POTATO MARKET IS HOLDING FIRM HERE; WANT EXTRA FANCY

Demand From California Excellent for Better Quality but Situation Not Good Enough to Create Call for Ordinary Growths.

> Today's Produce Trade. Egg prices weaker. Chicken market firm. Jack rabbits setling. Lemon market to drop.

Cheese stocks scarce

Potato market better.

Salmon famine likely.

Onions held firm. The strength of the potato market is increasing. Quite a number of California buyers are in the field for extra fancy quality and even yesterday buyers were out in eastern Multnomah offering $1 a cental for best quality.

Offerings of best quality are not liberal, but there is an abundance of poor to ordinary stock that is being the form of the stock of offered to buyers around 65 @ 70c per cental at country points.

A small amount of business is pass-A small amount or business is passing with Arizona for ordinary shipping stock, but no special anxiety is shown among buyers there to purchase. Inquiries from Texas and New Mexico are coming forward but no business has passed for those accounts so far he aggregated today.

has passed for those accounts so far as can be ascertained today.

The strength of the market here is attributed directly to the better feeling in the California trade. River stock is no longer pressing hard for saie there and this has resulted in the big firms sending their buyers to this section. what the outcome of the present strength in the potato trade will be, even leading buyers are unable to say. They know that the market is good for extra fancy offerings at this time, but the situation is not yet good enough to create any material demand for ordinary stock from California.

BUTTER PRICE MAY WEAKEN

Within a few days a shipment of 7000 cubes of New Zealand butter is expected in the northwest markets and this is expected to weaken the trade here. At the present time the trade here. At the present time the market is considered steady.

CHEESE SUPPLY EXHAUSTED

Supplies of cheese in the local market are exhausted and local whole-salers are unable to say when they will be able to replenish their stocks. The storms off the coast are keeping the by Overbeck & Cooke Tillamook steamer at home,

EGG MARKET STILL WEAKER

While prices are showing no further change for the day along Front street, the condition of the egg trade s weaker and all indications are pointing to a lowering of values. Receipts

CELERY STOCKS ARE SCARCE

Stocks of celery are very scarce in the Front street trade, only two houses having any supplies at all to offer this morning. The price is being held firm at $4 a crate. Further ship-ments are due at the present time.

LEMON MARKET IS WEAKER

With California prices weaker and lower, price of lemons in the local market is being reduced. There is quite a wide spread in quotations, but within a day or so the best stock expected to be freely offered at $4@ 5 a case.

TOMATOES ARE VERY SCARCE

There is a great scarcity of toma-toes in the local produce trade. Some recent arrivals from southern Cali-fornia have been quickly snapped up and today the price is being held firm at $2 a crate of four baskets.

Charles Levy of Levy & Spiegl Investigates Seattle Public Markets and Says They Benefit the Wholesale Trade Generally.

That the public market idea is an | • • excellent one and that both the wholesale trade and the consumer profit thereby, is the opinion expressed by Charles Levy, of Levy & Spiegl, Front street merchants, after an extended trip to Seattle.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the real public market is of material • Denver ...... 8.10 benefit to the public generally," says Mr. Levy. "In Seattle I found the markets crowded with consumers. The public was able to secure practically all it needed in the markets. The peron with home-made cheese, butter or Monday son with home-made cheese, butter or in fact anything in the eating line, is able to go to the public market, and by the payment of a fee of 10c a day can sell the stock to the public.

"I found that the wholesale markets were benefited instead of being hurt by the operation of the public markets, because no peddling is allowed from house to house and the public must either get their supplies ublic must either get their supplies public must enter get their supplied from the regular houses or go to the public market. The wholesale markets were well patronized; in fact, I think that a market run on a similar than the public state of the public state. dan would be a big aid to the public and a financial success.
"I found fruits and vegetables better displayed in the markets there, sharpening the public appetite and thereby selling more goods."

The market for sheep was rather excited at North Portland for the day. There was a very heavy run over Sunday, total arrivals being 5409 head compared with 3373 last Monday, 2124 a year ago and none on this same day two years ago. a year ago and none on this same day two years ago.

Indicating the strong demand for sheep and lambs in the local yards was the purchase of rather liberal supplies of cars this morning. For both sheep and lambs the price showed a spirited advance of 15c for the day, top lambs ranging at $6.80 off cars, which means $6.65 on the fill, the regular mode of selling here. Top wethers sold at $5.65 off cars which means to $5.50 on the fill. Sales of ewes were reported during the morning at $4.50 on the fill, this being a sheer rise of 25c above former quotations. Considering the fact that today's run on mutton was extremely liberal the showing of the price was extraordinary.

FRESH SALMON VERY STRENGTH SHOWING LIKELY TO REMAIN AWAY FROM MARKET

Washouts on Tillamook Road May Prove Serious to Trade Here; Most Local Supplies Come From There; Smelt Prices Erratic.

With the disabling of the Tillamook road by the severe storms of the last few days, prospects are good for a famine of fresh salmon supplies in the According to advices, the road has been washed away in several places and it will likely take some days to repair the damage. As most of the fresh salmon now offered in the Portland market comes from the Tillamook section, the troubles of the trade can be easily seen. Only a very small per cent of the supplies are brought in from the Columbia river at this time and the storms on the lower river make fishing almost impossible.

The local fish trade is very much surprised at the tactics of local smelt. As a general rule the so-called Columbia river smelt are first caught in the Columbia river by gillnetters. Later, when the runs become good, the fish enter the Cowlitz, where they are caught in great numbers. This season the smelt seem to have been swimming unusually low in the Columbia and gillnetters report no catch at all
