ANDERSON ON SHORT END

Bud Anderson, the Vancouver Wash. fighter, will be on the short end of the odds in his bout with Frank Barriou of Vancouver, B. C., at the Coliseum, the odds at present are 10 to 7, but Anderson says in a letter that he expects them to be 2 to 1 on the day of the battle.

Anderson is in fine shape and boxes from 6 to 12 hours every day, besides doing a little bag punching, throwing the medicine ball and skipping rope. Anderson has as his sparring partners Billy Weeks, Jimmy Fox, Rough House Charley Burns, Johns and Dupuis. Bud also takes a six mile hike every morning.

M'COY-MURRAY TONIGHT

New York, May 21.—With the winner promised an early date with Mike Gibbons, New York fight fans expected to see lots of action here tonight when Fighting Billy Murray of Sacramento and Al McCoy of Brooklyn, middleweights, clash in a scheduled 10 round bout. The articles call for the two men to weigh in at 158 pounds.

TERRY M'KUNE MARRIED

William "Terry" McKune slipped quietly over to Vancouver, B. C., last night with Manager Nick Williams, of the Colts at his elbow, and was married to Miss Ina F. McKune of Dunsmuir, Cal. The nuptials began at Pendleton last year when McKune was manager of the Pendleton club of the Western Tri-State league. His return to fast baseball as second baseman of the Portland Colts has been one of the surprises of the season.

Vancouver Beats Columbia.

Vancouver high school baseball team defeated the Columbia university team on the local athletic field yesterday in a game marked by hard hitting, by a score of 12 to 7. During the first five innings things went along nicely, but after that time it developed into a contest in which both sides contended for the greatest number of hits and errors, both of which were plentiful. Terrill pitched for the local team and had been accorded any support whatever would have had an easy time of it throughout the entire game.

Associated Press Was Wrong Again

Huerta Denies, With Much Emphasis, Report That He Authorized His Envoy to Offer His Resignation. Mexico City, May 21.—President Huerta was very angry today when he learned that publication had been made in the United States on the Associated Press' authority of the statement that he had authorized his envoy at Niagara Falls to offer his resignation. Denying it, with much emphasis, he declared: "The envoy is not authorized to offer my resignation," and added: "I intend to hold on to the end."

Huerta's position was correctly stated by the United Press.

Ex-Civil Governor Bobs Up.

Chicago, May 21.—For a man who declared he was now "nigger" Robert Kerr, civil governor of Vera Cruz for a few hours following its occupation by Admiral Fletcher, expressed himself oddly today. "I told Secretary of War Garrison," he said, "that when the story of the last year and two months is written, I was convinced it would be the blackest page in the history of American diplomacy." Kerr had just arrived from Vera Cruz by way of Washington, where he tried vainly to see President Wilson. He was told the president was already in possession of all the information he needed concerning Mexican conditions, and was too busy to grant him an interview.

Kerr is a lawyer practicing both in Chicago and Mexico City. Being in Vera Cruz when the American forces landed he was given the post of governor. He was considered a strange selection at the time, having been a severe critic of the Washington administration's Mexican policy. His tenure was brief, however. Secretary Garrison said he was responsible for Vera Cruz's conditions while American troops were in control there, and wanted affairs administered by a man directly under his orders. Accordingly when General Funston arrived he assumed full charge of the situation and the civil governorship was abolished. "I'm not sure," said Kerr. "My removal was not political."

Cameron on Probation.

Los Angeles, May 21.—Judge Taft placed Jim Cameron, negro pugilist, on probation for three years, ordering him to pay $20 monthly to support the child of Mrs. Jessie Williams. The court remarked that he believed Cameron to be a better cement mixer than fighter.

NEW LARGEST VESSEL REACHES NEW YORK; IS WONDER OF SEAS

Vaterland Is 950 Feet Long and of 54,000 Tons; Rooms Like a Palace.

BANQUET HALL SEATS 800

In Addition There Are a Ritz-Carlton Restaurant, a Palm Room and a Grill Room as Features.

(United Press Special Wire.) New York, May 21.—The Hamburg-American liner Vaterland, the largest vessel afloat, arrived here today on her maiden voyage. She was given a noisy welcome. The vessel sailed May 14 and averaged 23.4 knots.

A flotilla of tugs struggled with the Vaterland four hours before she was conveyed to her berth. Meanwhile navigation on North river was practically tied up.

The vessel made 594 miles yesterday. While closely resembling her famous sister ship, the Imperator, the Vaterland exceeds her in all dimensions. The new queen of the seas measures 950 feet, or nearly five city blocks, in length. She is 100 feet in width and has a tonnage of 58,000.

Not only does the Vaterland eclipse all previous records for size, but she represents the very latest idea of artistic elegance and mechanical wonders. Some of the leading decorators of Europe were engaged to design and furnish her magnificent salons, dining rooms, grand hall and suites. The main salon is the largest hall of its kind ever constructed on shipboard.

The woodwork is of solid mahogany. There is an open fireplace, and natural light floods the hall through a number of drawing room windows. The hangings consist of almost priceless tapestries, and oriental rugs of the finest weaves cover the floors.

Dining Room Like Banquet Hall. The main dining room resembles the banquet hall of a great hotel. It will accommodate 800 diners at one time. The great size and steadiness of the vessel have made it possible to furnish the dining room with movable chairs, in place of the swivel seats attached to the floors, common to ocean steamships. In addition to the main dining room the big ship has a Ritz-Carlton restaurant, a grill room and a palm garden.

Everywhere on the Vaterland has been designed to look as much like a ship as human ingenuity can do it. The windows are shaped and curtained like a private house. Elevators take the passengers from one deck to another. For the millionaires the state-rooms are as beautiful as the skill of the first decorators of the world can make them. In the regal suites, as they are called, there are two bath-rooms, two bedrooms, a dining room and reception room. The beds are of brass, without a suggestion of the bunk about them. Special attention has been paid to the arrangement of the lights and the closet space. The suites are furnished in a variety of decorative styles and color schemes to satisfy every taste.

The second cabin has its special social and dining rooms, ladies' lounge and smoking room. The third cabin also has its separate public rooms, and its staterooms are built to accommodate the Titanic disaster. The big ship has a complete inner skin, extending far above the water line. The water tight compartments are so arranged that even though a large number of them were flooded the ship would still float. An innovation is a complete fire department, with a system of signals covering every part of the ship, and a staff of fire fighters recruited from the fire departments of German cities. There are, of course, in addition to this numerous other safety devices, such as submarine signals and life-boats and rafts sufficient to accommodate everyone aboard. Her powerful wireless apparatus will enable her to keep continuously in touch with land.

The Vaterland will run between Hamburg and New York in seven days. Her four powerful propellers set a new standard for size in such construction. Each has a diameter of 19 feet 7 inches and weighs nearly 15 tons. The propellers are made of the finest quality of manganese bronze. Triple expansion engines, driven by a dozen double boilers, will propel the great steamship. For navigation purposes a Kreisel compass, pointing always to the true pole, will be used. This instrument is entirely independent of the earth's magnetism.

Has Own Fire Department.

Every conceivable precaution has been taken in the construction and equipment of the Vaterland to assure the safety as well as the comfort of the passengers and crew. Like all great ocean liners constructed since the Titanic disaster, the big ship has a complete inner skin, extending far above the water line. The water tight compartments are so arranged that even though a large number of them were flooded the ship would still float. An innovation is a complete fire department, with a system of signals covering every part of the ship, and a staff of fire fighters recruited from the fire departments of German cities.

Penrose Won by 100,000 Plurality

Results Show Thoroughness of Republican Machine in Pennsylvania; Palmer's Plurality Was 50,000.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 21.—Practically complete returns from Tuesday's Pennsylvania primaries gave Boies Penrose the Republican senatorial nomination by 100,000 plurality. A. Mitchell Palmer was the Democratic choice by 50,000 plurality. Gifford Pinchot was the unopposed Progressive nominee. For governorship nomination the results were: Brumbaugh, Republican, 125,000; McCormick, Democrat, 25,000, and Lewis, Progressive, unopposed. The Republican machine generally won.
