

REGISTRATION CALLED THE FIRST DUTY OF PROPER CITIZENSHIP

Good Government and Good Citizenship Synonymous, Says Judge Harris.

Apathy toward registration is due to lack of appreciation of the duties of good citizenship.

This view is that of Judge Lawrence T. Harris of Eugene, who is one of the judges of the second judicial district and who is a candidate for the supreme bench of the state.

"Registration is the first duty of good citizenship," said Judge Harris yesterday. "I am not familiar with conditions in Multnomah county, but I do know that the registration thus far in my county, Lane, is not what it should be, considering that every voter must register to be able to vote at the forthcoming primary and general elections."

"We can only have the best government by expression of the will of all the people through the ballot. Our citizenship makes the government. Our government is the result of citizenship. Good government comes from good citizenship, and inversely good citizenship makes good government."

"All should register." "It is the duty of every citizen to register. Every citizen who has the right to vote owes it to himself and his country to cast a ballot on election day. If every person who has the right to vote will express his or her views through the ballot, then, whatever those views may be, the result is that the election expresses the best views of a majority of all the people. Good government and good citizenship are dependent on the exercise of the ballot by all the people."

"It is for these reasons, then, that everyone who has the right to vote should register so as to be able to exercise that right, women as well as men. Their duties of citizenship are just as important as those of men, and to vote they must register. With good government dependent on good citizenship, and good citizenship being the expression of the wishes of all the people through the ballot, the registration formally must not be neglected."

Judge Harris expects to be in Portland for about two weeks. This week he is occupying Judge Cleaton's bench and it is probable that next week he will sit for Judge R. G. Morrow. Judge Harris announced his candidacy for the supreme bench in January, after having been unanimously endorsed by the Bar association of Lane county, the membership of which embraces the 41 attorneys of the county.

Made Record as Speaker. Judge Harris is a native Oregonian and has been prominent in affairs of the state since 1901, when he was sent to the legislature from Lane county. He was returned in 1903, and elected speaker. He holds the enviable record of never having had an appeal made from a ruling during his incumbency of the speaker's office, despite the fact that he sat in the speaker's chair during the trying times of the Fulton senatorial election.

In 1906, although a Republican in politics, he was appointed judge of the second judicial district by then Governor George E. Chamberlain, and in 1908 he received the nomination for the office from both Republicans and Democrats and was elected without opposition. He was reelected without opposition in 1912.

Judge Harris sits jointly with Judge J. W. Hamilton and Judge John S. Coker in the second judicial district, which embraces the counties of Benton, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Lane and Lincoln.

Meier & Frank's five-story building at Fifth, Alder and Morrison streets, built in 1890, to be torn down immediately, to make room for new 12-story structure.

From 9 A. M. Till 6 Tomorrow Night Meier & Frank's Will Be A-whirl With Shoppers

PROGRESS! A vital principle of The Meier & Frank Co. ever since it was founded in 1857! Coupled with the spirit of PROGRESS has always been dependability, good service and consideration of its patrons, which has brought about the loyal and continued patronage of thousands and thousands of Portland's people. And this splendid patronage has made necessary the present plans—the tearing down of the five-story building on Fifth street and the erection in its stead of a 12-story, Class A structure. Increased selling has made absolutely necessary the acquisition of more space—therefore the decision to build at once. In order to facilitate building we have leased the entire Failing bldg., across 5th, which will be occupied by us as a Temporary Annex until our new 12-story building is completed, where several important departments will be housed. The sudden decision of this company to build has called into being our Great Removal Sale, including every article except contract goods, Willamette Sewing Machines, Groceries, "Silk Maid" Hose, "Invincible" and "Samson" Suits. Meier & Frank's Gigantic Removal Sale is Now in Progress.

The great project we have undertaken—the building of our new 12-story building to replace the present five-story structure that we have outgrown—and the removal to a temporary annex (Failing Building, across Fifth Street) makes space economy imperative with us. Our immense stocks of merchandise simply must be reduced. And the incoming merchandise (orders just placed by our large corps of buyers, many of whom are still in the East) must be kept down to the minimum. And this GREAT REMOVAL SALE, in which every article (excepting contract goods) is radically reduced, is our method of accomplishing this feat—and at the same time allowing all the people of Portland to reap the harvest of economy that is possible with the deep reductions we've made.
