Diving Venus is Headliner at the Pantages for This Week.

Dancing Violinist Feature. There is no question about the head-line act at the Pantages this week. It is Lottie Mayer, the diving-Venus, assisted by Vivian Marshall, the Portland girl, and five diving nymphs. The act is opened with a bit of pretty classic dancing by the six diving girls who, a few minutes later take to the water in light green racing tights. The act is given an effective interior setting with tilted mirrors placed behind the tank so that the surface of the water is visible. Unfortunately Miss Marshall was not distinguished in any way from the other five girls but a few dives and there was no question as to which was she. She has improved wonderfully in diving form and stage presence since her Portland friends first saw her on the professional stage. Her plain back-dive, her standing sitting standing, then back somersault, her cut off and a number of others won her instant recognition, but she scored most in the fall gainer, which she is the only woman on the stage to do. It is a leap from the spring board out in the air and a flip toward, instead of away from the board, in which she endangers her life at every dive. Miss Mayer appears later in the act and supplements the work of the girls with spectacular diving of her own. Her high dive from a trapeze was a thriller. Next in favor was Musette, the dancing violinist, and then Lasky's Six Hoboes who would have a stronger act if they sang more and chatted less. The remainder of the bill is made up with Rackett, Hoover & Markey, va-deville up to date; and Cornella & Wilbur, the two Tommy Atkins and motion pictures. Paris, May 5.—Edna Goodrich, one of Nat Goodwin's ex-wives, announced her retirement from the stage to live in Paris with her mother. Notarians Highly Pleased. Members of the Rotary club are congratulating themselves today over their capacity house at the Helig last evening for "The Honeymoon Express." The success of the evening assures them of the $1000 required to send their delegation to the international

Rotary convention at Houston, Texas. After the first act President English made a brief address in which he expressed the club's gratitude for the splendid support given and explained the ideals of the club to be furthering interest in public affairs and cooperation with other organizations working in the same direction. OLD RESORT THREATENED Fire threatened the old Paris house yesterday afternoon, when a blaze started in a coffee house adjoining at Fourth and Couch streets. The Paris house was notorious when Portland's underworld was at its zenith a few years ago. The fire crept into the south end of the old landmark, but was checked by water before much damage was done. WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND The body of Mrs. Rose McNeil, 180 Willamette boulevard was found in a pool of water this morning at the foot of Killingsworth avenue, where the woman had wandered last night. For several weeks she has been ill. It is not known whether the woman deliberately walked into the water with suicidal intent, or was wandering around and fell into the pool. She had been living with the family of O. G. Svbeda. Her husband and two children live at Kelso, Wash. The coroner was notified. THIEVES USE NEW PLAN A new system of thievery cropped out yesterday when the sheriff's office received a report that a motorcycle had been stolen from the home of Mrs. D. H. Brazill, 322 Tenth street. She said that a small, sandy complexioned man dressed in brown, came to the door, saying that he had been sent to repair a motorcycle belonging to Jesse S. Gilkey, a roomer, and that after he had been shown the machine, he took it away with him. No man was sent by Gilkey to repair his machine, and the man who took the motorcycle is being sought. The machine was recovered later. Another curious thing; that some men will wear a black derby hat all summer.
