

AUTO MEN ASK THAT PEDESTRIANS BE MADE TO MIND THE WHISTLE

Delegation Puts Matter Before City Commissioners and Request Compliance.

DISTRICT IS DESCRIBED

Proposed New Traffic Ordinance for Portland Contains the Provision Which is Now Championed.

Trading action on the proposed new traffic ordinance subjecting pedestrians to the whistle signal of the traffic patrolmen, as an automobile drivers at present, a committee representing the Portland Automobile club appeared before the city commissioners yesterday afternoon.

The committee asked that the district in which pedestrians would have to comply with the regulations be confined to the territory bounded by Tenth, Salmon, Gibson and the river, and on all streets in the city where streetcar lines are in operation.

The ordinance originally called for a district bounded by Twenty-third street, Madison and Thurman on the west side, and Hawthorne, Broadway and East Twelfth street on the east side.

The members of the committee stated that the ordinance would be practically worthless unless it contain a provision by which pedestrian traffic may be regulated. It was announced that action would be taken on the ordinance and the proposed amendments within a short time. Present at the meeting, besides the commissioners, were W. J. Clemens, A. L. Fish and J. E. Appleby.

VALUE OF BONDS INCREASING

Sale Yesterday Brings Premium of 4.15 Per Cent; Last Sale 4.09.

The value of Portland's improvement bonds is steadily increasing, as shown by the sale yesterday of an issue of $424,611.50. They were sold at a premium of 4.15 per cent, which is the highest price secured in years.

SIGNALS ARE TO BE PLACED

Dangerous Crossings to Be Marked to Lessen Accidents.

Red and white signals are to be placed at all dangerous places in the streets and roads in the city in an attempt to lessen the number of accidents resulting from automobile and other collisions. These signs are now being patterned by the department of public works and will read, "Danger, Drive Slowly." The signs are to be placed at an angle with the highway line, so that at night they may be seen when the automobile headlight rays strike them.

MAY COLLECT IN ADVANCE

Council Considers New Ordinance Affecting Water Users.

Contractors and others engaged in the construction of concrete sidewalks and curbs are to be required to secure a permit from the water department and pay for the water estimated to be used before commencing work, should an ordinance discussed this morning be adopted by the city council.

SUM IS MADE GOOD BY CITY

Forged Warrant for $6; Paid the Wrong Person.

Because someone got hold of a warrant belonging to Mrs. Eliza Wilber and forged her name, then collected the money, the city council this morning had to appropriate $6 to pay what the city owed her. Last December she furnished meals to a set of election clerks and judges amounting to $6, but when she came to collect the money from the city she found that someone had been there first and by forging her name got the money.

PARK BAND OF 34 PIECES

Organization Will Be Larger Than Last Summer.

More volume to the music in the parks this summer is promised by Commissioner Brewster, who introduced an ordinance before the council this morning margining the park band. Last year 32 musicians took part, while this year there will be 34. Charles L. Brown was appointed director of the band some time ago.

Pendleton, Or., April 8.—Jim Dupuis, a local attorney, is on trial here before Federal Judge R. S. Bean on a charge of perjury, alleged to have been committed when he was a witness for the defense in the Columbia George murder trial. It was in Dupuis' shop where Columbia George became intoxicated on the day of the murder, according to the testimony of those who were in the shop that day. Dupuis testified at the trial that the Indian was not in his place of business on that day.

TRUTH IN ADVERTISING IS ADVOCATED BY EDITOR

Duty of Merchant to Public Declared Same as Mother to Child.

"There are more people in schools than in jails; it is more effective to establish ideals of truth in advertising by educational methods than by punishing, prosecuting and imprisoning," said Thomas Dreier, editor of Associated Advertising, this morning.

Mr. Dreier arrived in Portland last night and will spend the day in Portland. He addressed the Ad club at its regular weekly meeting in the Hotel Portland today and is to be honored at a banquet at the Automobile club this evening. He is making a tour of the cities in the United States where Ad clubs are located.

"The merchant should bear the same relation to the public that a mother does to her child in the home," continued Mr. Dreier. "A mother is constantly striving to keep the child from getting that which will injure it. She is constantly striving to train her child along right lines and to cultivate high ideals. A merchant should be as unwilling that the public buying from him should obtain articles of food or medicine that will result in bodily harm, or garments that are not in quality as represented.

"The child that is not well fed and cared for sickens; the child that is cruelly treated resents it. The public that is mistreated will not continue to give business to the merchant who mistreats the public. It is unprofitable to mistreat or misrepresent."

Mr. Dreier spoke at Washington High school this morning and this afternoon in making an automobile tour of the city. He was accompanied to Portland by George Eberhard, member of the vigilance committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America. Mr. Eberhard complains of the way he is treated in Portland. "I have been paying rent in Portland for four years and have had three people working for me here most of the time, but I am always spoken of as coming from San Francisco. What more must I do to be identified with you here?" he questioned. Mr. Eberhard is president of the Eberhard Advertising Specialty company.

Hosmer, Silverton; state labor commissioner, August Nikula, Astoria; superintendent of public instruction, Mrs. Flora I. Foreman, Quincy; state railroad commissioner, I. O. Nieces Should Worry.
Los Angeles, April 8.—Mrs. Blanche Gregg Laux is suing the Bekins Storage company for approximately $2000 because a warehouse fire destroyed her wedding gown, which she had promised to the first of her nieces to marry.

Board of Regents Meeting Today

Several Subjects of Interest to Oregon Agricultural College to Be Passed Upon—Standard May Be Raised.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., April 8.—The board of regents of the Oregon Agricultural college is in session on the campus this afternoon. The most important matter to be considered is the question of raising the standard. At the present time students are allowed to enter with but two years of high school training. It is quite certain that at least one year will be added to this requirement, and it is possible that two years will be added at this time, thus placing the Oregon Agricultural college on a par with the colleges and universities of the east.

Two student petitions will be presented. One is to turn over the college book store to the students, the latter to place it on a strictly cooperative basis. The second is regarding the O. A. C. Barometer, the official publication of the student body. It is planned to make subscription compulsory.

There is a possibility that the vacancy left in the staff of the experiment stations may be filled. The resignation of Dr. James Withycombe has left the head place of the department open.

This morning the cadet regiment went through regimental review in honor of the board. At convention President J. H. Ackerman spoke. This evening there will be a reception given in honor of President Kerr and the board of regents. Dean Calvin, Professors Reesler, Reed, McLaughlin and Mrs. McElfresh have charge of the affair.
