

STEWART CONCEDES VICTORY TO VARSITY IN MEETING FRIDAY

Coach Thinks Aggies Have Best Team in Open Meet but Not in Dual.

TWO STARS ARE BARRED

Moses Sure of Ten Points in Hurdles and Hobgood Would Probably Show Keels to Sensational Payne.

(Special to The Journal.) Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, May 2.—The University of Oregon will win the dual track and field meet next Friday afternoon, by a comfortable margin, stated Coach E. I. Stewart of the Oregon Agricultural college this morning. "We have the best team when in an open meet, but when a dual meet is considered the University of Oregon has it over our boys easily."

The Aggies' track and field squad is training industriously for the big event of the year at Eugene next Friday. Most of the men are in good trim, but Baker and Reynolds are both in a bad way, the former having a weak tendon, and the latter being out of condition and sickly. It is hoped that both will be over their misfortunes when the starter's whistle blows, but from indications they will not be able to show up in the company they will be traveling with on that date.

Two of the best men in the college are ineligible, Hobgood, the two miler, one having participated in eastern athletics, and the other, Moses, who is a sure first place in the hurdles, both high and low, being barred through not carrying a sufficient amount of work to allow participation in conference athletics. It is the loss of these men that will give the University of Oregon the meet, according to the authorities here, their absence meaning a loss of at least 15 points.

Strong in Sprinting.

The Corvallis team will be especially strong in the sprint. A fast bunch of men has been developed, several of whom can cover the 100 in time bordering on 10 flat. With Captain Baker in the hospital corps, there is still I. M. C. Anderson, who won the 50 yard dash in the Columbia meet, to reckon with. The Aggies believe him to be faster than anything the university can produce. If Baker gets into the running the Beavers will take two places in the dashes.

The addition of Cole strengthened the weights greatly. The husky Kansan can handle the 125 feet without the least trouble, which should win in any meet in the northwest. He also handles the hammer and shot well. Cole has a record hung up in the weights in the Kansas state meet that gives him considerable prestige here.

With Hobgood in the race, the Aggies would see sections in the distance. The Oklahoma runner clipped several seconds off of the coast record in the two mile, made by Woods and cut Payne's record, made at the University of Oregon last Wednesday, by a considerable margin. The track fans are much disappointed over the decision that they would not see a race between Payne and Hobgood. As it is, Laik's and Laird will perform the distances, and are expected to bring places in both the one and two mile events.

Seen Century Already In.

"We will win 100 yard dash," prophesied Dr. Stewart. "If Baker is in trim we will get two places in it. We will take two places in the 200 yard dash, also, provided again that Baker can run without injury to himself. The 800 yard dash will go to us, Reynolds being a safe bet there. He also will have to get into condition again before the meet, as his recent illness has put him a week to the bad. In the 400 yard run we will lose first, but will take the other two places. "The distances are not so promising," continues the Aggies' mentor. "We will just place in both of them, Hobgood being ineligible for participation this year. Larfy's running well, and Dewey is showing up surprisingly well now, and should be a good running mate for Larfy.

"We will break even in the weights. We will annex half of the points in the shot, win the discus, and get a place in the javelin. In the pole vault we will probably get a second and third, while one place will fall to us in the high jump, either first or second. "Moses' loss cuts us out of 10 points in the hurdles. We will merely place in them now and at this place in view of that. The broad jump will be taken by the university, with us a close second. "The pretty race of the day will be the relay race. Both of the teams have men who average up pretty well, on the whole, and the event should prove the closest of the meet. We have some very good sprinters, and they will be called upon to do their best to overcome the Eugene men. I would not be surprised if the race would be neck and neck until the last two or three yards.

Training Has Been Careful.

"Our team this year has been developed solely through careful, consistent training. The men have shown very little promise in the field or on the track, and many of them have given up several times, only to come out again and plug away. They have obeyed the strictest of training regulations, and their work stands as a proof of what can be done by men who will train. The average man on the Aggies' team is not a natural runner, or weight

BIG CHIEF OF HERD OF SEALS

Manager Del Howard, veteran ball player of the major and minor leagues, who has the San Francisco club leading the procession in the Pacific Coast league for the first time in several years. Howard is one of the most popular managers in the Pacific Coast league and the success of his club thus far is the cause of general rejoicing among the many friends he has made on the coast during his two years' tenure as leader of the Seals. Howard is a man of splendid physique and off the ball field has the look and bearing of a well trained military officer. He is strict with his ball players, but is not a disciplinarian by any means, and the men under his charge will do anything for him. That is one of the reasons why his club has been so successful this season.

man, or distance man, but the average man is the kind that will follow the athletic life, from careful diet to observance of form in their practice. All of them realize the necessity of being clean in every way, and all of them are doing the best they can. "I look for one of the best teams of Oregon Agricultural college has ever put out in another year," concludes the Aggies' coach. "We will show up strongly in all of the conference meets this year, and will win in open contests. The men have placed themselves where they are by their own efforts, and a few more years of the kind of work they have done will give the agricultural college a big name in track and field work in the west."

CONTRACT FOR HOME OF GUN CLUB WILL BE AWARDED THIS WEEK

Structure Designed by Rice Will Be Completed Within Month at Jenne Station.

FIRST SHOOTING TODAY

Members Plan to Have Tournament on Money-Back System June 1 to Formally Open Club House.

Contracts for the construction of the club house of the Portland Gun club on the 20-acre tract at Jenne Station, purchased from George B. Middleton, will be awarded during the week by the club directors. A slight elevation has been chosen as the club house site and the building, which will cost about $2000, will be completed in about a month.

The officials of the club are planning to hold an opening tournament on June 1 under the Squier money-back system. A temporary trap has been set up and the club members will have their first blue rock breaking on the new grounds today.

The plans for the club house were completed last week by A. R. Rice, one of the club members. The main part of the club house will be 40 feet wide and 26 feet long. There will be a visitors' balcony over a 10-foot veranda in front of the building. This veranda will protect the shooters from the hot rays of the sun in the summer and from the rain in the winter.

The first floor of the club house will be used as a lounge room for the members. There will be a big fireplace in the back part of the room. The second floor plan calls for a ladies' room, a store room and two bedrooms. There will be a living room and a kitchen for the caretaker back of the club house.

CHESS

Conducted by A. G. Johnson.

The great St. Petersburg chess tournament is now under way. Not only are Capablanca, Marshall, Rubinsten, Tarrasch and Schlechter competing, but also Dr. Kohnstamm, the world's champion. Lesker and Capablanca have only met once before and that in an unofficial rapid transit game at the Manhattan Chess club in New York city. In either Lesker or Capablanca have won a set match, so the progress of the two Titans in the present tournament will be watched with great interest. Capablanca lacks only a few months of being the same age as Lesker had attained when he won the world's championship from Steinitz in 1904. Capablanca is nearly 36.

The king's gambit tournament of the Portland Chess and Checker club has now closed. A tournament restricted entirely to the Lopez opening is now under way with 30 competitors striving to improve their average.

The quarters of the Portland Chess and Checker club are located in room 101, Washington building annex, immediately over the Circle theater.

Dr. Lesker recently played a game with Dr. Bernstein of Moscow. The accompanying notes are from the finest chess player who managed to defeat his opponent, rated as one of Russia's three greatest players:

WENT TO OREGON MILER, NOW SPRINTER TOMMY BOYLEN TOO NERVOUS FOR GRIND TRAINER HAYWARD SPRINGS SURPRISE

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., May 2.—Two years ago a slim little red-headed freshman, 5 feet 8 inches, and 130 pounds, went out on Kincaid field in running togs. Bill Hayward grinned and asked, "Sprints?" The boy replied, "No, distance." Bill watched the boy for a little, and Bill said, "Sprints."

"The boy was Tommy Boylen, a freshman from Pendleton, Or. He had run cross-country for his high school in Denver and, under the colors of Pendleton high school, hung up records in the tri-state meets east of the mountains in the mile and half mile. His time in the mile was 4:42, establishing a record that was unbroken for three years, and in the half mile, 2:02, record which is still good in that part of the country.

Boylen made good on his "distance" his first year here, winning the coveted track "O" for half mile. He again did the 850 yard run in 2:02.

Judgment Not Changed. Hayward did not change his judgment. Boylen is a quick, nervous fellow, and the Oregon trainer and coach did not fail to realize that that kind of a man did better in a short, hard, terrific strain than in a one longer drawn out. He ran Boylen in the quarter and on the relay team. The freshman made good.

Last year the red-headed lad strained a tendon in his leg and he didn't do much in track. Bill, however, told him to go into one meet and pick up a third in the low hurdles. "We need the points," said Hayward. Boylen ran and came in second, showing the winner hard. It was his first try at the sticks.

This year young Boylen has been going good. Getting out of a sick bed, the game little fighter ran a plucky race in the relay for Oregon at the Columbia indoor meet and beat Cohn in the sprints though the Multnomah man had been doped to win. Boylen ultimately won the exchange. Oregon touched his man with a lead. Oregon students were jubilant when news reached them of his victory, for they had long been waiting for a champion on the campus. He is one of the two juniors who have been elected to the Fraternity, the upperclassmen's society in good fellowship, and is a member of Yonkers, sophomore society, to which he was elected in his freshman year.

In the last elections to the student council Hayward received the highest number of votes cast for a junior representative. He is a member
