

News of Women's Clubs BY VELLA WINNER

MRS. MARSHALL N. DANA was yesterday unanimously re-elected president of the Oakley Green Parent Teacher association. The other officers chosen are: First vice president, Mrs. Hagstrom; second vice president, Mrs. Osborne; secretary, Mrs. Wait; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Williams. Interesting reports were made by the officers and various committee chairmen. A membership of 182 was reported. Two additional delegates, Mrs. Hagstrom and Mrs. Van Sleet, were appointed to attend the conference at Reed college. A committee was appointed to secure an automobile for entry in the Rose Festival parade. It was voted to have a manual training and sewing exhibit at the community house in Peninsula Park during the Rose Festival.

The matter of Oakley Green's great need of a summer school was discussed. A petition bearing the signatures of 225 children who wish to attend a summer school, together with the signatures of their parents, will be presented to the school board. It is suggested that the school should be a summer school in the Oakley Green district, instead of requiring the pupils to attend the school at Peninsula. There was an average attendance of 40 in the manual training department of the school during the term just closing, and many of these boys are anxious to continue their work if an opportunity is given.

It was decided to maintain an ice cream stand opposite Peninsula Park on holidays and picnic days, the stand to be in charge of two women of the association, and all proceeds to go to the association. This afternoon in the school house Major Gustav H. Schloss is delivering a lecture on Mexico, from which country he has just returned with many pictures and curios.

The next meeting of the association will be held on the third Thursday in June. This will be an evening social meeting. There will be a program and refreshments.

Hudson Association Election.
Mrs. W. E. Smallwood yesterday was elected president of the Hudson Parent Teacher association. The other officers chosen are: First vice president, Prof. M. C. Diekson; second vice president, Mrs. Theodore Carroll; secretary, Miss Helen Nelson; treasurer, Mrs. Irvin Oliver. It was decided to give a dinner in the near future for the parents, teachers and children of the school. At the meeting to be held in two weeks, Mrs. Allen Gilbert will give her paper on "The Spiritual Training of the Child in the Home."

Chapter F Meets.
Chapter F of the P. E. O. Sisterhood met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Leslie Miller, 1217 Hawthorne avenue. Miss Francine Miller was initiated into the sisterhood. Some matters of business were attended to and plans were made for the forthcoming state convention. Mrs. Duffield, state organizer, was present as a guest. The afternoon closed with a social hour and the serving of refreshments.

Eliot Association Meets.
The Eliot Parent Teacher association met in regular session yesterday. It was expected that the annual election of officers would be held, but on account of the absence of both the president and vice president, this important business was postponed and will take place at a later date.

The school orchestra gave some pleasing selections. Miss Eileen Sprague gave a piano number and Miss Margaret Alexander gave a vocal solo. The principal feature of the afternoon was an address by City Superintendent L. R. Alderman. He spoke on the value of a better acquaintance between teachers and parents. He urged the association to increase its membership and thus broaden its usefulness.

Election of Officers.
Recounting the good work that Mrs. H. E. Fingsten has rendered the Oregon City Women's club as secretary during the past year, the members of that organization yesterday chose her to be their president for the coming year. Mrs. O. B. Ely was elected first vice president; Mrs. Nellie M.

Aldredge, second vice president; Miss Alma Moore, recording secretary; Mrs. M. M. Charman, financial secretary, and Mrs. C. A. Nash, treasurer. These officers will be installed at the last meeting of the year, June 25.

The social program was in charge of Mrs. D. C. Latourette, who gave an interesting paper on "The Prophets and Their Work."

Y. W. C. A. News.
At the vesper service next Sunday at 4:30, L. J. Beebe, who has recently returned from Siam, will give a talk on the work of the Laos mission in that country. A social hour will follow the service.

Miss Lina B. James, general secretary of the local association, will take an early vacation this year. She leaves next Tuesday for a visit to relatives and friends in Chicago and the other cities of the east. Miss James expects to be gone a month.

High water mark for the swimming pool department was reached last month. With 175 new members, this department now has an enrollment of 1064. A 75 per cent gain has been made since the recent installation of the new refiltration plant.

The 11 Bible study classes under the direction of Miss Stafford, secretary of religious work, are all interested in their work and preparations are being made for outdoor Bible study classes to be held during the summer months. Any one interested in the formation of such a class can see Miss Stafford about it.

Meeting for Woman's Building.
The meeting held in central library yesterday afternoon to further consider the matter of a woman's building for Portland was marked by enthusiasm and an optimism that spell success for this big venture of the women of Portland. The old committees were dissolved and a new temporary organization was perfected, with Mrs. Alice Weister, president; Mrs. John Hall, first vice president; Mrs. S. Blumauer, secretary.

Many plans were presented and many excellent ideas were advanced. Mrs. W. S. Fortner suggested selling shares of stock at $10 per share to pool in groups of 10 when a woman does not care to buy a share alone. Mrs. Josephine Sharp supplemented this plan with additional ideas. Mrs. G. J. Frankel, the newly elected president of the Portland Woman's club, was made chairman of the finance committee, and Mrs. L. T. Hidden, original chairman of the sites committee, made a good report and was reappointed to serve on that committee. The board will consist of Mrs. E. E. Coovert, Mrs. Mrs. McCord, Mrs. Blumauer, Mrs. Rockwell, Mrs. Voorhorst and the above officers. The next meeting will be called by the directors.

Psychology Club Reception.
A large number of members and friends of the Portland Psychology club enjoyed a reception and view of the pictures now on display at central library by the Mutual Art association last evening.

Corriente Club Meets.
Panama was discussed at the meeting of the Corriente club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Chambers, 1230 Williams avenue. The luncheon table was graced by bowls of fragrant Papa Gotti's roses. Roll call was answered with matters of interest concerning Panama. Mrs. Charlotte Holcomb gave an unusually fine paper on "The Natives and Their Customs." Miss Chambers gave two piano solos. Mrs. Helen Davenport, one of the most beloved members of the club, gave an excellent paper on "The French and Americans in Panama." Mrs. Rhoda DePenning read a cutting from Scribner's entitled, "A Benevolent Despotism." The guests in their afternoon were Mrs. M. M. Gavin, Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Etta Rossman.

Club and Association Notes.
The general council of the Portland Parent Teacher association will maintain a booth at the new public market tomorrow. The booth, which is in general charge of Mrs. E. A. Jackson, will be located in the Goodwood building. At this booth will be sold pies, cakes, bread, doughnuts, canned fruits, jellies, salads, brown bread, beans and all the

FRATERNAL NOTES

W. O. W. Camps Own Valuable Piece of Property.
Drill Team Gives Dance.
Thursday evening, May 28, an informal dance is to be given by the drill team of Prospect Camp No. 140, Woodmen of the World at W. O. W. temple, Eleventh near Washington. This closes the season, which has been a very successful one for the treasury and a very pleasant one for all who attended. The W. O. W. temple at Eleventh near Washington streets is nearly paid for. It was built about seven and a half years ago, and, together with the lot, represents an investment of over $32,000. It is owned by local camps of the order, and is worth several times what it cost.

Clerk Long at Desk.
George W. Tabler, clerk of Prospect camp, Woodmen of the World, holds the record of being the local clerk longest in continuous service in Portland. He assumed his post in 1897 and still looks young. In the same camp Charles C. Scott has been local banker for the same time. The United Degree team of Portland comprise a novel fraternal organization. It is composed of representatives of all the degree teams of the Woodmen of the World in this city. It meets every Sunday morning in the west side Woodmen temple, and helps to make Woodcraft entertaining, fraternal and keep it vigorous.

Meet in New Hall.
Wednesday evening, in spite of the storm, Multnomah council, Royal Arcanum, had a most enjoyable evening celebrating their first meeting in the new hall, Masonic temple, C. A. Nelson won the prize of a box of cigars. Refreshments were present. All ordinary programs.

At the A. O. U. W. luncheon at the Hazelwood Thursday noon four candidates for governor were present. A very enjoyable fellowship hour was held.

Willametta council, Royal Arcanum, holds its first meeting in its new hall, Masonic temple, Monday evening, May 18.

The executive committee of the Oregon Grand Council, Royal Arcanum, has unanimously indorsed the action of the northwest delegates to the national council in supporting Seattle for the next meeting.

Vernon lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, has a membership of over 80, and meets every Tuesday evening at Albert street, between East Seventeenth and East Eighteenth street north. It has been organized a little over a year and holds very interesting sessions.

WHAT LABOR IS DOING

Building Trades Boost for All Oregon Products.
Oregon Building Wanted.

Efforts are being made by representatives of the building trades in cooperation with citizens throughout the state to secure made-in-Oregon materials for the state building at the Panama-Pacific exposition. The idea is to have not only the construction that can not be produced or manufactured in Oregon.

Easy Distributing Cards.
Many otherwise idle workmen have been employed the past few days at the interesting task of passing election tickets and lists. The union of workers in this industry, but a good many union men have been engaged in it. The scale of wages varies from 10 to 15 cents an hour, and is a hard cash. The latter very seldom, owing to the corrupt practices act. The list of names was almost deserted Thursday afternoon, May 14.

Other good things which the Portland mothers know so well how to make. All proceeds will go to the work of the council. Contributions of supplies and liberal patronage are solicited.

The Sisterhood of Rodney Avenue Christian church will give a home cooked food sale at the east side public market Saturday morning from 8 till 11.

Key Announces Appeal.
Salem, Ore., May 15.—Treasurer Kay was served today with a writ of mandamus, issued by Judge Galloway of the Marion county circuit court, ordering him to deliver the $800 or more school fund notes and mortgages to the clerk of the state land board before May 23. Mr. Kay said he would appeal the case to the supreme court, and that he would not give up possession of the notes until the supreme court ordered him to.

Ex-Brigham raised his hand and said would she please give him the address of those heathens.

Unless Hen Van Ness & Bol Haynes make up they want he any baseball this afternoon, Hen owning the only baseball in the school & Bol having the only regular bat. They had a quarrel because Hen just accidentally happened to skiwir a moutiful of water at Bol while he was getting the bat out the tank & it happened to get all oover Bol's riting lessun which he had got almost dum. Hen offered to rite it oover for Bol but Bol would not let him, Hen being the worst riter in school. Seems to us it was Bol's fault anyhow, he having no blness with his riting out where it could get best. Any fellers's lible to skiwir water & if he didnt want his old riting spoiled why didnt he get it out of the way, says we? Any how, fellers, mark it up because we want to play baseball.

Little Stories for Bedtime BY THORNTON W. BURGESS

Retail the Hawk Fools Old Man Coyote.
Retail the Hawk sat straight and still on a branch of a big pine tree on his side of the pile of brush, under which Peter Rabbit was hiding. Because he was high up and his eyes are sharp he could see Old Man Coyote and Reddy and Granny Fox hiding where each could watch a different side of the pile of brush. It had been Old Man Coyote's plan, and when he had rigged it he had seemed very good to Retail. Peter Rabbit couldn't stay forever under that brush, and when he did come out one of them would be sure to get brush. A fat Rabbit was worth being patient and waiting a long time for. In fact, Retail wouldn't have minded the long wait at all, but for Blackie the Crow and Sammy Jay. For a while they screamed themselves hoarse. You know, whenever they see Old Man Coyote or Granny or Reddy Fox or Retail the Hawk they delight in telling everybody within hearing, and in that way often give warning of danger to other little people. But never before had they had a chance like this to make a big thing for all four at once, and they made the most of it.

Blackie knew what it all meant. He had seen Reddy Fox chase Peter under the pile of brush, and he knew just why Reddy and the others were hiding now. Of course, he told Peter all about it, and kept screaming to Peter to stay where he was. He didn't do it to help Peter, but to get a good thing for himself. Sammy Jay did the same thing. But Blackie and Sammy haven't a great deal of patience, and after a while they grew tired of staying in one place, so they flew to see what other mischief they could get into. They felt sure that Peter was so badly frightened that he would run to come out for a long time, and when they grew tired of other sport they would come back. Retail watched them go, and sighed a great sigh of relief. They were very disturbing, those two fellows, and he wished he was smart enough to catch them.

With these two noise makers out of the way, the Green Forest grew very still. Retail sat so still that he looked almost like a part of the tree itself. He wasn't asleep. Oh, my, no! His keen eyes were wide open, watching that brush pile for some sign of Peter Rabbit. And as he watched he began to think.

"It may be that Peter will stay there all the rest of the afternoon," thought he. "If he stays until after dark I can't catch him, for my eyes are far seeing only in the daytime. I will have to go home, and that will mean that Granny or Reddy Fox or Old Man Coyote will get him. If I can't have him myself I don't want any of them to. They have hunted so much on the Green Meadows and in the Green Forest that it is getting hard work for an honest Hawk to find enough to eat. Ha, I have an idea! I will tell Hooty the Owl, and he can take my place. He can see as well at night as I can in the daytime."

So just before jolly, round, red Mr. Spin went to bed behind the Purple Hills Retail flew away. Old Man Coyote watched him go and grinned. Old Man Coyote is very sly and clever. He had known all the time that Retail would have to go when it grew dark, and he had planned to let Peter Rabbit know that he was watching from that side and then very softly creep around to the side Retail had left. He thought Peter would think that side unwatched and so would try to get out that way.

So Old Man Coyote grinned as he watched Retail fly away. He waited a little while to be sure that he was not coming back. Then he made a little noise so that Peter would hear him. After that he prepared to steal softly around to the side Retail had left unguarded. Just as he started he looked over at the tree Retail had left. Then he stopped, rubbed his eyes and looked again. Some one was watching there. It was—yes, it was Hooty the Owl! Old man Coyote ground his teeth. He had given himself away to Peter Rabbit and now some one else was watching where he had meant to watch. He had been fooled by Retail the Hawk.

handling children, and nowadays children's teeth receive just as careful attention from the dentist as those of adults.

Probably one of the best ways to make a start is to go into a dentist's office as secretary and assistant. The actual practice you get with him could be supplemented by attendance at a school and home study. With him you would have under your eyes the many cases coming to him day by day, and you would learn the routine of the work. You would soon be capable of doing the lesser jobs, and you would find out quickly whether or not the profession appealed to you and whether you had good hands and a steady nerve.

A good dentist makes good money, and there is nothing to prevent a woman from becoming expert in the profession.
