

NOTED BOW-MAKER BROUGHT FAME TO HIS ADOPTED STATE

F. S. Barnes Was Widely Known and a Recognized Authority on Archery.

Forest Grove, Or., Feb. 27.—F. S. Barnes, 75 years old, recognized by experts to have been the best bow maker in the civilized world, died this morning after a lingering illness.

Mr. Barnes was born in Rossie, N. Y. When the Civil war was declared he enlisted in the Thirty-fifth Infantry, company K, at Watertown, and served through the struggle.

Upon being mustered out of the service Mr. Barnes went to Oberlin, Ohio, where he studied watch making, and where he also gained some prominence as a stage director and actor. He was married in 1858 to Martha E. Bowen, and then went to Elgin, Ill., where he followed his trade of watch making. Later Mr. Barnes moved to Rochester, Minn., then to Fargo, N. D., and finally in 1885 went to Portland, Or. He was for some time employed by Albert Feldenhelm in Portland.

Through work at the bench Mr. Barnes' health broke down, and he gave up watch making. He came to Forest Grove in 1891 and gave all his efforts to bow-making, which he had followed as a hobby when a boy. Mr. Barnes learned that the Oregon yew timber made the finest bows possible and soon made a reputation as a bow maker.

Archery enthusiasts from many parts visited him and he and his vocation were made the subject of numerous newspaper and magazine articles.

Dr. J. W. Doughty, Tacoma, who last year won the archery championship of the United States at Cambridge, Mass., used a Barnes bow in his exhibition.

Mr. Barnes is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. A. U. Marsh of Forest Grove.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon.

BIDDER SAYS ERROR MADE IN COMPUTATION

When the dock commission opened bids yesterday for the construction of a plank roadway from the street to the upper level of Dock No. 1 the lowest bidder was the Reliance Construction company, whose bid was $512.

Today the commission received a letter from the company saying that in making up the proposal they had omitted to figure in the cost of the lumber and asked to have their bid changed. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The next lowest bidder for the contract was Jeffrey & Buffon, whose figure was $976.11.

WARREN ESTATE IS ORDERED DISTRIBUTED

The estate of Frank M. Warren, who went down with the Titanic on April 15, 1912, was yesterday ordered distributed by Circuit Judge Calkins, presiding over the probate department of the court. The appraised value of the estate was $390,623.65, and inheritance taxes of $348,221 have been paid to the state. The estate after payment of legacies, was ordered divided equally among the widow, Mrs. Anna S. Warren, two sons, Frank M. Warren and George A. Warren, and two daughters, Laura C. Warren, a daughter-in-law, and $4000 each to two granddaughters, Anna E. Warren and Frances R. Munro. The annual sum of $600 was left to Anna E. Blood of Everett, Mass.

VERDICT PECULIAR IN OPINION OF JUDGE

Despite Testimony of Witnesses, Jury Finds Dairy- man Not Guilty.

The witnesses say he did; the jury says he didn't.

All of which impelled Municipal Judge Stevenson to remark yesterday, "What a peculiar verdict," when a jury stated that it did not believe J. S. McKay, an Irvington dairyman, had delivered milk from his large cans to the individual small receptacles of his customers, although the court thought the point was plainly demonstrated in the hearing.

The verdict given was "not guilty, by reason of insufficient evidence," McKay being charged with bulk delivery of milk to customers when the city ordinance provides for glass bottles or sanitary paper cartons.

Another complaint will be filed immediately against the dairyman, as the matter at issue involves one of the most vital points of the ordinance. Yesterday's jury consisted of N. F. Brady, W. A. Lovett, W. J. Jameson, G. W. Dixon, E. L. Howe and C. W. Borne.

JURY IN ARMSTRONG CASE IS STILL OUT

Unconfirmed Reports Say Vote Stands 10 to 2 and 7 to 5 for Conviction.

The jury in the trial of County Superintendent A. P. Armstrong and his brother, Robert Armstrong, in Circuit Judge Kavanaugh's court was still undecided at noon today. The case went to the jury about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the jury deliberated last night until about 11 o'clock before retiring. Two rumors in circulation at the court house were that the jury stood 10 to two for conviction and seven to five for conviction.

Superintendent Armstrong and his brother have been under trial on a charge of giving secret information to Joseph Keller and Robert H. Craddock prior to an examination which the two took for police captain. Superintendent Armstrong was a member of the city civil service commission at the time. He is also under indictment for bribery and malfeasance in office on facts concerned in the same charge.

ASK O.-W. R. & N. TO RAISE WAGES OF MEN

Petition of Order of Railway Conductors and Brother- hood of Trainmen.

A general joint committee of the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen last night presented a petition to the O.-W. R. & N. Co. asking for increases in wages and better working conditions. The petition was submitted to J. P. O'Brien, vice president and general manager.

The committee has been in session here since January 27, preparing the petition. The committee is composed of J. B. Rhodes, general chairman of the Order of Railway Conductors, and H. F. Keller, brother of Spokane, and J. W. Ream of this city; F. C. Hanley, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at Portland; R. C. Seams of Spokane; J. T. Hughes of La Grande, and F. J. Damon of Portland.

"The petition means an increase in pay commensurate with the increase in tonnage that we are asked to handle with double-headed trains," said Mr. Rhodes today. "This increase is about 65 per cent."

It is expected that the matter will be taken up when Assistant General Manager M. J. Buckley of the O.-W. R. & N. Co. returns from Chicago.

OFFICER HANDCUFFS SELF TO FAIR LADY

Patrolman Was in Quandary When Found He Had Lost Key.

Patrolman C. E. Hewston now understands what is meant by the expression, "the key to the situation." In this instance, however, it was the key to his handcuffs as well.

Wednesday evening he called upon a young woman in his neighborhood about 7:30 o'clock. She had an engagement at 8 o'clock.

"Before you go," said Hewston, "I'll snap these handcuffs on you to show you how they work," and suiting action to word he snapped one on her fair wrist and one to his own.

"I've lost the key," then said Hewston by way of a joke, but the joke was on him, for the key was missing. The policeman on the beat was called, but his key was too large. Desperately Hewston dissected an alarm clock for a piece of steel spring. This attempt failed.

As the clock ticked on past the hour of eight Hewston picked and picked and picked, succeeding in removing the pesky cuff after an hour of genuine hard work.

It is understood the engagement was not kept.

GENERAL MAUD BOOTH WILL COME TOMORROW

Commander of Volunteers of America to Address Mass Meeting Sunday.

General Maud Ballington Booth, picturesque commander of the Volunteers of America, will arrive in Portland tomorrow, coming direct from Salt Lake City. Her headquarters are in New York.

The exact time of Commander Booth's arrival has not been learned by Major Starks of the local corps of Volunteers.

She will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett at Fifth and Yamhill streets.

She will address a general meeting Sunday morning at Taylor Street Methodist church. Mayor Albee will preside. At this meeting the mortgage on the Volunteers' Home for Working Girls, recently lifted through efforts of the local Volunteers, will be burned.

Commander Booth will speak Sunday evening in the White Temple, the pastor, Walter Benwell Hinson, presiding. Monday morning she will be met at Salem by Governor West and she will address the prisoners in the penitentiary at 11 o'clock. She is head of the Volunteer Prison Relief league.

Monday evening she will leave for

Baker Will Help Sumpter.

Baker, Or., Feb. 27.—A delegation of Baker business men and officers of the Commercial club, including President Welch and Publicity Manager Meacham, will go to Sumpter tomorrow evening to assist the mining town "boosters" perfect the organization of their own commercial club. Officers were recently elected, but the Sumpter boosters wanted some assistance in getting their work started, and the local club, which is a county organization, will lend its assistance in getting the new industrial body started right.

Concerning the Baking Powder Controversy and The Pure Feud Squad!

The Baking Powder Trust, in their desperate efforts to secure business and DRIVE OUT ALL COMPETITORS, are resorting to the most questionable methods of ATTACK ON THE PURITY AND WHOLESOMENESS OF CRESCENT BAKING POWDER.

These attacks are being made by a so-called PURE FOOD SQUAD, visiting the residential districts, by the distribution of anonymous (unsigned) circulars and by misleading advertisements.

The fact of the matter is, the Trust Baking Powders object to the growing popularity of Crescent, which remarkable growth and popularity is due entirely to the PURITY OF ITS INGREDIENTS, ITS CONFORMITY TO THE PURE FOOD LAWS, ITS FAIR PRICE, ITS WHOLESOMENESS AND ITS ABILITY TO "RAISE THE DOUGH BETTER."

We admit that this is a pretty hard combination for the Trust, hence their desperate attempts to discredit Crescent Baking Powder.

We also admit that it has been hard to combat the UNDERHAND, MISLEADING AND VICIOUS METHODS adopted by the Trust and its allies in territory where Crescent Baking Powder is being sold, which territory extends from San Diego to the coast of British Columbia and thence East, including New Mexico, Nevada, Idaho and Montana.

THE BEST BAKING POWDERS IN THE WORLD CAN BE MADE TO RETAIL AT 25c PER POUND. The Trust wants you to believe otherwise, because their product sells for 45c and 50c. The difference represents Trust profits.

We ask you to try CRESCENT BAKING POWDER at our expense. You can do this because if, after you try it, it is not entirely satisfactory, your grocer will refund your money.
