

M'CREDIE WILL SEND HIS PHENOM AGAINST DUSKY GIANTS TODAY

Frambach Will Be Put to the Acid Test; Nick Pleas'd With Colts' Work.

Santa Maria, Cal., March 21.—Fred Frambach, the Idaho phenom who is picked as one of the regulars of the 1914 Beaver twirling staff, will undergo the acid test this afternoon when he faces the Chicago Colored Giants.

The line-up of the Beavers will be: Speas, left field; Ryan, center; Doane, right field; Brashear, first base; Rodgers, second base; Davis, shortstop; Kores, third base; Haworth, catcher; and Frambach, pitcher. M'Credie may decide to give young Perkins a chance to show his worth in the last couple of innings of today's battle.

Although yesterday was supposed to be the day of rest, the entire squad with the exception of Fisher and Derrick, limbered up for a half an hour during the morning. Hi Wrenley and Herriok had some arms but are taking good care of them and hope to be in good shape at the start of the season.

The squad visited the oil fields, 14 miles south of here, yesterday.

Santa Rosa, Cal., March 21.—The Portland Colts regulars defeated the Yamligans yesterday in a six inning practice game by the score of 7 to 1. The Indian twirler, Battiste, was on the mound for the Yamligans and acted like a veteran. He caught two players napping off first base.

Earl Hausman started with the stick, grabbing three hits in three times up. Catcher Coleman and outfielder Whitte secured a duo of hits and altogether Manager Nick was much pleased with the showing of his athletes.

Fischers, Hanson, Hranley and O'Donnell worked out yesterday before Manager Nick, but none of them attempted to put anything on the ball, each being content to give the outfielders a little work.

Tomorrow the Colts will play the Sebastopol nine. Frank Kestley is expected to join the squad tomorrow.

STRAINED LIGAMENT FORCES MIEBUS OUT OF BOXING FINALS

Portland Athlete's Mishap Occurs During Bout With Doyle.

Los Angeles, March 21.—There is gloom today in the camp of the Multnomah club, as the 150-pounder, Earl Miebus, amateur heavyweight champion of the coast, is out of the running in the championship tournament being decided here. Miebus wrenched his arm during a bout last night and cannot participate in the finals, which are scheduled for tonight.

Miebus' injury came in the second round of his match with L. C. Doyle of Los Angeles. The Portlander had floored Doyle twice in the opening round, but the Los Angeles man came back strong in the second, and soon had Miebus groggy. Doyle became careless, however, and Miebus, summoning all of his strength, swung a right haymaker home and put his man away. The blow pulled loose a ligament in his arm.

The "Winged-M" club men won one wrestling and one boxing event, but it is the opinion of many that Mademoiselle, of Multnomah, should have had a decision over Carl Harris, in the 158 pound boxing class.

Ernie Madden, weighing 127 pounds, defeated Jones, a Seattle club lightweight, with ease. The Multnomah boxer was too fast and clever for the Sound City boy. Byers, of Multnomah, lost a three round decision to Gleason, of Seattle.

Ernie Madden, after knocking Cal Harris down two times in the first round, had him harrasing on the going out the second round, lost to the Seattle club middleweight.

MORAN IS CONFIDENT HE IS GOING TO WIN MILL WITH JOHNSON

Big Smoke Declared to Be Fat and to Have Lost His Golden Smile.

By Hal Sheridan. New York, March 21.—If confidence cuts any ice, Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, should win his fight against Jack Johnson, to be staged in Paris late in June. Moran, who has just returned to his native land for a brief visit, says the big smoke has lost his famous "golden smile" and weighs about 250 pounds.

"It is magnificent to look at," said Moran, "but that lets him out. He's ripe for the big picking and I'm tickled to death at the chance of doing the plucking. Johnson is nearly 40 years old and I have an idea that he will be unable to step 10 rounds at any sort of clip."

"I am going to win the title and when I do I will defend it against all comers. The first man I want to meet after the Johnson match is Gunboat Smith. I want to wipe out that little defeat he registered against me at San Francisco."

INFELDERS GOOD

Reports received from the Giants' spring training camp at Marlin Springs say the work of infielders Dyer and Stock has made Manager McGraw forget all about Art Shaffer, who says he has "quit the game for keeps," and Herzog, the new manager of the Cincinnati Reds. McGraw says Dyer looms up as the likeliest looking recruit he has garnered in years.

"I look for this kid to stick," says McGraw, "and unless something unforeseen occurs, he will be the Giants' regular third baseman. He will, I forget there were ever such men as Shaffer and Herzog when they see Dyer and Stock in action."

Gallant and Watson Draw.

San Francisco, March 21.—Inability to measure his opponent and put over the crusher when he had his man all but out, was educational in character and devote his time toward turning out a good team at the Hill academy.

Leach Slowing Up.

New York, March 21.—Local sport critics believed today the days of Leach Cross as a ring star were numbered, as his fight with Ed Moran, last night against Young Shugrue in a 10 round contest. Although Cross weighed several pounds more than his opponent, Young Shugrue was better in the eight or ten rounds. Cross seemed unable to get started.

Albany, Or., March 21.—Merely to show her lack of love, Mrs. Emma A. Strange allowed a man named Johnson, roamer in the Strange home, to cut off the hair of her 11-year-old daughter, despite her husband's protest, alleges E. L. Strange, the husband in a suit for divorce filed in the Linn county circuit court yesterday. The couple have been married 23 years and the husband asks a divorce on the grounds of desertion. "Money, money, more money," was the wife's daily complaint is another allegation.

They were "under" at Corvallis. There are four children. The plaintiff asks the custody of the two boys. He alleges that his wife deserted him on March 19, taking the two girls and going to Portland to reside.

Commission at Albany.

Albany, Or., March 21.—The railroad commission met here yesterday afternoon to take testimony in the case involving the proposed connection of tracks of the Oregon Electric with the Southern Pacific and Corvallis & Eastern lines in Albany. The case is the result of a complaint filed by John Willis, W. L. Chambers and E. A. Chambers, farmers and woodchoppers of Syracuse district, five miles north-east of Albany, who desire a connection of tracks that will permit movement of a car from the system to the other, and thus bring about more direct routing for cars.

The Southern Pacific company is opposed to the proposed connection. The Oregon Electric officials have stated that they will not oppose "any reasonable order" in the matter.

Grapplers representing the Oregon Agricultural college, Washington State college and University of Washington will vie for the Pacific Northwest intercollegiate wrestling championship titles tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Multnomah club gymnasium. In last night's preliminary events, the O. A. C. mat men won five bouts and the W. S. C. and U. of W. athletes each won four bouts. The University of Oregon athletes were eliminated.

Two accidents marked last night's program. L. H. Jackson of the University of Oregon team fell across a table leg and made two inch gash in his head. The wound is not a serious one. Amount of O. A. C. suffered a dislocated elbow in his match with the University of Washington. He finished third in the burdle event.

His retirement will weaken the club's chances of capturing the Pacific Northwest championship this year, unless some good new athletes register at the club.

Carpentier vs. Jeanette. Paris, March 21.—George Carpentier, the French light heavyweight, will be given the acid test here tonight when he met Joe Jeanette, the giant negro fighter, in a scheduled 20 round bout. If Carpentier should be lucky enough to stow the smoke away he will be given a match with Jack Johnson. The betting, however, favors Jeanette. Americans here expected him to stop the Frenchman before the bout has gone many rounds.

Martin Hawkins, chairman of the outdoor athletic committee of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club and one of the best hurdlers developed in the northwest, has retired from active track and field competition. The former University of Oregon athlete will give all his attention toward turning out a winning team for the club team this season.

The retirement of Hawkins is for good. He stated yesterday that he would not return to active competition this season, next or any other season. Hawkins was a very consistent performer in the hurdles, while attending the University of Oregon, being one of the highest point winners of the lemon and yellow team every season that he was under Bill Hayward. Last season he scored a great number of the points registered by the "Winged M" team.

Hawkins has a record of 15 1-5 seconds for the high hurdles and is holder of the Pacific Northwest association record for the 220 yard low hurdles. Hawkins is also a consistent performer in the broad jump and javelin events. In 1912 he was a member of the United States Olympic team, which won the world's track and field championship. He finished third in the burdle event.

His retirement will weaken the club's chances of capturing the Pacific Northwest championship this year, unless some good new athletes register at the club.

Clash Expected Between Tener and N. L. Owners. President Refuses to Allow Thomas to Act as President of Cubs.

New York, March 21.—A clash between Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania, president of the National league, and the club owners was reported imminent today.
