FEDERALS RECAPTURE SAN PEDRO, VILLA IS WAITING AT TORREON

Rebel Commander Has 5000 Men There and Would Give Advancing Federals Battle.

VELASCO FIGHTS REBELS

Federal Force of 3000 is Advancing Hoping to Find Villa at Torreon Unprepared for Battle.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Juarez, Mexico, April 13.—Kaleidoscopic changes were in progress today in the vicinity of Torreon.

The federals had recaptured San Pedro, it was upon this point that General Velasco fell back when the rebels drove him from Torreon. General Villa followed, and he was dislodged from his position, too, retreating toward Parras, apparently with a view to making Saltillo by rail.

The rebels left a small garrison at San Pedro and pursued Velasco and his men. Velasco, however, at latest accounts, was reinforced near Parras by two other strong federal forces, and gave the rebels battle. How this struggle, which was reported to be a very bloody one, resulted had not yet been learned here.

In the meantime, however, a body of federal volunteers under General Argumedo and General Campa attacked San Pedro. The rebels there, being heavily outnumbered, evacuated the town and made for Torreon. General Villa rushed reinforcements to meet them. It was expected the two bodies would join one another on the road and return at once.

Simultaneously with the news that the rebels had been driven from San Pedro came the information that a federal body of 3000 from Saltillo or Monterey, which seemed to have dodged the rebels while the latter were engaged at Parras, was advancing by forced marches on Torreon, presumably believing it had been practically denuded of rebel defenders and could be taken by surprise.

As a matter of fact, General Villa had 5000 men with him in the city and was prepared to give the enemy a hot reception.

Last night there were brought into Torreon 365 federal prisoners, who were expected to take the rebel oath of allegiance and join General Villa's forces.

Jewish Play Makes Hit With Audience

Miss Betty Rosenthal, as Leading Character, Earns Praise at Arion Hall.

Miss Betty Rosenthal, playing the part of Hanaly in the play, "Hanaly the Nayerin," had the 700 Jewish people present last night at the first play given by the Portland Jewish Dramatic club first laughing and then weeping with emotion. She was ably helped in her work by Miss Rose Collins and L. Gross and the other eight members of the cast.

The play was the first attempt of the club to put a series of Jewish plays before the Jewish speaking people of Portland. It was given at Arion hall. That it was a success was evident from the enthusiasm of the audience. Miss Rosenthal was given several recalls at the close of the performance.

The club has been organized about five months.

The next play will be given late in May.

Reads Magazines, Passes Bad Checks

Grants Pass Youth Operates at Medford Saturday Night and This Morning Is Bound Over to Grand Judy.

Medford, Or., April 13.—Merle Reynolds of Grants Pass, 19 years old, succeeded in passing worthless checks aggregating $150 on Medford merchants Saturday night. This morning before Justice of the Peace Taylor, he pleaded guilty and was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bonds. The idea, he told the chief of police this morning, came from reading stories of crime in high class magazines.

MISS FITZGERALD HAS A BIG LEAD IN ROSE FESTIVAL TOUR RACE

First Tally Taken Since Contest Opened Shows North Bank Candidate Ahead.

The first tally in the Rose Festival's tour contest was taken at 10 p. m. Saturday, 22 candidates being then officially in the race, many of them having entered only a few hours before the count. Miss Helen Fitzgerald of 739 Northrup street, candidate of the North Bank railroad employes, heads the list in the first tally, with 22,520 votes, leading Miss Thelma Hollingsworth, the Harriman club's candidate, her nearest competitor, by more than 11,000.

The coupons published in the daily papers are being clipped out by friends of candidates all over the city. Each organization is anxious to secure the highest score for its candidate, so that she will be "Queen Rose." As there are to be 11 maids of honor, however, any candidate who keeps within a dozen from the top of the list will be entitled to go on the big tour de luxe on the Festival's special car, late in May. The 12 places at the head of the daily tally will be the big bone of contention until the close of the contest, May 16. Following shows the standing of the contestants today:

Miss Helen Fitzgerald, 22,520; Miss Thelma Hollingsworth, 11,180; Miss Margaret Clifford, 7610; Miss May McCarthy, 7380; Miss Stella Campling, 6905; Miss Helen McIver, 6215; Miss Minnie Smith, 5260; Miss Mary McKinnon, 5025; Miss Hazel R. Hoyt, 4950; Miss Purnell Fiburn, 4875; Miss Florence Westengard, 3685; Miss Vashti Doan, 2840; Miss Leola Martin, 2665; Miss Hazel Gallagher, 2240; Miss Gertrude Lucke, 2015; Miss Dalles Perkins, 1700; Miss Alice Husby, 1520; Miss Anna Bruegger, 1210; Miss Freida Riegar, 680; Miss Bella Bloom, 470; Miss Violet Oakley, 375; Miss Anna R. Old Deschutes Dam Case Goes to Trial

Land Company Contends Building of Railroad Prevented Construction of as Large Dam as Was Intended.

The right of way of the Deschutes railroad through the famous Deschutes river canyon leading into central Oregon, for a distance of one and one half miles, may be entirely abrogated, the railroad may be compelled to construct the road for that distance higher up on the face of the canyon, or it may be compelled to pay heavy damages, if the plaintiffs, the Eastern Oregon Land company, be successful in a trial that opened in the United States district court today before Judge Bean.

The Eastern Oregon Land company alleges ownership of options on property through which the canyon lies and over which both the Oregon Trunk and the Deschutes railroad pass. The case has been pending for more than four years.

The complainants charge that the building of the railroad prevents them from building as large a dam as would have been possible under natural conditions. The road is now 60 feet above the river and the plaintiffs want to build a dam 105 feet high.

The Hill line, on the other side of the canyon, is just five feet higher, but it is understood that an agreement between its owners and the land company has been reached.

Girl Wants Sham Marriage License

"I want a marriage license that won't really mean that I am married," a pretty miss of about 18 summers informed Deputy County Clerk Cochran this morning. "A man who owes my father some money refuses to pay him and says he will pay if I will marry him. I don't like him, but just thought I could fool him into thinking we were married and after he had paid the money I could leave him. The money is not a great sum, but it's all my folks have and means a lot to them."

She refused to tell her name to Cochran, but informed him that the man was "just a little older than I." Cochran told her that he would gladly assist her, but that the law would not permit him to do so, and she went away with a long face trying to devise a new scheme to get the money.

COPPER STRIKERS GIVE UP FIGHT IN MICHIGAN; FEW WILL GET WORK

Federation Officials Declare Cards Will Be Surrendered by Those Who Are Left.

Calumet, Mich., April 13.—The strike among copper workers in the Michigan mines was officially declared off today. Announcement to this effect was made at the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners, the strikers voting to waive their demands for higher wages, better working conditions and recognition of the union, and will seek work in the mines on practically the same conditions as those which prevailed before the walkout last June.

The federation's district board was scheduled to convene this afternoon and announce the official vote. It was said the miners voted 2 to 1 to resume work.

Eighteen thousand men originally struck. Thousands left the district, however, and only about 5000 strikers battled to the end. The operators announced that only a few of the men would be put back to work.

The mine owners had offered the men an eight hour day with a minimum wage of $3 a day. Federation officials announced that the strikers would resume under the conditions imposed by the operators and would surrender their union cards, thereby waiving their demand for union recognition.

Death Races With Wealthy Motorists

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Whittier, Cal., April 13.—George H. Ham, 53 years old, a wealthy rancher of Whittier, and Dudley Harvey Elder, aged 32, of Whittier, were killed early today when an automobile in which they were returning from San Bernardino toppled off a bridge at Pellisier's derrick, near Puente.

The men were members of an automobile party that had spent Easter at the great Ham ranch, near San Bernardino. Others in the party were Bradner Lee of Los Angeles, corporation attorney and chairman of the Los Angeles county Republican committee, and Mrs. Don Lee, an automobile man, and Mrs. Lee; Harry Ham, automobile racing driver and son of George R. Ham; James T. Kelly and Arthur H. Lack, Los Angeles business men.

Ham and Elder, in one automobile, were racing the others of the party to Whittier and took a short cut. When they failed to reach here a search was made and their bodies found.

Ham formerly was president of the United States bank at Mexico City. He returned to Whittier, his former home, when he retired recently.

Elder was a grandson of C. W. Harvey, a Whittier capitalist. He was a brother of the late Churchill Harvey Elder, one of the victims of the Los Angeles Times explosion, and of Mrs. Bernardo Sherb of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Permitted to Settle Suit.

Permission was granted to the guardian of Jim Papasodero, 20 years old, to settle with the Portland Railway, Light & Power Co., for $1750 a claim against the company for injuries received by the youth. The boy was driving a fruit peddler's wagon when it was struck by a car. He was thrown to the pavement and his leg was injured.

The monthly dance of the Portland Transportation club, announced for tomorrow night at the Multnomah hotel, has been postponed because of a misunderstanding about the date, another organization having secured the ballroom for the evening. CUMMINS CHARGES RAILWAYS BLUFFING TO GET HIGHER RATES

Says Public Being Deceived by Incorrect Statements of Losses by Carriers.

LAYOFF PART OF SCHEME

Senator Says Great Campaign Is Being Conducted to Discredit Government Regulation of R. R. Rates.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, April 13.—Roundly denouncing the methods of the railroads which are endeavoring to secure the interstate commerce commission's endorsement of a five cent freight rate increase, Senator Cummins of Iowa declared in the senate today that "there is in progress, the most comprehensive, energetic and persistent campaign ever witnessed to make the country believe government regulation of railways has resulted in failure."

That the interstate commission would decide the rate increase proposition on its merits the senator said he was convinced, but he declared the public is being deceived by incorrect and exaggerated statements.

He added that the proposed 5 per cent rate increase would amount to more in a year than all the tolls paid by all the ships which will pass through the Panama canal in 12 or 15 years, and more than American coastwise ships, if they paid full tolls, would be charged in half a century.

Senator Thomas of Colorado agreed with Senator Cummins that a concerted movement was being made by the railroads to make the public believe higher rates was necessary. He cited the recent layoff of 40,000 employes as part of this attempt. The Union Pacific's was one reason, he said, why higher rates were unnecessary, since no effort was being made to liquidate the huge bond issue with the proceeds of which the Southern Pacific acquired the Southern Pacific.

Would Purchase Roads.

Washington, April 13.—Three bills were introduced in the senate today by Senator Lewis of Illinois. One proposed government purchase of interstate railways. Another provided for the building of 100 vessels as an American merchant marine and the creation of a commission of 21 members to supersede the interstate commerce commission. The third bill proposed that the government take complete charge of the banking and transportation business.

Lewis proposed that the railroads, steamship lines and manufacturing plants be leased to private firms and that they be allowed a profit of five per cent. The new commerce commission, as proposed by him, would be divided into three branches of seven members each—one having jurisdiction over banking and finance, one over interstate commerce of railways and steamers and the third over factories and the interstate shipments of merchandise.

Hearing on Fares May Be Postponed

Railroad Commissioner Doubts Whether Experts in United and Oregon Electric Cases Will Be Ready.

Experts of the state railroad commission are working industriously preparing for the adjourned hearing on fares of the United Railways to Linnton and the Oregon Electric railway to Garden Home and Tualatin valley points. The hearing is set for April 20, but Commissioner Aitchison said this morning that he did not believe the information desired would be secured by that time.

E. W. Moreland has completed field work connected with the valuation of the lines and reproduction cost of each. Auditor George P. Christie, of the commission, is rushing work on the books of the companies.

Becker Undisturbed By the Executions

New York, April 13.—Police Lieutenant Charles F. Becker, in the Tombs awaiting a second trial on a charge of instituting the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, for whose killing "Dago Frank," "Whitey Lewis," "Gyp the Blood" and "Lefty Louie" died in the electric chair today, showed no concern over the gunmen's execution. He slept soundly and did not even refer to the electrocutions.

SUES FEDS FOR $25,000

New York, April 13.—James Gaffney, president of the Boston National league baseball club, brought suit here today for $25,000 against James A. Quinn's real name is John Picus.

Fair Association Asks Appropriation

County Commissioners Are Asked to Turn Over $5000 Excess Over $5000 Appropriated to Association.

Seeking to secure the $5000 allowed under the county fair appropriation law over the $5000 specifically set aside for the Pacific International Livestock association for the Multnomah county fair, held at Gresham, a delegation appeared before the county commissioners this morning. An order was presented to the commissioners asking that the balance be turned over to the county fair.

That all eligible to share in the fund might have opportunity to appear the question of disposition of the fund was left until next Monday morning, when a hearing will be held. Last year one-half of the balance was set aside for the Land show, but was not used and reverted to the road fund of the county. The money is raised by a one-twentieth mill tax provided for by the last legislature. The money is to be used only for premiums on premiums for livestock, horticultural and agricultural exhibits.

CHAMBERLAIN WILL AID ANTI-CIGARETTE FIGHT IN THE SENATE

Bill Aimed at Prize Inducements Would Have Hearty Support of Solon.

Interest in the anti-cigarette campaign being waged in Portland is expressed by United States Senator George E. Chamberlain in a letter received this morning by Probation Officer McIntosh of the juvenile court.

Mr. McIntosh, at the suggestion of the anti-cigarette committee, wrote Senator Chamberlain suggesting that congress be urged to pass a bill forbidding the giving of premiums, pennants, rugs and the like with cigarettes by the manufacturers.

The prohibitory measure was proposed by Sig Sichel, tobacco man and member of the anti-cigarette committee.

"I am inclined to believe with Mr. Sichel that the use of coupons and the promise of prizes has much to do with the sale of cigarettes, tobacco, etc., to the boys and girls of the country," wrote Senator Chamberlain. "It is probable that an act might be prepared which would reach the case in hand and prevent the sale of tobacco with such coupons, and if I am not mistaken the subject was discussed fully in an amendment proposed by ex-Senator Beveridge a few years ago to the corporation tax law.

"It is an interesting subject, and I would be glad to look it up with a view to preparing a bill, but my time is so absolutely absorbed with pending legislation that I cannot do so at this time. I suggest that you have some one of your friends of the Portland bar prepare such a bill as you have in mind, and forward it to me. Later if I can find an opportunity to do so, I will give the subject maturer consideration."

Tax Suit Is Filed Against Sheriff

Western Union Would Restrain Collection of Franchise Tax for the Years of 1906-7-8-9.

Seeking an order restraining Sheriff Word from collecting franchise taxes for 1906, 1907, 1908 and 1909, the Western Union Telegraph company this morning filed suit against Word.

The taxes and penalties for the four years amount to $1831.50 but under a decision in the United States district court in a suit involving the same issues in which the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company was a party the 1906 and 1907 taxes were declared invalid and the 1908 and 1909 taxes were upheld. Under the decision no effort has been made to collect taxes were upheld. Under that decision the two last years and penalties on them amount to $794.10 which the county seeks to collect. The franchises of the company were assessed at $15,000 and the company alleges they have no taxable value.

Play Seems Like Story Book Page

Like a page from a story book for children both old and young is, "A Good Little Devil," the Famous Players' production of David Belasco's modern fairy tale, at the People's. It is presented with the original Broadway cast, headed by little Mary Pickford, and including William Norris and Ernest Truex.

Miss Pickford has less to do than many of the others, but every scene in which she appears is pervaded with her own sweet personality. A pillar of strength in the production is Mr. Norris, whose picture of the wicked aunt is masterly.

Mr. Truex as Charles, the good little devil, is splendidly cast and not the least interesting members of the cast are the dog, rabbits, squirrels, rats and doves.

There are fairies in great number, who do many wonderful things. All of the scenes are beautifully set with the usual finesse of the Famous Players' productions. The opening one shows Mr. Belasco himself visualizing a scene and its characters.

TURNER CLUB HOUSE WILL BE DEDICATED SUNDAY AFTERNOON

New Structure Is Welcome Addition to Athletic and Social Home of Societies.

PRESS IS ENTERTAINED

German Country Fair Will Be Staged All Next Week and Public Will Be Invited to See Spectacle.

Next Sunday afternon the formal dedicatory exercises of the handsome new home of the Portland Social Turn Verein at Thirteenth near Main street, will be held and the general public is cordially invited to attend. Yesterday afternoon the German and English press were guests of the building committee of the Turn Verein for an informal inspection of the clubhouse, after which a buffet banquet was served in the rathskeller.

The building is a handsome addition to the list of athletic and social clubhouses of the city. It is unique in many features, one of which is the fact that most of its beautiful furnishings were made in Oregon. It is not too far removed from the center of the city to become intensely popular with its members. One does not have to be of German nationality to be eligible to become a member.

Dr. F. H. Dammasch, chairman of the building committee, conducted the newspapermen and a large number of members through the structure, pointing out the rooms that were devoted to the various departments of the German society, which, by the way, was the first athletic organization in Portland, having been founded in 1858.

For the purpose of bringing all the German speaking societies together under one roof, a prettily decorated lodge hall has been built in the structure. A convention room occupies the entire top floor. It has maple flooring and by removing a canvas covering one of the prettiest dancing places in Portland is provided. The acoustics in this room are perfect and it will no doubt prove popular with conventions.

The gymnasium is one of the most up-to-date on the Pacific coast. There is nothing in the way of physical equipment that it does not possess in quadruple quantity, so that the large classes may not be hampered by lack of facilities.

The ventilating system in the gymnasium is found in no other gymnasium on the coast. The windows are placed some 20 feet above the floor so that colds from draughts are impossible. Also, it cannot be entered from the street, thereby insuring an absence of dust carried in on the shoes of spectators or class members. It is better lighted than any other gymnasium in the city in that there are no shadows to interfere with the work of those on the floors.

Another feature is the rathskeller in the basement. It is typically German, with its walls adorned with landscapes depicting famous German scenes. It was here that the banquet was spread. Dr. Dammasch was toastmaster and explained the tenets of the society. Speeches were made by Otto Schumann, Martin Dudel, John Mathiesen and Professor R. Gensserowski and Rudolph Houchli, captain of the athletic teams, and W. P. Strandborg.

The clubhouse will be formally opened next Sunday afternoon with the dedicatory program and this will be followed by a German country fair, which will last all week and for which a great amount of preparation has been made. The German fair will be open to the general public and will be well worth seeing.
