Higginbotham and Mates Go Up in Eighth Frame and Second Is Lost.

DRIVES IN TWO

And Third Tally for Beavers Is Result of Buddy's Triple in Sixth Inning Off Spitballist Elepfer.

Los Angeles May 14.-Three runs off Higginbotham in the eighth inning. which were helped along by Derrick's errors, brought the Venetians from behind in yesterday's game and gave them a 5 to 3 victory. Klepfer started the game for the locals, but his spitter did not fool the Beavers very much, Decannier started the eighth.

The Venitians got to Higginbotham in the first inning for two runs. Hosp started off with a double and scored on Leard's single. Meloan sacrificed and Bayless singled, scoring Crabby Bill. Litschi hit into a double play, started by Bancroft and closed the scoring. Portland tied the score up in th fourth inning, when Doane was safe ers and Ryan singled infield, filling up the bases. This was followed by Kores' terrific drive to left, and Doane and Rodgers scored. Lober flied to Hosp, and Fisher followed with a sin gle to left. Buddy turned third and couldn't make it and turned back, he ing caught off, Hosp to Litschi. The four bits netted half as many runs.

The Beavers took the lead in the sixth inning. After Donne fanned Rodgers singled and stole, and this was followed by Buddy's triple. The Ventce infield played in and Ryan was unable to score on Kores' grounder to Lober walked, but Leard threw Fisher out.

Here's the uproarous eighth: Me loan started with a double. Bayless fanned and Litschi singled. Derrick's error Meloan scored and Mc Donnell was safe, but Litschi was out trying to go from first to third, Der rick to Kores. Bliss was here ordered out of the game for crabbing at Um pire Hayes. McDonnell took second or Bancroft's error. McArdle walked. Elliott who replaced Bliss, singled, scoring McDonnell. McArdle took third or the throwin, and then Mac and Rowdy pulled off a double steal, the former Decannier pitched the last two inn ings for Venice and proved too much for the Beavers. Score:

EDDIE BEESON, NEW HIGH JUMP CHAMPION, TOPPING BAR

Can you imagine jumping nine inches higher than your own head? That is what Edward Beeson did when he broke the world's high jump record the other day in California. "Eddie," as he is more familiarly known, accomplished what many believed to be an impossible thing when he cleared the bar at the extraordinary height of 6 feet 7 inches was regarded as the height of perfection in jumping. Sweeney, who held the record before Horine, had created a record that stood for seventeen years and for a time bade fair never to be broken—yet he only cleared 6 feet 5 % inches. I guess Eddie's success is due to the fact that he was born and raised in one of the best hop sections in the world. Sonoma county, California, grows more hops than any other section of its size, and little Eddie Beeson no doubt acquired his ability to hop over the cross bar from the many weary hours that he spent in the fields picking hops. He must have swallowed a few at the same time. Healdsburg is the name of the town of his birth. It was also the home town of Ralph Rose, the greatest of shot putters. It might be well to note that another famous athlete was born but a few miles from the same place. Fred C. Thompson, the world's champion all around athlete. who surpassed the best that Jim Thorpe did, was born in Santa Rosa, nearby. He entered the University of California when he was 18 years of age and at once made a name for himself in both the high and the low hurdles. He did some high jumping, but did not take it seriously, as hurdle racing was his nobby. He used to win all the timber-topping events in the state until Fred C. Kelly came along, and with his world record-making form left him behind. Then he turned to high jumping. In 1912, Beeson graduated from the state university, and has since been connected with the Olympic club in San Francisco, under whose colors he competed at Berkeley. Beeson was a member of the last Olympic team, but only got as far as New York when he was forced to return to California. There is no doubt of him being chosen again, and it is hoped that he will meet with better success on his trip to Berlin.
