

MISS FLORA FLIRT AT THE MOVIE SHOW

Flora Flirt, without a bean,
Drifts into a "movie" show.

Alone she sits, demure and sweet:
Fate's placed her next an empty seat.

Quite soon a young man settles there,
Of Flora's glances unaware.

But when he sees her daring eye,
She finds him anything but shy.

He whispers that he's glad he found her,
And quickly slips his arm around her.

He steals a kiss. Up leaps the light!
A roar of laughter greets their plight.
The Moral—If you flirt just for a lark,
Be always sure to "keep it dark."
