"Do the doctors hold out any hope of Finnegan's recovery?" "Not yet! Finnegan still has money."

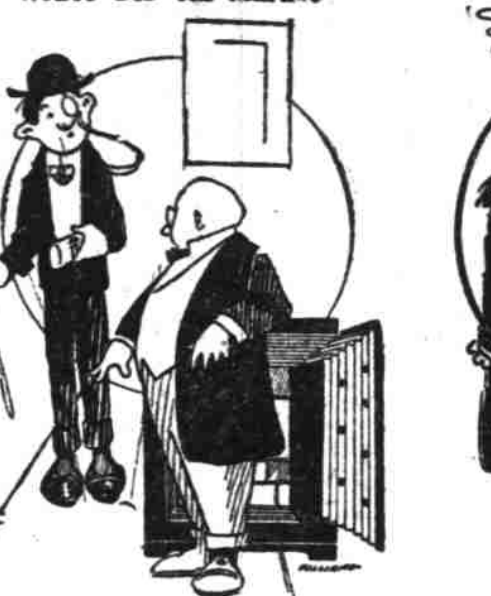

Sunniface—I hear the joke writers have a union. Think they'll ever go on strike? Grouchmore—No such luck.

Dad—What's your objection to that young fellow, Jaysport? First Chauffeur—His clothes are so awfully pronounced and his English is pronounced so awfully.

First Chauffeur—Bill got fined $500 for taking his employer's car without permission! Second Chauffeur—But how did the boss know he took the car? First Chauffeur—Why, Bill ran over him.

The Poor Nephew—You will have to depend on my earnings to repay this loan. The Rich Uncle—It would be small loss.

Young Lady—Doctor, I'm going on a trip; can you tell me how to avoid seasickness? Wise Doc—Take a train.

Goodbye—in this town, old man, you can't get away any place without dropping a dollar or two. Wiseguy—Drop a cent in a scale there and get a weight with it.

New Reporter—What's the difference between a writer and an author? Old Reporter—if a writer is invited to a big dinner he becomes an author.

Prospector Held To Answer Charge

Frank Larisch, an old German, is being held at Canyonville, Ore. May 21—Charged with an attempt to kill his partner in a mining prospect, Frank Larisch, an old German, was brought to Canyonville by Deputy Sheriff Hopkins from Tiller yesterday and was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. W. Cross. From the evidence it appeared that Larisch had met Saturday afternoon a fellow countryman named Bach at Grants Pass, who, at the suggestion of the former, secured the necessary outfit and proceeded to the neighborhood of Dumour Bar, 25 miles from here. On arrival there some misunderstanding arose, with the result that Bach demanded his share of the outfit, but was driven off by Larisch, it is alleged, at the end of a gun.

Big Horse Bucks And Runs Away

Impromptu Exhibition on Klamath Falls Street When "Red Bird" Tries to Throw Earl Simpson, Vaquero. Klamath Falls, Ore., May 21.—That the worst bucking horse are not always those weighing less than 1000 lbs. at the entrance to Chanticleer Tavern similar to entrance arches on forest reserves was referred to Roadmaster Yeon. Superintendent of Bridges Murnane submitted a detailed statement showing $149.25 in repairs necessary because of the damage done to the British steamer Lord Londale and the Morrison and Burnside bridges with a memorandum of evidence to establish the cause of the damage. The report was referred to District Attorney Evans for his information. Roadmaster Yeon requested information as to whether the board would break the rule that county machinery cannot be loaned or rented that Gresham might secure the use of a road grader. The letter was filed without action.

COUNTY COURT NEWS

The request of A. R. Morgan of Corbett for authority to erect a log archway at the entrance to Chanticleer Tavern similar to entrance arches on forest reserves was referred to Roadmaster Yeon. Model of Logging Shown in New York

Forests Products Exposition Opens There; Government Demonstrates Scientific Logging Operations. New York, May 21.—Models representing an acre of western yellow pine land in a national forest of the southwest before and after logging, were shown here today by the government bureau in Washington at the opening of the forests products exposition. In the model showing the stand before the lumberman goes into it the trees range from those a few years old to large, overmature, stag-headed individuals more than ready for the ax. In the second model the mature trees and all the others larger than a certain diameter have been cut and made into logs and cordwood. Special attention is called to the low cutting to avoid unnecessary waste.

Does Tango Make Wrinkles?

Now comes the calamity howler who claims that dancing the tango is conducive to wrinkles and a drawn expression—this claim made in the face of the fact that in Argentina, home of the tango, the beautiful girls who dance women is proverbial and the professional dancers have especially smooth skins. In Spain, where athletic dances are so common, the women have the most refined type of beauty in the world. The wrinkles of American women are due more to improper care of the skin, neglect of the most important activity. They may be avoided or cured by using a simple protective and stimulative vegetable cream jelly before retiring at night. Just get one ounce of aloe from your drugist—dissolve it in 2 pint of water and draw the skin smooth, will not grow back and immediately forces the blood to build out the flesh so wrinkles disappear.—Adv.

Topographical maps of the Oregon national forests, located just east of Portland and south of the Columbia river, in the Cascades, and of the Columbia national forest, occupying a similar position just north of the Columbia, are now on hand at the office of the United States forest service, 413 Beck building, available for free distribution. The maps are of value to hunters or anyone who has occasion to traverse these forests, for they show every trail, road, ranger station, telephone line, creek, meadow and, in fact, anything that shows any particular spot distinction. Mount Adams, Mount St. Helens and Spirit Lake are all within the Columbia forest, and these are famous camping spots. Mount Hood is the distinctive piece of natural architecture in the Oregon forest, which includes also the Bull Run reserve, from which Portland gets its water supply. The historic old Barlow road, built before 1850, crosses the Oregon forest.

Foreign. Socialists hooted and jeered when the German imperial parliament adjourned and refused to leave their seats as an indication of disrespect of the emperor. Some of them were arrested. Prince William, duke of Albania, decided to banish Essad Pasha, ex-minister of war, because the former official was fomenting a revolution. A torpedo was exploded in Mexico, killing 15 persons. Enormous hailstones fell during the storm.

Eastern. Mrs. Pauline Tubbe of Chicago turned over to the court her baby for security for a $33 board bill. The mother will be allowed to visit the child at any time, but cannot take it away until she has paid. "General" Coxy, who marched from Ohio to Washington at the head of a small army of unemployed men, has been granted permission to speak from the capital steps.

Marine foods contain the solution of the high cost of living, according to Dr. Mary Pennington of the federal bureau of food and drugs. The foods, which are rich in vitamins, address oystermen at Atlantic City, N. J. Victor Banoni, a bartender at Trinidad, Colo., was arrested charged with the murder of Edward Kennedy, who was killed in the fight between the coal mine strikers' "flying column" and the militia at Forbes, April 29.

Police detectives raided a cache in the Mexican quarter at Phoenix, Ariz., and seized 150 modern rifles and 20,000 rounds of ammunition. Mrs. Rebecca Soltz, 24, and her son, 14, were killed in a fire which destroyed a three-story frame building there. A 4-year-old girl was so badly burned that physicians hold out little hope for her recovery.

E. C. Griffin, general agent of the Chicago & Northwestern, is spending the week in eastern Oregon in readiness for the big rush of wool shipments. He expects to pilot the big flock of sheep at Pilot Rock on Saturday.

RAILROAD NEWS

Practically Every Shipper Is Affected by New Order of I. C. C.

Responsibility Cannot Be Shifted. Common carriers in adjustment of freight claims can no longer shield themselves from responsibility by accepting the authority of a connecting line to pay it, according to an interstate commerce commission ruling just received by Portland traffic men. The order affects practically every shipper, inasmuch as it applies not only to lines on which business originates, but every line over which a shipment travels.
