

EXTRA GUARDS PLACED ABOUT ROYAL PALACE; SHADOW SUFFRAGISTS

Women Announce Plan of Making Appeal Direct to King of England.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, Jan. 8.—Announcement that the suffragettes intend to appeal for the ballot directly to King George is being followed today in the placing of extra guards over the royal establishment—and it was reported—the shadowing of several women the police thought were likely candidates to attempt reaching his majesty.

According to the suffragette version, the plan was to seek an audience in the regular way before resorting to militant methods, but Scotland Yard took no chances of a departure from this program. In any event, it was authoritatively stated, no audience will be granted.

In the first place, the king has no power to do anything. In the second, it is a strict rule that he may be approached concerning political business only through his ministers. Finally, it was said his majesty disapproves of the women enlisted in the suffragette movement.

To the British generally the suffragettes' announcement gave a shock nobody but a Briton can understand. With the almost superstitious popular reverence for the royal person, the idea of having it made a target for militant suffragette violence, perhaps, plainly impressed the masses as verging closely on sacrilege.

The king was understood to take much the same view and to have given orders that no precautions be spared to keep the militants at a distance.

PROBSTEL CLAIM IS AGAIN IN LITIGATION

128 Property Owners Want
Title to Land in Albina
Quiet.

When Circuit Judge Kavanaugh glanced through the names of 128 plaintiffs in a suit yesterday he found the name of his mother, Catherine Kavanaugh, on the list, and at once refused to hear the suit. The case involves title to 122 acres of land in Albina, bounded by Union avenue, Albina avenue, Fremont street and Morris street, and also includes part of the O. W. R. & N. R. R. yards in Albina, valued, it is estimated, at over $2,000,000. No other judge has yet been found to take the case at present.

The land is a part of 281.26 acres which formed the donation land claim of Jans Chapman Probstel and Wendell Probstel. Mrs. Probstel's share was the north half and it is in litigation. She died in 1887, leaving only two uncles and their issue as heirs. The uncles were George and Andrew Chapman, and illegitimate heirs of George Chapman brought suit and had a partition of the property. The property was sold and the present owners have sued to quiet title, on the ground that the partition was legal and they have had adverse possession for 20 years.

The Probstel Land & Adjustment Co. has secured the claims of the heirs of Andrew Chapman, and is the defendant in the suit. The defense alleges that the partition was secured without due notice to the heirs of Andrew Chapman, and is therefore void. Attorney G. Evert Baker, who, with Attorney C. S. Jackson of Roseburg, represents the defense, said that owners of about 20 acres which had been involved in the suit had settled with the company out of court. The plaintiffs are represented by Attorneys A. L. Veasie, Flagel, Reynolds & Flagel and Earl C. Bronaugh.

Posed as Adolphus Busch III.
Denver, Jan. 8.—Giving his name as John Ray Dew, Belleville, Ill., a young man who had previously posed as Adolphus Busch III was arrested charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.
