

THE MAN OF DESTINY TO BE PRESENTED BY REED DRAMATIC CLUB

Collegians Will Offer Shaw's
Play in Men's Social Room
Wednesday.

Wednesday is the date which has been set by the members of the Cotuitarian Dramatic club of Reed college for the presentation of Bernard Shaw's "The Man of Destiny." The play is to be given in the men's social room.

The cast has been under the personal direction of Miss Josephine Hammond, chairman of the faculty committee on dramatics. Miss Hammond is an experienced dramatic coach, and is herself the author of the morality, "Every Woman's Road."

The part of the "Lady" will be taken by Lois Williams; Wynn Redman is to play "Quiseppe"; Edgar Piper is to fill the part of "Lieutenant," and Arthur Caylor will be "Napoleon."

The men's social room, where the play is to be given, offers exceptional facilities for an impromptu theatre. A staircase, together with the high wainscoted walls, provide a background for the staging that is architecturally true to the period. On account of the size of the room, the number of tickets issued has been limited to 125.

Some time in March the two Lady Gregory plays, "Spreading the News" and "The Traveling Man," will be repeated. When the sketches were given last December, they proved so popular that insistent demand on the part of those who were unable to see them at that time has led to their repetition.

Because of its elaborate nature, Miss Hammond's play, "Everywoman's Road," will not be attempted this spring. The club planning, however, to begin work on this production as soon as instruction begins next fall. The morality will probably be given just before the Christmas holidays. There are about 200 persons in the full cast of the play.

A committee is now at the work of selecting a play suitable to be given this spring. On account of the very lengthy schedule of student activities which has already been arranged, it is probable that nothing very heavy will be attempted.

Junior "Prom" Planned.

The first junior class in Reed college is going to give the first junior promenade. This was decided at a class meeting held last Tuesday, when the class of 1915, without a dissenting vote, decided to give a "prom" on April 24, in the new gymnasium. Kenneth Tomlinson will be in general charge of the promenade. He has been appointed chairman of the "prom" committee. Wynn Redman, Annie Jordan Harrison, Dorothy Walton and Arthur Caylor are the other members of the committee. Fancia McCoy, president of the junior class, is a member ex-officio.

Reed Delegation for Seattle Meet.

Reed college will send a large representation to Seattle on February 21 to 23, to attend the annual meeting of the Pacific Association of Sciences, together with a number of other educational associations, will hold an allied convention. It will be the first time that the Pacific Association of Sciences has ever held its meetings in the northwest. Among those who have signified their intention of going are: F. C. Griffin, Kelley Ross, K. T. Morgan, President W. T. Foster, W. C. Morgan, H. B. Torrey, J. J. Stahl, M. P. Cushing and S. A. Smith.

Harold Merriam, Assistant Professor of English in Reed College, has been obtained to teach English in the summer school of the University of Colorado. Mr. Merriam has recently published an important article on the "Duty of the High School in Literature."

Psychological Tests Planned.

Psychological tests are to be given to all the sophomores. The tests will be of much the same nature as those given in the present Junior class last year, and will be given for the same purpose—to learn the correlation between mental ability as it is shown in the grades for classroom work and as it is shown in psychological tests.

The class in experimental psychology will be put in charge of the tests which will be made about the middle of the semester. The tests will form a part of their regular class work.

Later in the year the class may be given an opportunity to test defective. It is the plan of the department to follow the Reed policy of cooperation with the city in this way.

The Reed matrons entertained at the home of Mrs. H. B. Torrey on Wednesday.

Mr. A. E. Wood, instructor in social ethics, spoke before the Reed college branch of the Consumers' League on Wednesday afternoon. He discussed the conditions under which many girls work in Portland, and said that these conditions would be improved when women gain a "sense of status," an ability to reckon the economic value of their labor. He suggested means in which this could be brought about.

Dr. Thomas Lane Elliot, president of the board of trustees, will have charge of the vesper service this afternoon. The musical part of the vesper program has been augmented. It will include a piano selection, "The Last Spring," by Grieg. The anthem is to be Paul Ambrose's "O, Love That Will Not Let Me Go." This service is held in the college chapel at 6 o'clock, and the public is invited to attend.

IGNORANT MISTRESS IS INDOLENT SERVANT

Washington, Feb. 14.—"An ignorant mistress makes an indolent servant." Holding this truth to be self-evident, the Housekeepers' Alliance of Washington has undertaken the education of its 200 members in household economics as a part of its general scheme to solve the servant problem and incidentally keep the cost of living within reasonable bounds. It has organized a "reference circle," which will meet once a month. Here each member will bring her domestic problems for analysis, and the bride may learn from the experience of 400 women who have celebrated her silver wedding.
