VANCOUVER GARNERS FIRST GAME THROUGH CLARKE'S GREAT ARM

Stanley Pitches Almost as Brilliantly but Break of the Game Goes Against Him.

GAME FINISHED IN 1:16

Speed With Which Northwestern League Plays Game Quite a Relief From Deliberate Coast's Way.

Jimmy Clarke pitched a game as it should be pitched; Louie Stanley also pitched a game as it should be pitched, but was a trifle unlucky, and Umpire Shuster, a newcomer, ran off the game as it should be run off, in the shortest possible time.

It was the fastest game of the year, 1:16, and President Fielder Jones should be congratulated by the fans for the way in which his umpires have the players moving. The relief from the slow, deliberate way of the coast league is a strong boost for the Northwestern league and the games this year should prove more popular with the fans than ever before.

However, they came back in the next frame, when Hunky Shaw singled through short, after Coltrin had made a wonderful play of Clarke's grounder. Shuster singled across second and the speedy one, went to third, McClure raised a fly to young Scanlon that he caught on the foul line, and Shaw had left third before the catch, but Shuster would not see it that way.

After that Stanley had the Vancouver lads baffled, while Clarke did not allow a Colt to reach third base. Melchior was the only Colt able toathom the mysteries of Clarke's crooks, and he cracked three safe ones to right field during the afternoon. When he didn't hit the ball he struck out.
