

COMPENSATION BILL HOTLY DISCUSSED AT STATE LABOR MEET

Not All Take Same View of Measure Covered in Report of Legislative Proceedings

(Special to The Journal.) Astoria, Ore., Jan. 21.—A communication from W. A. Marshall, a member of the Typographical union of Portland, criticizing the report of J. F. Cassidy on the proceeding of the last session of the state legislature, caused a heated argument on the floor of the State Federation of Labor convention this morning.

Marshall objected to the view which Cassidy took of the workmen's compensation bill, contending that it was not a detriment to the laboring class, and that the organization should not go on record as believing such. Speeches were made on both sides of the question, Cassidy taking the floor and defending his position in mild terms.

A. Madson of the Longshoremen's union of Portland was a supporter of the bill. On motion it was decided to place the communication on file.

The report of Lon De Farnom, delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention at Seattle, was read and accepted. The report of the labor investigating committee was read and accepted. President Hurd made a short address, in which he said that if all would buy union made goods there would be no need for much work on the part of organized labor.

The corporations, he said would then be the business agents for the workmen. This afternoon the various resolutions will be taken up for adoption and tomorrow nominations for officers will be made.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. W. S. Gilbert and Rev. Father Waters of the Ministerial association of this city addressed the body on the brotherhood of man and what affiliation would mean to the country at large. The remarks of both men were well received by the delegates.

E. C. Spence, master of the state grange, also made a brief address covering the work of the organization during the past year and its attitude toward the labor movement.

W. S. U'Pen, member of the state grange and of the Peoples Power league, also addressed the assembly on the labor question. Tonight in the gymnasium of the Moose club the Astoria labor council has arranged a smoker for the benefit of the visitors. The program will include boxing, wrestling, vaudeville stunts and "eats."

BOILER EXPLOSION AT OTTAWA FAIR KILLS 4

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 21.—Four men were instantly killed today in a boiler explosion which wrecked the Howick hall, where a winter fair was in progress. Scores of others escaped with severe cuts and bruises.

Part of the boiler was hurled through the roof. The bodies of the victims were badly mangled.

Will Study Civics, Hood River, Ore., Jan. 21.—Members and friends of the Unitarian church in this city have organized a Sunday Evening Study class at which civic questions will be taken up for discussion.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY RETAIL SADDLE MEN

L. Walter of Cheney Made President Again; Next Meeting Jan., 1915.

Election of officers of the Northwest Retail Harness and Saddlery association was the principal feature today of the annual convention now being held in Portland at the Imperial hotel.

L. Walter of Cheney, Wash., was re-elected president; F. E. Sanborn of Salem, first vice president; R. M. Coburn of Lewiston, Idaho, second vice president; A. F. Hoska of Tacoma, secretary and treasurer. Re-elected. The directors are R. W. Price, Portland; J. F. Fishwood, Silverton; C. E. Nye, Walla Walla, and H. T. Tobiason of Davenport, Wash.

While most of the sessions at this convention have been executive and the discussions pertaining to the most part to the trials and tribulations of the harnessmakers, the organization has taken occasion to comment on the advantages of the parcel post as they have been exemplified during the past year.

The next convention to be held the third Monday in January, 1915, probably at Portland, will be a much more elaborate affair than this one has proved to be, for it will be a part of the convention of the coming year that every member of the association is to manufacture an article, bring it to the convention and go into detail as to its cost.

Actual demonstrations are to be made of cutting leather to show the best methods. This year's convention will be concluded tomorrow noon. The local wholesale harness merchants will entertain the visitors at a banquet at the Imperial hotel tonight.

SKI JUMPING WILL BE SPORT OF PORTLANDERS

Shouting defiance to the awful avalanche and the incursions that spell death to the incautious, a party of ski jumpers from the Portland Snow-ski club started today for the slopes of Mount Hood.

Arriving at Hood River, the party expects to take a little mountain railroad and then a wagon and reach, eventually, the cabin above Clouds Cap Inn.

J. Wesley Ladd, president of the club, headed the party, and among the others who started were David T. Honeyman, Jordan V. Zan, Chester G. Murphy and Horace Macklin. Camp Cooke, guides and supply men started several days ago to get the camp in readiness and lay in a supply of fuel. The skimen expect to return home next Monday.

CHANGE IN CANAL PLANS BROKE COLONEL'S HEART

Paris, Jan. 21.—Orders changing certain canal plans were ascribed today by Philippe Bunau-Varilla as being responsible for the death in Baltimore recently of Colonel Galliard, the engineer in charge of the excavation work in the Culbraz cut.

"When Colonel Galliard was ordered to adopt the French method of dredging," said Bunau-Varilla, "he was so upset by the defeat of the American theory that he went mad and died in a Baltimore asylum."

NEW CURRENCY LAW WINNING CONFIDENCE OF ALL THE BANKS

State Institutions and Trust Companies Expected to Join Later.

(Special to The Journal.) Corvallis, Ore., Jan. 21.—At the annual meeting of the Commercial club held last night, N. R. Moore, editor of the Corvallis Gazette-Times, was elected president. The other officers elected are W. K. Taylor, vice-president; A. Murphy, secretary; A. R. Woodcock, treasurer; and R. M. Johnston and W. A. Hillebrand, members of the board of trustees.

The policy of the club as outlined by the local development committee is that its activities shall be directed toward internal development of the town and county by taking steps at once to survey the resources of Benton county and Corvallis as a preliminary step to the acquisition of factories here by making a vigorous campaign for good roads in the county and recommending that a "good roads" committee be made a permanent and active unit of the club and that the question of systematic and thorough drainage of the valley lands be seriously taken up.

In response to an invitation from the Independence Commercial club a committee of five were appointed as a delegation to represent Benton county at a regular meeting of the Independence on Saturday afternoon of this week. The purpose of the meeting at Independence is to discuss the bonding of Polk and Benton counties for the construction and maintenance of a state highway through these and adjoining counties. Professor G. V. Snelton, who has recently returned from the east, where he spent four months investigating roads, Ex-Senator A. J. Johnson, and President E. L. N. R. Moore will be three of the committee to represent Corvallis at a committee meeting.

Chairman of a committee appointed a year ago to investigate the feasibility of the installation of a municipally owned electric light plant, made a tabulated and complete report of its findings. The report shows that it would cost the city of Corvallis, or any city of Oregon of the size of Corvallis, $112,000 to install a steam, gas, oil, and distributing system. The operating expense would amount to $34,000 per annum.

OBJECT TO TEACHER, CLOSE HIS SCHOOL

Sheriff Appealed to and Case Will Be Heard in Court.

(Special to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 21.—Ten men and women of Gertrude, on McNeil's island, object to the school teacher, D. M. Wolfe, and have closed the school building at that place, after giving the teacher, D. M. Wolfe, an hour in which to leave. The trouble, which has practically the entire population of the island, outside the penitentiary aroused, is said to be due to dissatisfaction on part of parents with Wolfe's work as a teacher. A party of men and women went to the school-house, where they met Wolfe and demanded that he immediately leave the island. Matthew Adams, while the committee nailed up all the doors and windows.

Yesterday Wolfe enlisted the sheriff in his cause and had the boards torn off and opened the school. The arrests followed.

CORRUPTION CHARGED AMONG QUEBEC SOLONS

Montreal, Jan. 21.—"Incredible corruption among the members of the legislature at Quebec," was alleged in an article published by the Montreal Mail. It urged the appointment of a committee to investigate.

"We know," the Mail said, "that money has been paid to members of the legislature for legislation, which, on the face of it, is so subversive of the public interest that it needs no more condemnation than its clauses bear."

CORVALLIS CLUB WILL WORK FOR FACTORIES

Commercial Organization to Seek Ways and Means to Further Prosperity.

(Special to The Journal.) Corvallis, Ore., Jan. 21.—At the annual meeting of the Commercial club held last night, N. R. Moore, editor of the Corvallis Gazette-Times, was elected president. The other officers elected are W. K. Taylor, vice-president; A. Murphy, secretary; A. R. Woodcock, treasurer; and R. M. Johnston and W. A. Hillebrand, members of the board of trustees.

LOST CHILDREN, FOUND, HAD ODD EXPERIENCE

Roseburg, Ore., Jan. 21.—The experience of the four children of Mr. Matthew Adams, who were lost in the mountains east of Roseburg from Sunday morning until Monday afternoon, was unusual. The eldest of the children is a girl of 17 years, and the other three are boys, their ages being 14, 11 and 8 years, respectively.

Although they spent more than 24 hours in the mountains with neither food nor shelter they are little the worse for the experience. The Adams family live on South Deer Creek in a remote spot about 14 miles east of Roseburg. The children left home about 10 o'clock Sunday morning for the purpose of hunting for a gun and traps. The children have but little definite idea of how far they wandered through the woods in the rain and snow, but were perhaps eight miles from home when they were discovered by the sheriff Monday afternoon and found food and shelter. They spent the first night under a big fir tree where a camp fire which had been kindled, kept away some of the cold.

After spending the afternoon and night at the Baldwin cabin they started for home on Tuesday morning and met one of the parties that were searching for them.

GOVERNOR ASKED TO SEE WEST WOODBURN

Salem, Ore., Jan. 21.—A delegation from West Woodburn, against which a suit was recently filed to have the incorporation of the town set aside on the ground that the same was to enable the licensing of a saloon, waited on the governor yesterday and asked for further investigation. They said the governor had been informed about the town. A few days ago one of the councilmen was arrested for operating a slot machine.

LAMP EXPLODES, FIRE PROVES FATAL TO FIVE

Alpena, Mich., Jan. 21.—Five persons were burned to death here today when the home of Sam Blaise, a laborer, was set on fire by an exploding lamp. The dead were Mrs. Sam Blaise and her three children, Frank, 6, Sinden, 5, and a baby ten months old, and Danato Dalzamo, 30, a boarder. Blaise saved two other children.

PLANS ORDERED FOR NEW 'U' BUILDING

University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Jan. 21.—Plans for the new 'U' building at the University of Oregon were ordered by the board of regents of the university at its annual meeting in Villard hall yesterday afternoon to draw plans for the new $100,000 administration building and also the plans for the $75,000 worth of repairing to other campus buildings. It is planned to have the new administration building ready in February, 1915. The repairs to the other buildings are to be completed by September, 1915.

The work of the reorganization of the school was placed in the hands of a special committee. The establishment of a biological museum with one man in the field of zoology and one collector of botanical specimens was assured by the provision of $1800 for this purpose.

Dr. George Rebec was made professor of philosophy at $2500 a year, and Dr. Clifton F. Hodges was made professor of social biology with a salary of $1800, and was granted permission to collaborate with the state game and fish commission. A $900 appropriation was granted by the board for employment agency and book exchange needs. One hundred dollars was appropriated for the intercollegiate debating league.

WORKMAN ON TUMALO PROJECT MEETS DEATH

Derrick Falls When Guy Rope Breaks Under Load Being Hoisted.

Bend, Ore., Jan. 21.—Caught beneath a falling derrick, Bert Lindburg of Bend was killed yesterday while at work on the Tumalo project. He was a member of a crew of men removing rock on a cut being excavated for the feed canal. A large boulder was about to be hoisted when a guy rope supporting the derrick broke, and before Lindburg could get away the heavy stick of timber fell on him.

GASTON WOMAN DIES WHILE ON A VISIT

Hillsboro, Ore., Jan. 21.—Mrs. Ann M. Griebler, a resident of Gaston, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred A. Everest, in this city yesterday. Mrs. Griebler, whose maiden name was Butte, was born in England in 1841. She came with her parents to America at the age of three years, and lived in New York until 1864, when they moved to Wisconsin. She was married in that state in 1872 to Edward M. Griebler. They moved to Iowa, and from there came to Oregon in 1883, locating at Gaston.

Besides her husband, four children survive: Mrs. Florence A. Everest, Hillsboro; Mrs. Saprona Child, Boronia; Mrs. Maud Storey and L. O. Griebler, Gaston. Three brothers and two sisters and 13 grandchildren are also left. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock today. Rev. B. C. Cook, pastor of the Hillsboro Baptist church, will officiate. Interment in Gaston cemetery.

WILL START WORK ON CELLIO INVESTIGATION

Salem, Ore., Jan. 21.—State Engineer Lewis, who has just returned from spending several days in central Oregon, has been advised by the government that it has approved the contract for the cooperative investigation of the Cellio power project. E. G. Hopson, reclamation engineer for Oregon, has been directed to represent the secretary of the interior in the investigation. Mr. Lewis said the work will be started at once. Three days of last week the state engineer spent on the Tumalo project with Engineers D. C. Henney, Redfield and O. Lauegaard, the four acting as a consulting board to pass on plans for the completion of the project. Project Engineer Lauegaard was instructed to make some further surveys before a final conclusion will be reached. This may take a week or 10 days.

CLARKS OFFER REWARD FOR LOST CAPITALIST

Santa Barbara, Cal., Jan. 21.—Five thousand dollars' reward for information concerning the whereabouts of F. Lewis Clark, a Spokane capitalist, who disappeared from Santa Barbara last Friday, was offered today by A. N. Newberry, his brother-in-law. Newberry and Mrs. Clark do not accept the general belief that Clark committed suicide by throwing himself into the sea. They have offered, however, another reward of $200 for the recovery of his body.
