THE OREGON DAILY JOURNAL, PORTLAND, THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 29, 1914.

A very attractive showing of 18-inch Allover Embroideries, dozens of very pretty patterns, with firm, well finished and are shown in the most fashionable materials, black Caracul, black Astrachan and Plush; Peat's and therefore makes his homestead more valuable to him. The growing of cultivated crops will follow in due course of time, and there will naturally be garden cultivation and growing of some grain from the beginning.

"First-Can you clear 20 acres of your land in three years and have it ready for the plow, without hiring extra labor or buying expensive machinery or explosives, and if you cannot, please state why?

tatoes, or other cultivated crops on the 20 acres, could you sell them? If you cannot, please state why to your homestead? "Fourth-How far would you have set them?

meet the difficulties you are experiencing under the present law?

for further amendment?

gladly received.

get the views of as many homesteaders as possible, so that in the passage of this homestead bill all proper opportunity and relief is furnished to those who make homes on the public domain, and if you will give it space in the columns of your valuable paper you will render them and the state of Oregon an important and valuable service, and for which I express to

"I have discussed the bill with a number of representatives from public land states, all of whom have approved it, and I think all others from the state will support it. In that event. we will have a very material backing for the bill. W. C. HAWLEY."

POLICE SQUABBLE ON AT

South Bend, Wash., Jan. 29 .- Mayor Coulter's fourth appointment for chief of police made in as many weeks as he has been in office was turned down by the council at its last meeting, and the former chief, G. G. Hicks, still continues in office. Five councilmen, under the leadership of Councilman Ray Nettleton, are determined not to have Hicks reappointed, and they have turned down the last two men named, for fear that they would deputize Hicks and then refuse to serve. The men named for the place, besides Hicks, were: W. S. Tomlin, former street commissioner: D. L. Olds, plo-neer grocer, and John L. Myers, owner of a drug establishment.

INFECTED TREES TAKEN

Cottage Grove, Or., Jan. 29.-Two consignments containing about 3000 trees were seized here yesterday by Inspector Stewart, who found them infected with hairy root, crown gall and San Jose scale. One consignment was from Washington and one from Oregon. The first may be returned, but the diseased trees of the latter will probably be burned. Mr. Stewart is making strenuous efforts to keep dis-tase out of the orchards of this vic-