One of the most practical plans of land development is now under way in the Powell valley on the Mt. Hood electric line, east of Gresham. An excursion has been arranged to this land next Sunday, March 22, leaving First and Stark at 1:30 p. m., returning at 5 p. m. Tickets, 25 cents, can be secured from Ticket Agent, Lawson company, at 238 Oak street, or phone Main 7750 and tickets will be sent.

He is charged with having received $13.50 for F. G. Stoll and failing to account for the money. Although not admitted to the bar, Le Gette has been doing considerable small legal business in the district courts for a collection agency and the transaction in which he is said to have misappropriated the money was connected with work for the agency.

The pictures came into the court through the arrest of two girls that have been in more or less trouble for several months. The girls told the court the pictures were made in Calvert's studio. harshly treated by her husband and his relatives.
"Yesterday I talked to her a long time of her domestic life and the neighborhood environments. The investigation will be resumed this afternoon, and I will continue to make observations until I have reached a definite conclusion."

Reames Sure Woman Sane.
Dr. William House, another Portland alienist, joined Dr. Williamson in his observations this afternoon, and will remain in the case until some decision is arrived at, according to Dr. Williamson.

On the other hand, United States District Attorney Reames holds to the belief that the woman is absolutely sane.

"Realizing that insanity is the only possible defense they can make, after the confession from the woman, the government is doing what it can to forestall that defense," Reames stated when asked if the alienists had started making observations of Mrs. Hawley.

No statement has yet been taken from the woman by Mr. Reames. The confessions she has made were to District Attorney Walter H. Evans, Portland, and Inspector E. C. Cannon, and City Detectives Maloney and Swensen.

The preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner A. M. Cannon yesterday afternoon, Post Office Inspector E. C. Cannon was the only witness. He testified only as to the confession that was secured from Mrs. Hawley in jail, in which she admitted sending the poisoned candy. According to Clement, she admitted that she had intended killing the children, and had placed the poison in the candy herself.

Clement's testimony was undisputed and he was scarcely cross-examined by the defense.
Seated beside the prisoner as she sat at the table in the little court room on the third floor of the Federal building was her mother, Mrs. Robert Robinson, a little woman somberly dressed in black.

Throughout the hearing Mrs. Hawley sat with tense face, and time after time, as Clement stated the statements against her, she would glare vindictively at him, her eyes half closed, her hands clutching the table, her chair or nervous, feeling that she was being unfairly treated.

Spaulding said if evidence against District Attorney Godwin and Sheriff Ed Reid is offered by the governor, it will be considered next Tuesday, the grand jury having been dismissed until that time.

Governor West has been informed that the evidence against the local office of the grand jury has been dropped unless Colonel Lawson is on hand Tuesday to testify. The governor maintains that Colonel Lawson's presence at Baker is desired so that by the government to hold the woman, but Commissioner Cannon held otherwise.

Immediately after the hearing, Mrs. Hawley's attorney told Reames that the defense would be insanity.
This morning Postoffice Inspector Cannon finished the investigation of the poison bottle found in the back yard on Morrison street between the river and the head of the street at the Multnomah club grounds. He failed to find any notation of the purchase by Mrs. Hawley of the bi-chloride of mercury, as she stated in her confession.

Detectives Swensen and Maloney, with Inspector Cannon and District Attorney Evans, went to the house at 706 1/2 Fifty-fifth avenue southeast, where the bottle was found, and there found the poison bottle and remains of the tablets in the bottle, lying among the ashes in the kitchen range. The ashes were taken out in the back yard and dumped on the ground. Among them were found many crystals of the mercury tablets that had melted in the heat.

One of the tablets had fallen through the grate into the ash pan when the bottle was thrown into the stove by the woman before her arrest Thursday night, and had not been burned. The bottle was red hot, but none of it had melted. It is now in Clement's possession. It is an ordinary brown poison bottle, with the notched edges and the word "Poison" blown in the glass sides.

WATER METERS CAN BE BOUGHT WITHOUT DISPOSING OF BONDS

Current Revenue Will Supply Present Needs, Says Commissioner Daly, in Address

Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, told the North Portland Commercial club last night that it will not be necessary to sell water bonds to buy water meters.
"We can buy the meters needed now out of current revenues," said he. "There will be no need of need of selling bonds or paying interest. We have enough money out of the water revenues not only to pay for the 5000 meters authorized by ordinance recently, but the 10,000 which must be installed this summer at places where the sprinkling privilege is desired if we are to give good service. The water bureau cannot give good service this summer, unless these meters are installed at least 12 districts of this city, unless these meters are installed."

Statements Are Rebutted.
Commissioner Daly said that the cost of purchasing meters for every service in the city will not exceed $400,000, thereby meeting the constantly circulated misstatements of the Oregonian and the meter referendum committee that the cost of meters will be $500,000. He called attention to the fact that the ordinance passed by the council does not authorize the metering of all water services, but only 5000, thus nullifying the report circulated by anti-meter forces that without the referendum, half a million dollars will be spent and all services metered.

Audience in Sympathy.
Mr. Daly talked to an audience almost wholly in sympathy with him. J. W. Conway, chairman of the anti-meter committee, who had come, it is said, to confuse the commissioner with a volume of ambiguously worded questions, had his own methods turned against him by retorts of those in the audience, while at the same time Mr. Daly manifested entire ability to sustain the water bureau's position that metering water services is the only way to serve water consumers equitably, uniformly and with true economy. The meeting was held in the North Portland branch library.

Complaints of consignees that eggs shipped in orange and lemon boxes, are subject to considerable loss through breakage will be discussed at the meeting of the North Coast Weighing association to be held in Portland within a few days. Attorneys for the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway, today are drawing up a contract which will be presented to the city commission authorizing the company to construct a temporary freight house on the east side, to be used until the permanent building to be built at Union avenue and Morrison street. The building as proposed would be covered with corrugated iron.

The Oregon Electric railway has announced a fare-and-one-third rate to the military inspection camp at Corvallis, May 8. This rate was met by the Southern Pacific. Lieutenant Hennessy, commandant of the battalion, expects to make the event quite a function and has arranged for a high officer of the railway to make an inspection. Excursions will be run for several valley towns.

E. L. Copeland, treasurer of the Santa Fe railway, is expected back from Seattle tomorrow and will spend the day and Monday in Portland. He passed through on Thursday and was a guest here. Copeland, who he knew intimately at his home in Topeka.

Blaze in St. Vincent's Hospital Caused Removal of Few Patients; Scow House Destroyed; Damage Small.
High wind yesterday was the cause of several local fires, many of which were serious. What at first appeared dangerous was the blaze at the Oregon Box & Manufacturing company plant at 1325 Macadam street. This blaze was in the horse barn, but was extinguished quickly. The cause is thought to have been a spark blown into the barn. Two hours inside were removed. There are several buildings near, including the dry kiln, shingle mill and the lumber yards of Jones' sawmill.

At St. Vincent's hospital, a blaze was discovered in the ceiling of the first floor, directly under room No. 214. It is thought a cigar may have been thrown behind a radiator in this room, and burned slowly until it reached dry timber. The damage was about $400. Four patients in the room were removed.

Christ Alfson, a scow dweller at the foot of Idaho street, went home last evening to find his place in ruins. The chimney to the scow blew over, allowing sparks to set fire to the roof. An awning at 153 Second street caused another run for the department. Fire was also discovered in the roof of an apartment building at 352 East Ankeny street, owned by Dr. Frank I. Ball. The damage was about $500.

DEMAND FOR LABORERS
A possible solution of the unemployment problem is contained in a communication which Mayor Albee received today from Mark Woodruff, who states that in a recent visit to Independence and vicinity he found that there was a great demand for laborers in that vicinity by hop growers who are getting their vines into shape. The prevailing wage is $1.50 per day with board and lodging. Owing to the fact that school is still in session it is impossible to get boys to do the work.

FACE A SIGHT WITH ERUPTION RESINOL CURED
Itched and Burned Until Resinol Brought Relief at Once.
Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 5, 1913: "I had a small pimple on the side of my face, and it kept getting larger and larger. It had spread over one cheek, and as it would spread water would come from it and every place the water would touch, another sore would form. It itched and burned and my face was a sight. I used several salves and ointments that were recommended, but none helped, until I tried Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, which relieved me at once, and after using it about two weeks, my face was entirely clear. I cannot praise Resinol enough." (Signed) Mrs. Rose Muller, 1313 Snyder ave.
