at this morning's session.

The cross-country run will be held under the auspices of the Oregon Agricultural college in Corvallis next fall. The exact date has not been selected. The tennis tournament will be held at Eugene, Or., on May 22 and 23. The events will be men's singles and doubles.

The appointing of a record committee also came up before the managers in the morning session. It will be the duty of the committee to compile all football, baseball, basketball and track and field records.

The 1914 track and field meet was awarded the Washington state college and Athletic Director Bender announced that the meet would be held on May 29. The managers voted not to allow the 16-pound hammer throw in the list of events.

The wrestling tournament will be held under the auspices of the Multnomah club during the last part of March.

Willamette's application for membership in the conference was postponed until the annual meeting in 1914. Willamette has an excellent chance of gaining admission.

The baseball and basketball schedules were divided into two sections, the east and the west. The baseball teams will play four games each and the winner of each section will play for the championship west of the mountains. The basketball teams will play six games between each college and the championship will be played east of the mountains.

RALPH GRUMAN SHOWS W. RITCHIE'S PARTNER HOW TO GET VERDICT

Portland Boy Reverses Decision Secured Over Him by McVeigh.

San Francisco, Dec. 6.—Fight fans who saw Avlong La Grave of San Francisco and Al Rogers of New York, middleweights, box four fast rounds to a draw here last night were convinced that it will require at least ten rounds for the men to settle the question of supremacy. La Grave shook his man frequently from head to heels with driving rights but Rogers managed to even up the score in the finishing. Rogers appeared stronger in the closing round than the San Franciscan and many believed the New Yorker would register a knockout in a longer contest.

Fritz Holland easily won the decision from "Stockyards" Tommy Murphy and Tom Nickola stopped Johnny Sudenberg in the third round.

Ralph Gruman, the Portland featherweight, who has been one of the busiest fighters down here, added to his laurels by reversing a verdict Jimmy McVeigh secured over him recently. He put it all over McVeigh, who has been helping to train Willie Ritchie and who has been boosted as one of the clever four rounders.

The other bouts resulted as follows: Tommy Stevens won the decision from Frankie Jones; Jack Vuchnick won on a foul in the second round from Sallor Carroll; Leo Creviere and Eddie White boxed a four round draw; Tom Wharton knocked out Hans Wagner, and Billy Murray stopped Sallor Machado in three rounds.

EIGHTEEN CHOSEN TO OFFICIATE UPON FIELD IN FOOTBALL GAMES

George Varnell of Spokane to Be Chief of List in Conference Contests.

After arguing for nearly an hour over an accredited list of football officials, the Pacific Northwest Intercollegiate managers this morning adopted a list of 18 names. The list includes every prominent football official in the northwest.

George Varnell, the veteran Spokane official, was named at the head of the list. Varnell was also charged with selecting the officials in case the coaches failed to agree on them.

The old rule still prevails in the selection of officials. The coaches and managers of teams can submit their officials. If they fail to reach an agreement two weeks before the game Varnell of Spokane will name the three officials from the accredited list.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE BRINGS BIG ELEVENS TO PORTLAND FIELD

Washington and O. A. C. Will Not Meet on Gridiron Next Fall.

Three games, in which college teams are participants, are scheduled to be played on the Multnomah field next season, according to the tentative schedule drawn up by the conference managers last evening.

The annual clash between the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural college teams will be played either in Portland or Corvallis November 21.

It is expected that if the Oregon-O. A. C. game is played in Portland 10,000 people will witness the battle. The place where the game will be decided this afternoon.

No game has been scheduled between the University of Washington and O. A. C. teams this season, because Washington will not live up to the conference ruling that games shall be played on the alternate campuses.

NONE OF THE BIG SHOW STUFF FOR OUR WALTER

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 6.—"I had rather be a day laborer on the Pacific coast than manager of a team in the big leagues."

This was the way Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland Coast League club, expressed himself here today when he admitted that an owner of a major league club had offered him the management of his team with the privilege of naming his own salary.

"I'm too happy on the Pacific coast," said McCredie, "to leave. Portland, too, is the best town in the United States, and its going to be my home always. And besides, I would never leave Judge McCredie, to whom I owe all such success as I have had."

BASKETBALL NOTES

The Christian Brothers basketball team defeated company E, Oregon national guard, team last evening by the score of 49 to 2. The playing of Williams, Powers and Sieberts featured the game.

The McLaughlin club basketball quintet will play the Silvertown Dr. team this evening on the Silvertown floor. Manager Dwyer will take eight players to the valley town.

Earl Wood, manager of the Silvertown team, and Coach Harry Cooper, former O. A. C. star, were Portland visitors yesterday. Manager Wood is anxious to arrange games with all college teams. John Bender said if proper train connections could be made and that enough games could be scheduled, he will gladly play the Silvertown team.

The University of Oregon law school basketball team will hold its first practice tomorrow evening. Three of last season's players have returned for the team.

MULTNOMAH POLOISTS DEFEAT PORTLANDERS

The Multnomah club water poloists drubbed the Portland Swimming association players last evening in the Multnomah tank, 14 to 6. The contest during the first half was fast and exciting, neither team scoring a goal.

In the second period, Multnomah's team work and the weakness of Bowen, the Portland goalkeeper, allowed the winged "M" players to tally seven goals. Norman Ross scored the first two by making long shots. Collie Wheeler scored three goals and McMurray and Kiernan each scored one.

Ernie Rosengreen, the star goalkeeper of the Portland team, was unable to be present and weakened his team's defensive play. The Portland team had not had much practice and want the remainder of the schedule postponed for about two weeks.

Last night's lineup: Multnomah Club. Rollier, C. Wheeler, Byrnes, C. E. McMurray, Ketchum, R. E. Spamer, Sullivan, J. P. Kiernan, Perry, R. G. Thatcher, McHale, J. G. Ross. Bowen, Bowen, referee, Scott and Gann, goal scorers, and Brocker, timekeeper.
