Astoria, Or., June 3 .- "I will be sor ry if our operations at the mouth of ing of a transfer point there, shall be taken as a warrant for unwarranted boom and speculation," said President L. C. Gilman of the S. P. & S. Railway company, in an address at Flavel in connection with the beginning of work on the Hill ocean and rail terminal this afternoon.

What was probably a record gathering, representative of the lower Co communities, heard him say that the work undertaken is not for the profit of the real estate speculator who will try to sell worthless lots by showing pictures of the Hill ships and docks. Real estate value. he declared, should be based upon the value of the use to which it is put. Other speakers dwelt upon the same

"These structural enterprises whose beginnings we are met here today to celebrate are the advance facilities of an increased commerce," said Marshall N.
