"HOG SPECIAL" NEAR END OF JOURNEY

Harrisburg Farmers Offer Feed Samples for Testing by College Experts.

(Special to The Journal.)

Harrisburg Or., Feb. 13.—Saturday will conclude the itinerary of the hog and dairy special demonstration train that has been operated through western Oregon by the Southern Pacific, Portland, Eugene & Eastern and Oregon Agricultural College prosperity evangelists.

Yesterday established the attendance record, 6700 Rogue river valley residents taking in the show. Returning to northern Oregon this morning the first demonstration was at the dairying center of Junction City, with 275 real farmers present at 8 o'clock. They were in part Danes from the colony of cooperators east of that city.

At Harrisburg 500 farmers turned out, the lard pails scattered through the crowd being filled with samples of feeds instead of lunch. All of the feeds were experted by Professors Barr and Samson and advice offered for their betterment. The drainage problem must be solved by Harrisburg people and the speech of Will Schulmerick of Hillsboro was considered timely. Mr. Schulmerich related the story of the accomplishments of Washington county farmers in unwatering their lands and told how easy and inexpensive it was to increase production 100 to 200 per cent.

The train plays Jefferson, Turner and Albany tomorrow, and then the animals will be returned to Corvallis.

STANFIELD MAN MAY HEAD ORGANIZATION

AGED MAN SENTENCED TO TERM ON ROCKPILE

Edward Smith, 67 years old, proprietor of a rooming house at 328½ North Seventeenth street, was sentenced yesterday in the municipal court to serve 25 days on the rockpile on a charge of vagrancy. With his long white beard, stooped shoulders and feeble walk, Smith looks much older than the age he gave.

The specific charge against the man is that he sought to have girls come to his rooming house during the evening. He has a crippled wife with a small child. This morning, Wilma Chandler of the department of safety for women, went to the home to look after the needs of the wife and child.

REV. HENRY MARCOTTE ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A.

"The Things God Has Prepared for Us" was the subject of an address by the Rev. Henry Marcotte, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, this noon at the Portland Young Men's Christian Association. He declared that it was impossible for us to have an adequate conception of the hereafter, as we must think of an infinite subject, God, and infinite time, eternity—facts that are beyond the grasp of finite minds. Dr. Marcotte will close his series of noon lectures at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow. His subject will be, "Dogmatism and Certitude."

Willamina Church Celebration.

Willamina, Or., Feb. 13.—One hundred members and friends attended a banquet given at the M. E. church Tuesday night to celebrate the completion of the new church improvements, consisting of new heating system, ladies' aid kitchen and large social hall and league room. Addresses were given by Editor Hart, Mr. Woodard, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Barnett, Professor Hatch, Rev. James Moore, district superintendent, and others.

Two Committees Named.

President Jacob Kanzler of the Progressive Business Men's club has announced the following "made in Oregon" committee to serve during the ensuing year: Chester J. Hogue, W. M. Knight, Joseph G. Gillingham, J. M. Wackrow and G. M. Leach. The following committee to cooperate with the Rose Festival association also was announced: A. E. Clark, A. L. Stephens, L. R. Bailey, Frank Barringer and Charles R. Frazier.
