Annual Address Last Night. With two score delegates present from all parts of the diocese, the twen-ty-sixth annual convention of the dio-cese of Oregon of the Episcopal church convened this morning in the Trinity church parish house, following a prep-aration meeting last night at St. Ste-phen's pro-cathedral, and a big meeting phen's pro-cathedral, and a big meeting

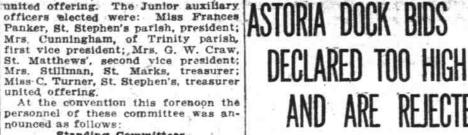

The auxiliary meeting was one of the largest gatherings of Episcopal women ever held in the state, more than 200 delegates being in attendance. The principal matter up before the convention this morning was the ap-pointment of various committees. This afternoon will be given over to re-ports. At St. Stephens last night Bishop Scadding gave his annual address in which he told of the growth of the dio-

This being the sixtieth anniversary of the diocese, he spoke of the fact and expressed the hope that the dio-cese may be moved to add materially to the Bishop Morris Jubilee fund, which is used for the extension of the church in the diosese. He also ap-pealed to the church at large to create a pension fund for aged and infirm

The successful operation of these shops in Portland is the goal we have aimed at from the start of this business fifteen years ago.

This has been made possible by the public support of our Mill-to-Man policy.

It strengthens our old established policy of better clothes for less by the elimination of the middleman.

And at the start of this home industry, the payroll distributed to our skilled workers is on a basis of seventy-five thousand dollars a year.

This payroll will grow larger and larger as more and more discriminating men learn the value and economy of these suits at fifteen dollars.

A Display of Men's Suits that every man in Portland will be proud of.

The fabrics are from Oregon-grown pure wool woven into the nationally-known Oregon Buckskin Cloths by Oregon Mills.

These are made in our own daylight shops in Portland-the first clothing factory established in the Northwest.

The workmanship is by the highest type of skilled tailors and all garments bear the label of the Tailors' Industrial Union-Local 74.

Your inspection of these suits is invited whether you are ready to buy now or later support of the church institutions which ficlude the Good Samaritan fors-pital, St. Helen's hall and the Bishop Scott academy. Steady Growth Shown. The diacess, he said, has shown a healthy and vigorous growth and the promise of more efficient work is bright. The alumnae of St. Helen's hall, he said, have started an endow-ment fund for the institution which ought to be increased to $100,000. He reviewed the work of the Episco-pal Social Service league and com-mended the work, which, he said, re-futes the popular misconception that the church does nothing for the "down and out." "A men's reading room has been opened in the north end," he said, "and its usefulpess has been demonstrated.
