

FORMER MAYOR ROWE, OREGON PIONEER AND RAILROAD MAN, DIES

Funeral to Be Held Tomorrow From Scottish Rite Cathedral at 3 P. M.

Ex-Mayor Henry S. Rowe, a Portland pioneer and railroad man, died at his ranch on Sauvie's island, yesterday morning.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Scottish Rite Cathedral, at Morrison and Lowndes, and will be in charge of Portland Lodge No. 55, A. F. and A. M.

Mr. Rowe was born October 11, 1851, and was in his 62d year. With his father's family he came west at an early age, and when he was 13 years old he went to work as a telegrapher for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

In 1879 he moved to Lawrence, Kansas, and went to work for the Santa Fe system. He was soon made general agent of that road at Lawrence.

In 1880 he came to Oregon and accepted employment with the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company.

He returned to the railroad business in 1893 when he became president of the Yakima National bank. Three years later he organized the Albion Savings bank and became its president.

He returned to the railroad business in 1902 as general Portland agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul line.

Two years ago he retired from the railroad business to devote his attention to real estate. He was elected mayor of Portland in 1909 and served until 1912.

He is survived by the widow and two sons—Donald, who is in the employ of Waddell & Harrington, and Harry, who is in the Seattle office of the Milwaukee railroad.

Praised Slayer of Calmette; Arrested

Deputy Thalamas of French Parliament Object of Complaint; Because He Condemned Mme. Caillaux Publicly.

Paris, March 21.—For having written a letter to Mme. Henriette Caillaux congratulating her on having killed Editor Gaston Calmette of the "Figaro," a complaint was preferred by the police today against Deputy Thalamas of the French parliament.

It was charged that the letter amounted to an insulting murder.

Ex-Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux visited his wife in prison this afternoon. He looked worn and broken.

With four police inspectors guarding her, Mme. Caillaux was taken this afternoon to the Palace of Justice for her first examination. She was both cheered and hissed as her automobile passed through the streets. The prisoner wore black and showed no signs of emotion.

Gril Held Prisoner Three Days in Hotel

Colored Man Is Placed Under Arrest at Tacoma, Charged with Forcible Restraint of White Girl.

Tacoma, Wash., March 21.—Held a prisoner in a room at the Wakefield hotel here for three days and nights, Belle Marsden, aged 20, whose home is in San Francisco, was rescued early today by Detectives Stuckaba and Kincaid, who at the same time arrested William Highgate, colored, on a charge of forcibly restraining the girl.

Miss Marsden's condition was so serious that Dr. Brobeck, county physician, ordered her removed to the county hospital. The girl is evidently suffering from the effect of some drug. When questioned by Captain of Detectives Smith, she was unable to hold up her head.

Tax Case Decision Not Given Today

Judge Cleaton Expected to Decide Sinnott Case by Middle of Next Week. Brief Delayed in Mail.

Circuit Judge Cleaton this morning announced that it would be impossible for him to render a decision in the suit of Roger B. Sinnott to restrain the Tax Commission from collecting penalties on deferred bill payments before next week.

"I hope to be able to render a decision by the middle of the week," he said, "but there are legal points which need attention. I did not secure the brief of the state until yesterday, through some delay in the mails."

The decision is being eagerly awaited by Mr. Lewis as tax collections have been slow since the suit was filed. Many taxpayers, it is believed, are holding back their payments in the hope that the decision will permit them to make their payments now and reserve the second payments until fall without being compelled to pay the 1 per cent a month penalty imposed under the present law.

Mr. Lewis said that he had hoped to have the decision this morning that he might have the case taken before the supreme court as one should it be decided that the present law is not constitutional.

Two large payments were made yesterday, one by the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company for $82,864.52, and one by the Ladd & Tilson bank on personal property of $44,037.

Mrs. Coe Fails to Wrest Alaska Plum

Dr. Henry Waldo Coe Again Awarded Contract for Care of Alaska Insane Despite Bid of Ex-Wife.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, March 21.—The Morningside Sanitarium company of Portland, Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, chief owner, has been awarded a five year contract for taking care of the Alaska insane at $27.50 per month per patient.

There were three other bidders, as follows: Alaska Sanitarium company, Sitka, $27 per patient; Mountainview Sanitarium, Portland, $29; Dr. Viola M. Coe, ex-wife of Dr. H. W. Coe, $27.50.

The board reported concerning the Alaska company that it was no better equipped to take care of the insane than in 1909, when it was a bidder, that freight rates are high to Alaska and the board did not consider it possible to take proper care of insane there at $27 per month.

The Mountainview company admitted it has facilities to care for 38 patients but promised to erect buildings to accommodate the remainder. The board considered it "doubtful propriety" to rely on this assurance. Its higher bid also was a factor against it.

The board reported that there was no evidence to show that Mrs. Viola Coe has a place to confine and care for the insane; that its investigation showed that the Morningside Sanitarium belongs to Dr. Henry Waldo Coe; that patients have been cared for there on a proper basis and no harsh methods have been employed.

The contract is awarded with the explicit reservation that it may be cancelled if the running order is given to the secretary of the Interior. It is provided there is an institution in Alaska capable of handling the contract. The contract begins to run January 16, 1915.

Reclamation Fund Advances

Washington, March 21.—Joint Irrigation committees from Ontario, Valdez, and Astoria, through Senator Chamberlain, memorialized Congress in favor of legislation providing for advances to reclamation fund from the sale of United States bonds.

Pensions Granted Oregonians. Washington, March 21.—Senator Lane was notified today that Orson Willard, of Cottage Grove, Or., has been granted $24 a month from February 13, 1914.

Oregon pensions granted: Mary L. Barnes, Paradise, $12; Kate Hallinan, Oswego, $12; Mary J. Ripper, Lebanon, $12.

Board Not to Accept Site at the Price

Action of Former Meeting Is Practical Result of Session Yesterday, Upon Suggestion of Chairman Sabin.

Acting upon the suggestion of Chairman R. L. Sabin, who expressed the belief that the offer should be obtained for a lower figure, the school board decided not to accept the offer to sell for $70,000 the 25.89 acres on Division street between East Fifty-second and East Fifty-fifth, as a site for the proposed agricultural high school.

In taking this position the board practically rescinded its action of Thursday afternoon, when by vote of three to one the land was ordered purchased at the price of $70,000 or about $2700 an acre.

The board's action last night, with reference to the high school site was unanimous and came after a talk by Chairman Sabin, who was emphatic in the conclusion that $70,000 is too much for unimproved acreage of this character. Mr. Sabin was also opposed to buying such a large area, contending that the 15 acre piece is ample for the purpose.

It also developed at the board meeting that the 15 acre piece known as the Tenny property can be had for $2500 an acre or something less than $40,000 for the tract. This price includes street and sewer assessments to the amount of nearly $7000, or a little above $200 an acre, which would reduce the cost of the bare land to less than $2300 an acre. It is this parcel of land was assessed at $1160 an acre, which is just about one-half what it will cost the board after the street and sewer assessments are deducted.

It is understood that the board is in no hurry to close up for a site for the proposed agricultural high school, as the school representative, in regard to the school, will be quoted by owners than anything so far offered.

Despondent Man Commits Suicide.

Out of work, out of funds and with wife unpaid, Robert Turford, 187 East Sixth street, yesterday gave up his struggle by taking his own life. He leaves a widow and two children.

Turford was a laborer, his last employment being as teamster for Clay S. Morse. He took poison in a stall of the Lyons livery stable, Union avenue and East Salmon street. In the man's pocket was found a letter from the Professional Credit Bureau, in which Turford was notified of a bill he owned the Hawthorne Fuel company. Immediate payment being asked. This bill amounted to $12.50, and was for wood the past few weeks.

CANCER CENSUS WILL BE TAKEN; FIRST OF KIND IN THE COUNTRY

Index Cards Will Be Distributed Among Various Physicians and Surgeons.

A cancer census, the first of its kind to be undertaken in any part of the country, will soon be taken by the Oregon state board of health, according to an announcement made by Dr. Calvin S. White, secretary of the board, before the conference of city and county health officers now in session at the Imperial hotel.

Dr. White described the proposed census in connection with the symposium on cancer which formed the morning's program of the conference. Index cards for gathering the data will be distributed among all the physicians and surgeons of the state, and it is hoped by next fall to have a reasonably accurate estimate of all the cases of cancer prevalent in this state.

To Check Disease. Dr. White's cards contain spaces for data regarding location of the disease, family history, in an endeavor to show the relation of heredity, habits, operations, child birth among women and the like. The census is to be taken to get a check on the chronic cancer in the state.

The morning symposium on cancer included papers on its prevalence by Dr. R. C. Coffey, its diagnosis by Dr. A. C. Smith, and its distribution by Dr. Calvin S. White. Dr. White's figures showed that cancer stood fifth in the death rate of Oregon, and that in several counties of the state it claimed more lives each year than tuberculosis.

Dr. White's cards contain spaces for data regarding location of the disease, family history, in an endeavor to show the relation of heredity, habits, operations, child birth among women and the like. The census is to be taken to get a check on the chronic cancer in the state.

It is expected that each community will organize its own plan of work and contest. So far as Portland is concerned, the Ad club will seek the cooperation of the Automobile, Rotary, Progressive Business Men's and Commercial clubs in concentrated work on the 10 mile stretch between Rex and Tigardville, in Washington county.

This is an entirely new road, entirely within the boundaries of Washington county, officials of that county have not had great interest in its improvement, because it does not lead to any important centers in the county, but is a trunk highway connecting Portland and Multnomah county with the entire west Willamette valley. The idea is that each club will be allotted a certain portion of the road, and the organization doing the most and best work will receive as award a prize banner, medals and indemnity lands.

The increased use of meat as a food was cited as a possible reason for the increase of the disease, while pipe smoking was regarded by some as a cause of cancer of the lip among men.

Barely Occurs Under 30. Cancer, Dr. Coffey pointed out, rarely occurs under 30, while the average age is around 50, and people seldom die from the disease who have attained the age of 80 or more.

A symposium on tuberculosis was held at the afternoon session. Dr. G. C. Bellinger, Alfred Kinney and Calvin S. White speaking. Dr. E. A. Pierce presided at the morning session in the absence of Dr. R. J. Ekinning, chief officer of Astoria, discussed sanitary conditions in logging camps, and Dr. C. J. Smith, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, spoke on "Hygiene in the Rural Schools."

Dr. Smith speaks. He pleaded for more consideration of the rural school, saying much could be done for the country school by a closer and more sympathetic touch between the county superintendent and the office of state superintendent, with the rural district directors.

"A few practical and inexpensive aids to hygiene can be practiced in the country schools," said Dr. Smith, "that will do a great deal for the health of the child, who of us ordinarily appreciates the danger in muddy feet being brought into the school room."

"From the mud that comes the dust that fills the school room atmosphere to the great detriment of the health of the children. Walks about the school yard will largely relieve this condition."

"Such aids to health as these can be as well maintained in the country as in the city and village schools. There is only need to see to it that the health of the child is not sacrificed to the school children and to advise with them."

Four Names Added to Subscribers' List

Eleven More Names Still Needed to Complete $30,000 Bond Required by Vessels Owners.

Eleven names are yet to be subscribed to the $30,000 bond required by the owners of the vessels chartered for the Portland-Alaska trade by the Portland Steamship company. Four names were added this morning through the efforts of M. Moesevich of the Chamber of Commerce, these being Emery Olmstead, F. H. Page, C. J. Chapman and O. E. Heints. Effort is being made to secure signatures of 100 Portland business men assuming an individual liability of $100 for each of the three vessels chartered.

FAIR COMMISSION MEETS

The Oregon commission for the Panama-Pacific exposition is holding a meeting today in the headquarters, first floor of the Commercial club building. Report from George M. Hyatt, special representative, in regard to detail arrangements in connection with the Oregon building on the exposition grounds occupied this morning.

Her engine is now repaired. Her engine is now repaired and ready for service, the gas schooner Enterprise will likely set sail for Salmon river, Siletts and Waldport with freight tomorrow. Captain Herbert Casaday purchased the schooner recently and has had her at Supple's dock overhauling her engines. He believes he has discovered the trouble which beset her machinery and that he will have no further trouble with the boat.

Uncle Sam Willing to Take Portland Bonds as Security

City Attorney Meets Requirement by Filing Approval of Issue.

Information that the United States treasury department would accept Portland improvement bonds as security if the validity of their issue were certified by the city attorney, has been received with elation by the city officials.

In pursuance of the suggestion City Attorney La Roche today filed with City Auditor Harbur a certificate that he had examined the record of proceedings for the issuance and sale of improvement bonds in January, 1914, and had found that all the legal requirements for the authorization and issuance of the bonds had been complied with.

"It is my opinion," said he, "that the bonds are valid and a general obligation of the city of Portland."

SITES FOR HOME ARE VIEWED Mayor and Commissioners Make Trip to Troutdale.

Preliminary steps for the location of a municipal detention home, for which $15,000 was appropriated last January, were taken today by Mayor Albee and the city commissioners, who made a trip to Troutdale to view on the way several sites that had been offered.

The party started at 10 o'clock and returned over the Sandy road. "We looked at four of five sites," said Mayor Albee on his return at the city office.

One of the sites was a tract of land owned over since, and consequently I cannot give you an idea of the result of our trip. We had a peculiar experience, though. When we reached the place of H. C. Campbell, on the Sandy road, one of the suggested sites, the house was in flames and we were treated to a nice little fire. Altogether we traveled about 40 miles."

DELINQUENTS ARE NOTIFIED

City Treasurer Adams Sends Out Assessment Notices. Notices of delinquency are being sent out by City Treasurer Adams today to those who are behind in their assessment on bonded improvements and interest on the same. By April 1 the city is ready to pay the bondholders the sum of $112,000 of interest on improvements.

This amount Treasurer Adams hopes to raise $75,000 the coming week.

Governor Is After Pacific Company

West Charges That Livestock Company Was Fraudulently Acquired Title to Large Area of Land in Harney Co.

Salem, Or., March 21.—Submitting a mass of extracts from Harney county records and maps and various abstracts of certificates of sale and entries of deeds, Governor West today charged that the General Crawford had taken action at an early date to recover lands alleged to have been fraudulently acquired from the state by the Pacific Livestock company.

It is alleged that the company has acquired title by means of dummy entries to about 27,000 acres of state school, and in the meantime, in addition to apparently getting this land by fraudulent means, said the governor, "the company has allowed the title to be transferred to Harney county. It has prevented investigation by preventing the useful application of water."

In the material turned over by the governor, the general is charged with use in the case is a list of persons connected with the Pacific Livestock company and its land transactions, who may be wanted for witnesses.

Mrs. S. Edgerton Called by Death

Mrs. Sophronia Edgerton died at her home in this city, March 19, aged 65. She is survived by three daughters as follows: Mrs. J. D. Morgan, Chehalis, Wash.; Mrs. A. C. Baker, Lum, Ind.; Mrs. Altona, Canada, and Mrs. Metta McElroy of this city, who is employed in the office of City Attorney LaRoche.

Mrs. Edgerton was born in Madison, Indiana, March 15, 1849, where she lived until 1868 when her parents removed to Kansas. A few months later she was married to Samuel Edgerton. Immediately after the San Francisco earthquake in 1906 she came to Portland to reside with her daughter, Mrs. McElroy. Mrs. Edgerton had a varied experience in life.

In her younger days in Indiana she lived near the southern border during the war of the Rebellion and underwent all the horror of border warfare. She was also a pioneer of Kansas in the days when the Indians were still troublesome.

Officers Were Tired. Pendleton, Or., March 21.—Stella Williams, squaw of the Umatilla reservation, who has probably been arrested and sent to jail more than any other person of her sex in the state, later worked in the mill. She is tired of continually arresting her upon drunk and disorderly charges, the police filed a complaint against her under a vagrancy ordinance, and she was sentenced to the county jail by Justice of the Peace Parkes.

Young Couple Kept Marriage a Secret

Friends of Joseph Stoffer and His Bride Finally Become Apprised; Event Occurred Month Ago.

Formal announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Lucile Schoenbeck, daughter of Mrs. Emily Schoenbeck, and Joseph Stoffer, a young railroad man employed in the local offices of the Pennsylvania system.

The ceremony was performed, however, exactly a month ago, and the young people kept the secret intact until a friend "got wise."

Miss Schoenbeck and Mr. Stoffer felt the folly of postponing an event of such importance any longer than necessary and so they took advantage of the Saturday half holiday, the Sunday before Washington's birthday and the Monday holiday and went to Kalama, Wash., where the formalities were celebrated in a most unostentatious way.

They spent Sunday and Monday in Seattle and were back home Tuesday usual, Mr. Stoffer at his desk and Mrs. Stoffer at the office of the Portland Brothers, railway contractors, where she is employed.

"We expect to keep on this way until I get my vacation," said Mr. Stoffer blushingly today, "and then we will take a wedding trip to Chicago, where we are both almost natives."

Adding to the effect of the Indian songs and chants will be the appearance with Mr. Cadman of Princess Tsaniana Redfeather, a full-blooded Indian girl.

Troutdale Cases Before Grand Jury

District Attorney Ryan Informed That He Has No Jurisdiction in Case Involving Three Saloonkeepers.

When District Judge Dayton yesterday afternoon informed Deputy District Attorney Ryan that he had no jurisdiction over the cases against John Larson, L. Helming and Bert Edmondson, saloonkeepers at Troutdale, the cases were at once brought before the grand jury. Each is charged with selling liquor to a minor.

Judge Dayton said that he would be willing to try the cases if authority could be found giving him jurisdiction, but that as the crimes charged were alleged to have been committed in Troutdale, it would be necessary to try the cases in Gresham before the justice of the peace, as the scene was in that jurisdiction.

Attorney W. W. Banks, representing Edmondson, first appeared before the court and asked for a continuance, but later said he expected his case to abide by the rulings in the other two.

The courtroom was crowded with Troutdale residents, many of whom were witnesses on either side, and they were disappointed at the outcome. The witnesses were at once taken before the grand jury and a report was expected today, but it was said that the cases would not be completed before the grand jury until next week, as other witnesses were desired. Among the spectators was Mrs. Hilda Larson, spectator of Troutdale, wife of one of the accused, and one of the prime movers in the start of the investigation which led to the filing of complaints against the three saloonmen. She maintained that the saloonmen were innocent of wrongdoing, and laid the blame on men to procure the liquor and gave it to the boys.

Attorneys Will Ask Procedure Change

Plan on Foot for Reorganization in Municipal Court; Commission May Be Appointed.

Attorneys and others interested in the municipal court are considering a plan of reorganizing the procedure in this court. The changes are so many that it has been considered advisable to have the city council to appoint a special commission to study the question and present a comprehensive plan of reorganization.

It is proposed to adjust the matter of appeals, attendance of witnesses, a parole system, power of the judge, method of filing complaints and many other changes long considered necessary. The question will be taken up early next week.

Engineer Wins Damages.

Damages amounting to $2500 were awarded Alfred F. Knight in his suit against the Southern Pacific by the jury that heard his case in Judge Bean's division of the federal court yesterday. Knight was an engineer, and was injured, according to testimony in the case, when his engine was derailed and turned over on him at the station of Rex, just south of the city limits.

Charles Wakefield Cadman. Princess Tsaniana Redfeather.

Charles Wakefield Cadman, who will appear in lecture-recital Monday evening at the Lincoln High School, is foremost in the ranks of American composers, having gained his claim to distinction chiefly through his beautiful idealizations of the primitive American Indian music. The Cadman music is in a class by itself, distinctly different in character and with a beauty and appeal peculiarly its own.

Adding to the effect of the Indian songs and chants will be the appearance with Mr. Cadman of Princess Tsaniana Redfeather, a full-blooded Indian girl.
