COUNTY COURT NEWS

L. G. McKenney and W. S. McKenney were cited to appear before the county commissioners May 1 to show cause why they should not support or contribute to the support of their father, W. H. McKenney, an aged pauper,

Miss E. D. Muks, superintendent of the Multnomah farm, was directed to turn over to Mary C. Wells the personal effects of William Fitzgerald, who died at the farm April 22, and order W. M. who was indebted to her for money

H. F. Hanson foreman of division 2 road district 1, was directed to pros-pect for rock on the Springvale road and report to the board that it may be determined whether the Skyline coulevard can be redressed from where the rock road now ends to the Springvale road and along that road to the county line.

Superintendent of Ferries Murnane was ordered to supervise for the count; changes in the west approach to the ferry Webster to be made by the dock ommission. Captain Robertson, of the ferry, reported that he has not time for the work. The dock commission submitted blue prints of the changes authorized which were referred to

The O.-W. R. & N. company submitted an agreement for leasing of a strip of land 30 by 150 feet at On- Minnie Martis, 620 East Seventh street, conta for a road camp which was referred to Assistant Roadmaster Mc-Mullen for recommendations.

District Attorney Evans advised the board to have a separate agreement with O. E. Heintz regarding a guarantee of workmanship and materials used in the erection of the steel work of the courthouse as the agreement of settlement between Heintz and the county would otherwise release Heintz from all claims by the county. His letter was referred to county Auditable. Avers. Corbett, Or., 21. Wedding and the was referred to county Auditable. Avers. Salem, Or., legal, and Emma Walker, Lenox hotel, legal.

MAN NEEDS ASSISTANCE

The Journal has succeeded in securing the name and address of a recent correspondent who signed herself "A Heartsick Wife" and who asked why it seemed impossible for her husband, a reliable, industrious man, skilled in machine woodworking, to get employment in this city. The man has been out of work for many months and both have been in distress for the lack of necessities. He is willing to do anything. The name and address will be furnished anyone who may have employment for him.
