

MOTHERS' DAY TO BE OBSERVED TOMORROW THROUGHOUT WORLD

All Protestant Churches in Portland to Join in First International Celebration.

Tomorrow is Mother's Day, when sons and daughters of almost the whole world will wear the white carnation, the symbol of the first international honor day.

The popularity of Mother's Day is remarkable. With no organization, state or government, to introduce it; with no funds to spread its mission; with no literature save one two-page leaflet, the day has, in less than 18 years, become a universal honor day.

The movement was first started by Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, who inserted a simple little notice in a church paper asking that all sons and daughters who wished to honor motherhood should wear a white carnation on the second Sunday of May of each year.

The movement has been endorsed by the National Congress of Mothers and it has steadily gained in popularity.

White Carnation Badge. The white carnation will be the official badge of the day. Wholesale announcements were made of the observance last Sunday in most churches and the usual response, which has always been a most enthusiastic one, is expected.

Everyone but the mothers who attend the Central Methodist church Sunday will wear a white rose or carnation during the Bible school hour and the church service following.

Special Program Arranged. "Mother's Day" at the White Temple will be observed in the evening, and the entire program will have a direct relation to the day celebration.

Every mother who visits the Sunday school of Anabel Presbyterian church tomorrow will be presented with a white carnation and the oldest mother present is to be given a bouquet of the flowers.

Rev. Charles T. McPherson, who for 14 years was a Methodist minister in Portland, and who was transferred to the church at Clatskanie by the conference last year, will be the guest of honor at a jubilee to be given by the Methodist people of Clatskanie, Quincy and Mayer next week.

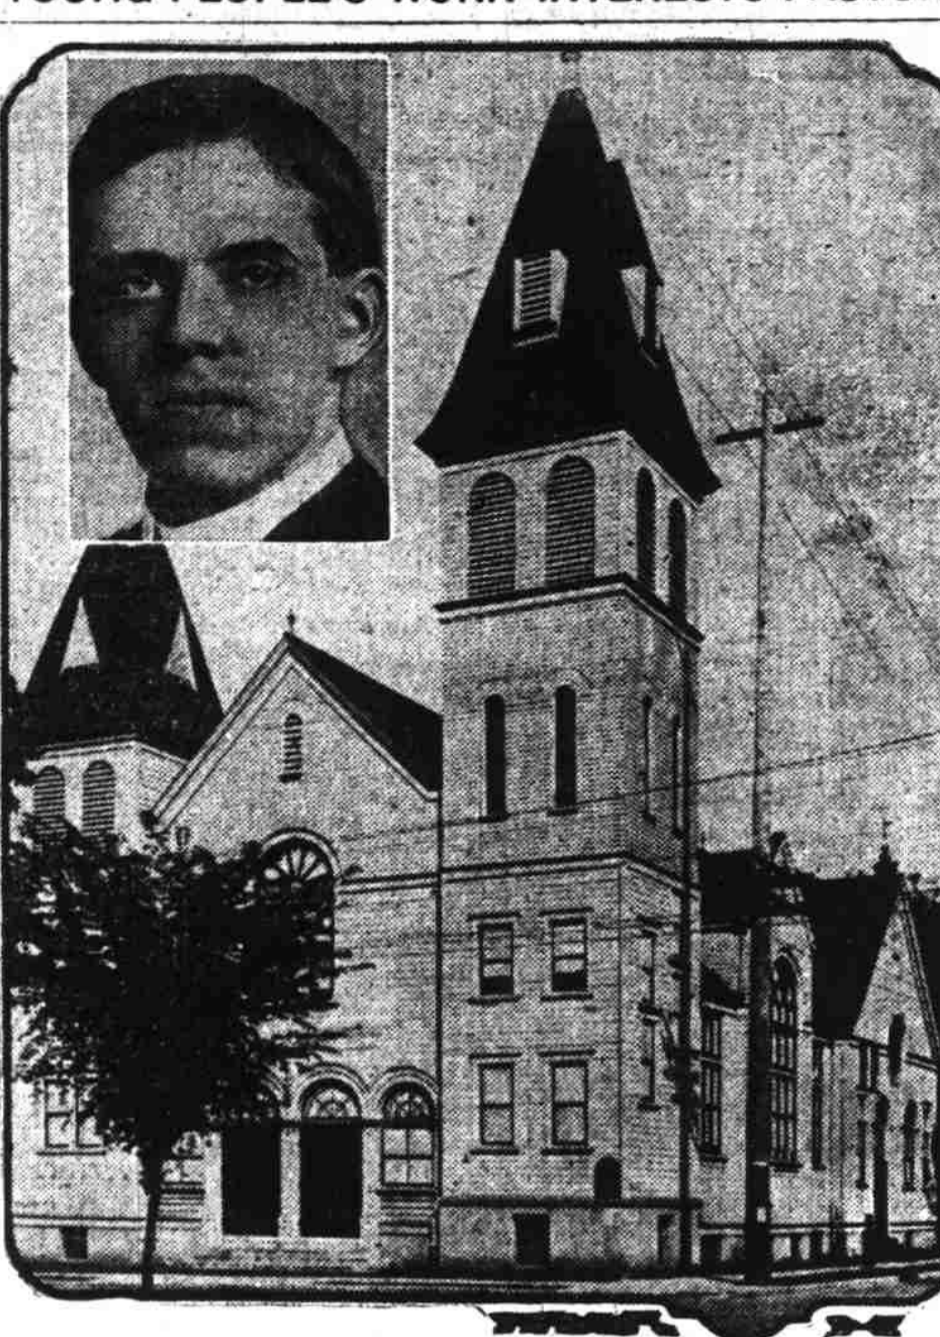

Rev. Frank L. Loveland, pastor of the First Methodist church, will preach in the morning at 11 o'clock and in the afternoon at 3, and Rev. J. K. Hawkins of Sellwood Methodist church will preach in the evening at 7:30.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK INTERESTS PASTOR

First Christian church and Rev. Maxwell Hall.

With the coming of Rev. Maxwell Hall, the newly installed pastor, members of the First Christian church are looking forward to a very strong Sunday school organization.

Besides paying all of its running expenses the school gives largely to benevolence and missions. Some of the classes individually are also doing this work.

The members of this class do a great deal of sewing for families where the mother is not able to do it and cannot afford to hire it done. They also look after some families that are in destitute circumstances.

Following a spirited contest for new members of the Hope Presbyterian Sunday School at East Seventy-eighth and Everett streets between the boys and girls of the two organizations, the girls are the winners.

A reception of members in connection with the regular morning service will be held tomorrow at the First Methodist church.

A silver jubilee, celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Epworth League movement at Cleveland, Ohio, will be observed by the young people of the First Methodist church Sunday evening, May 10, at the Epworth parlor at 6:30 and at the regular evening church service Rev. Frank L. Loveland will preach.

Officers for the year were elected at the monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church held Tuesday night in the church parlors. E. Earl Felke was elected president; Pauline Muckley, vice president; Lorraine L. Fox, pianist; and Irene Durham, recording secretary; John Barry, librarian; W. L. McFarland, historian; and L. S. Stiles, director of singing.

THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY OF PASTORATE WILL BE CELEBRATED HERE TOMORROW

The thirteenth anniversary of the taking up of the pastorate of St. James Lutheran church by Rev. J. Allen Leas will be celebrated with extra services tomorrow. Rev. W. L. Eck, pastor of the church at Vancouver, which Mr. Leas virtually founded, Rev. L. Paul of Philadelphia, Pa., and Professor P. W. H. Frederick, head of the Lutheran Seminary here, will all assist in the services.

Rev. J. Allen Leas delivered his first sermon in Portland, May 12, 1891, in a chapel on the site of the present church. He came here from Red Wing, Minn., his second pastorate, leaving an established pastorate because of the health of his wife, who was unable to stand the rigorous Minnesota winters.

Four years ago he took an active part in the founding of the Pacific Lutheran seminary, and he is the president of the board. For a time he taught four hours a day several days a week until the arrival of Professor Frederick, who became president of the institution. During the past four years Mr. Leas has taught practical theology in the seminary.

The church has a large and active Ladies Aid society, and a confirmation that did good work the past year, an active Luther league, a Young Ladies' guild and a younger society of girls known as the Gleasers.

Millard Church Extends Invitation. The Multnomah County Sunday School association was invited to hold the July Sunday School institute for the ninth district at the Millard avenue Presbyterian church as a result of the meeting of teachers and workers of the Sunday School of that church at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Williams in the Mt. Scott district last Monday night.

The early part of the evening was devoted to discussion of reports of the State Sunday School convention at Albany last week. Plans were also developed for Children's day exercises and a Sunday School picnic out on the Estacada carline.

Westminster S. S. Has Entertainment. The week of social activities of the various groups of Westminster Presbyterian church, following the dedication of the new edifice at East Seventeenth and Schuyler streets last Sunday, was climaxed last night with the Sunday school entertainment. The church auditorium, as at other times of the week, was filled again.

The principal feature of the program was the rendition of the group of four songs entitled "Three Cautionary Tales of a Moral," (Liza Lehmann) by Miss Ada Tuttle, who played her own accompaniments. Miss Marie Gamble gave several readings and orchestra music was furnished.

More than a thousand people were present at the open house given Tuesday night, and the chapel was crowded for the prayer service the following evening. THE J. K. GILL CO. THIRD AND ALDER STS.

WHAT CHURCH MEMBERS AND CLERGY ARE DOING

Get Acquainted Gatherings. Christian Endeavorers of the first ward of the East Portland district held their first "get acquainted" gathering May 1 in the form of a moonlight hike. About 60 climbed Rocky Butte near Morrison and 100 gathered in a new temple. The location for this building has not been definitely selected, but the Mormons expect to have the structure completed by the end of the year. In the meantime the congregation will worship in the old Trinity church building in the Ladd addition.

Endeavorers Organize Tennis Club. Christian Endeavorers residing at Arbor Lodge station on the St. Johns line have organized a tennis club and about 15 young people are engaged in preparing the courts and making other arrangements for an active season. Other branches of the same organization are expected to organize similar clubs and a tournament of some kind is anticipated for later in the season. The young people of Atkinson Memorial Christian Endeavor are planning the organization of a tennis club.
