

What Society is Doing BY NONA LAWLER

MISS DOROTHY HUBER was an informal hostess today when she honored Miss Mildred Honeyman, bride-elect of Charles C. Hindman, with a luncheon of eight covers. Miss Honeyman and the hostess' most intimate friends circled the board. The table was most attractively decked with a huge cluster of daffodils and a corsage bouquet of violets and gossamer rose buds marked each place. Miss Honeyman has set April 2 for her wedding day. The ceremony will be an elaborate affair at the First Presbyterian church, and will be followed by a large reception at the home of the bride's father, Thomas D. Honeyman.

Reception to Mr. Cadman and Princess Redfeather.

A most delightful evening was passed last night when a large number of musical folk gathered to meet Princess Tainina Redfeather, mezzo soprano, the beautiful Indian girl and the distinguished composer accompanist, Charles Wakefield Cadman, who were guests of honor at an informal reception tendered them by the Monday Musical club in the parlors of the Hotel Multnomah.

The affair was strictly informal and lasted until both artists were obliged to leave for the southbound train. The president of the club assisted by Mrs. Lillian Conser received. An enjoyable impromptu program was given by the guests. Vocal numbers were contributed by Harold Hurlbut, Mrs. Herman Bohman, Louis Szel, Frank W. Gorman and Warren Erwin, and a reading was given by Mrs. Herbert Garr Reed.

Princess Redfeather and Mr. Cadman then graciously gave a number of their beautiful Indian songs. Mr. Cadman also spoke of the work of the National Federation of Musical clubs and the biennial to be held in Los Angeles the latter part of June in 1915. He explained the aim and purposes of the federation in its great work of promotion of musical art and the support and encouragement of American compositions. At this meeting in Los Angeles, which is to be quite wonderful in the gathering together of all the noted musical people of America a $10,000 prize is to be awarded for the best American grand opera and $2000 is to be spent in prizes for the best American symphony, vocal and instrumental compositions.

In closing Mr. Cadman urged the great necessity of the harmonious cooperation of the entire musical fraternity of each city in the carrying out of the great work of the federation.

Mrs. Russell Dorr, a member of the Monday Musical club and who was a former president of the National Federation of Musical clubs, told of the birth and growth of the National Federation of Musical clubs.

Princess Redfeather sang as a farewell "The Moon Drops Low," and she looked a beautiful picture in her native costume, a wine colored robe of buckskin artistically beaded in white and turquoise beads. Her traveling wrap was a rare blanket of old gold and blue fashioned semi-coat model on straight lines, with a military collar. Her head dress was a beautifully beaded band with wine colored feathers. She fastens all her own costumes, doing the beaded work as well.

The charming personality of Mr. Cadman and the Princess adds much to the pleasure of their programs, both informal and concert.

Lecture at Trinity Parish House. Tomorrow evening W. W. Cotton will speak before a large gathering of the parishioners of Trinity Episcopal church in the parish house, when the Women's Guild will give a benefit for their mission work. The lecture will be on Egypt.

On the afternoon of Thursday, April 2, George Wilbur Reed is planning a musical reception at the Portland Heights home of his sister, Mrs. Carlos L. Mr. Reed was in London and heard Miss MacBeth at the time she made her debut and created a furor with the London Symphony orchestra. "Puritani" is the opera she sings with the Chicago company. Other guests from the company will be Jane Osborn Hanna, Allan Hinkley and Clarence Whitehill, all of whom were in Germany at the time Mr. Reed was
