

PLAN TO MAKE ALL FEEL AT HOME HERE ROSE FESTIVAL WEEK

Boosters From Portland Organizations Confer and Map Out Work.

OPEN HOUSE IS FEATURE

Training Ship Boston and O. F. G. Armory Will Invite Visitors During Entire Season.

Rose Festival boosters from 20 different Portland organizations, who conferred at luncheon at the Commercial club yesterday, so actively took up the principle that visitors should be made welcome during carnival week that they decided to hold another session next Friday and report exactly what their official memberships would do to help.

Here are some of the suggestions tentatively made yesterday: Third Oregon regiment, Oregon National Guard, will hold open house at the Armory throughout the week, according to Colonel C. H. Martin.

Captain Blair of the U. S. S. Boston announced that the ship would be dressed and manned for the enjoyment of visitors, with regular launch service from the Stark street municipal dock.

Mrs. Bertha Taylor Voorhees of the Greater Portland Plans association suggested that a rest room for women visitors be established in some centrally located downtown building.

Mrs. Colista M. Dowling of the State Women's Press club suggested that all the women's organizations be allowed carte blanche for one day's entertainment of visitors.

J. E. Werlein, representing the A.S. club, suggested the best way to produce the Rose Festival spirit is for everybody to begin wearing rose now and during the festival to exhibit enthusiasm for the encouragement of others.

L. E. Beach, representing the Sons of the Spanish War Veterans, announced that officers and men of the cavalry troop would be on duty for the benefit of visitors.

R. H. Atkinson of the O.-W. R. & N. Co. told the gathering his company could be looked to to offer any assistance possible to make the visitors welcome.

Reports from practically all the clubs indicated that open house will be kept throughout the week and suggestion was made that every member of every organization represented at the luncheon wear constantly during the week a "Reception Committee" badge, so visitors may be at liberty to accept any of those on the street to ask information.

Among the women attending the luncheon and making suggestions were Mrs. Nugent of the North Portland Commercial club, Mrs. Bondurant of the Portland Woman's club, Mrs. Knott of the Ladies of the Maccabees and Mrs. Hughes of the Michigan society.

Patronage of Public Market Increases

Number of Farmers With Produce to Sell Shows Gain—High Prices Not Charged, It Is Declared.

Attendance and patronage of Portland's central public market on Yamhill street, are becoming better. More American farmers are coming and the supply of vegetables and berries is better.

So far, the market has averaged an attendance of about 40 farmers each day, while 100 are expected on Saturday. Market officials state that settlement of prices at the market is unjustifiable, as the farmers are all willing to sell at a lower price than asked in private markets. The market master of the public market will keep the vendors informed of current prices.

That the market is having a salutary effect on private market prices is indicated by the latter cutting prices to those of the public market.

It is expected the city will erect another row of stands for Saturday's market. The list of attending producers is being increased regularly by J. A. Eastman, who visits the farmers of the county and urges them to bring in their produce.

According to Eugene Brookings, head of the public market association, Mayor Albee did not state that the city would attempt to regulate prices at the market. The mayor absolutely repudiates any statement of the kind attributed to him," said Mr. Brookings this morning, "and believes that prices will adjust themselves."

Pennsylvania Vote Is Still Coming In

Republicans Polled Over 350,000, Democrats About 225,000, With Progressive Vote Comparatively Light.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 22.—Returns received from 51 of 67 counties indicate that the Republican vote in Tuesday's primaries was more than 350,000. The total vote so far for Penrose and Dimmick, senatorial contenders, is 284,522. The Democrats are believed to have polled about 225,000 votes. The Washington Progressive party vote was believed to have been light, but figures are not yet available.

Checks Were Forgeries. Oakland, Or., May 22.—J. P. Crouch of Oakland and "Doc" Pierson of Sutherlin were victims of forged checks by C. E. White, a transient. White had been employed by H. E. Krueger, a farmer living a few miles east of Oakland, and was paid in full for his services last Saturday. Yesterday he purchased some things from J. P. Crouch and presented a check for $37, signed apparently by Hilda E. Krueger for payment, which was accepted. He did the same thing in Sutherlin with a check for $44. Today it became known that the checks were forgeries. The sheriff at Roseburg has been notified.

Paul Is Normal Boy. Centralia, Wash., May 22.—Paul Markley, the small son of George Markley, resident of Centralia, incident on seeing a circus which he saw advertised, Tuesday night boarded a Grays Harbor train, crawled under a seat and was not discovered until the train reached Aberdeen. The Aberdeen police yesterday morning sent him back.

Jordan Criticizes War-Like Colonel

Chancellor of Stanford Takes Issue With Roosevelt, Who Calls Peace Advocates Mischievous Persons.

San Francisco, May 22.—Writing from Aden Arabia, Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Stanford university, has taken issue with Colonel Roosevelt's recent criticism of distinguished peace advocates. Dr. Jordan is studying the effects of the recent Balkan war in southern Europe.

Criticizing Colonel Roosevelt's declaration that "there are no more utter-ly useless and often utterly mischiev-ous citizens than the peace at any price, universal arbitration being and that there is every reason to remem-ber that in the present state of civi-lization a proper armament is the sur-est guaranty of peace, and is the only guaranty that war, if it does come, will not mean irreparable and overwhelm-ing disaster," Dr. Jordan said:

"The surest guarantee of peace is to want peace, to cultivate international understanding, to use every means to 'take off the fighting edge' wherever the interests of one nation infringe on those of another. As to 'peace at any price,' again we say let us see your price lists first. Let us find out what we want and count the cost. The peace that Europe enjoys today, the peace of 'proper armament' is not for us. It costs too much—a waste of human effort and of human life that civilization cannot long endure."

Cost of Producing Potatoes Is Sought. H. B. Miller Making Inquiries That Will Tend to Avoid Glut in Market Such as Occurred Last Year.

A year ago so many potatoes were grown in Oregon that to be sold at all they had to be sold at a loss to the purchaser.

H. B. Miller, directing the commercial and industrial survey for the University of Oregon, has undertaken to make impossible such another potato congestion. He is conducting by correspondence an inquiry into costs of producing potatoes in other countries following the principle that manufacturers employ. He will also learn as much as possible about the best and most available markets for potatoes grown in Oregon. The Alaska market reached by the Portland-Alaska Steamship line is among the first suggestions.

The inquiry will cover other products, such as Oregon prunes, which are better than prunes produced elsewhere.

ONE KILLED, TWO ARE WOUNDED IN FIGHT IN S. F. GAMBLING HOUSE

Two Masked Men Enter Road House to Kill Proprietor; He Escapes; Others Fall.

ONE BANDIT IS ARRESTED

"We Want You," Exclaimed the Bandits, Opening Fire at Regan—He Drops to Floor But Is Uninjured.

San Francisco, May 22.—David Williams is dead and Eugene Galatoire and Edward Donovan are injured. Galatoire probably fatally, as a result of the efforts of two masked bandits to kill C. Regan, owner of a roadhouse on San Bruno avenue, about midnight.

Regan escaped through a ruse. Eight men were playing "Klondike" when the masked men entered, paying no attention to the guests or the floor manager, William Markt, both bandits made for Regan.

"We want you," one of them shouted and then opened fire. Regan dropped off a chair, apparently dead, at the first shot. He was uninjured, however.

Markt picked up a revolver and opened fire on the desperado. A bullet struck David Williams, one of the card players, in the head and he fell over dead. Another bullet struck Galatoire, Williams' friend, in the neck. He was taken to the hospital, where it was said today he had an even chance for life.

After the bandits had emptied their revolvers they rushed from the place, followed by a hail of bullets from Markt's revolver.

Later one of the bandits, who gave the name of Edward Donovan, boarded an inbound street car. He was bleeding profusely from a chest wound. "I have been shot," he said. "My partner was shot, too. He is lying dead in a vacant lot behind Regan's roadhouse."

Donovan said his partner's name was James Baily, but no trace of the latter was found.
