STEAMSHIP SERVICE TO COOS BAY WILL BE MORE FREQUENT

Geo. W. Elder of North Pato Go on Route.

Captain Jessen Is Expected to Be in Command of Well Known Vessel Thoroughly Overhauled.

Meeting competition into Coos Bay and Eureka with an improved service, the North Pacific Steamship company has decided to put the steamer George W. Elder on that run, commencing next Sunday morning. The Elder has been completely overhauled, and will be practically a new steamer when she reaches here.

News of the decision of Charles P. Doe, president of the North Pacific Steamship company, to place the Elder on the Portland-Coos Bay-Eureka run reached the North Pacific Steamship morning. company's Portland office this morning. It had been rumored that the Elder would be placed on the San Diego-Portland run in connection with the Yucatan and Roanoke, but the more recent decision of the line is to withdraw the steamer Alliance from her run and put the Elder in her place. With the Elder, a much faster boat than the Alliance, available for the run, will be maintained by the North Pacific. They plan on sending the Elder away from Columbia dock No. 1 each Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, and from Astoria at 5 p. m. the same day. She will leave San Francisco tomorrow morning for Portland.

The Elder will be hardly recognizable as the old popular steamer which has made so many trips out of Portland. Her engines are new in every bearing, while the staterooms and dining saloon have been extended out to the sides of the hull and her hull plates heightened above the level of the lower deck. Her furnishings are new throughout, and will make her the finest equipped steamer on the Coos Bay-Eureka-Portland run.

That the Elder will have no trouble feet; 8:50 p. m., 3.6 feet. making the time between these two ports and Portland is the belief of the officials of the North Pacific Steamship company.

STEAMER VIRGINIA SECURED M. H. Houser Engages Craft to Carry Wheat.

M. H. Houser, grain exporter, this morning chartered the British steamer Virginia, now in the orient, to take a cargo of wheat from Portland to the United Kingdom. The Virginia will be here inside of two weeks and load out

The addition of the Virginia to the fleet now under charter to carry grain from this port makes six tramps under charter. It also revives the talk that the Panama canal will be ready for immediate use by vessels, and that the steamer will make the trip through the canal. Should she do so she will have the distinction of being the first grain carrier to use the new waterway. Her cargo will just about clean up the 1913-14 crop.

STEAMER DAMARA IS COMING Luckenbach Liner Will Load Here for New York.

One of the Luckenback Steamship company's vessels, the American steamer Damara will arrive here Thursday morning to take on a heavy cargo of lumber for the canal zone and also a heavy shipment of salmon for New York. She sailed from San Franelsco last night at 10 o'clock.

The Luckenback line recently abandoned its west bound business to this port but will at intervals, it is said, send steamers here for east bound cargo. The Damara has been loading a cargo of merchandise for New York and other Atlantic coast ports at the Bay City and will complete her cargo here. She is to sail for the Atlantic coast on June 15.

LINER HOERDE SAILS TODAY Hamburg - American Steamer Has

Large Cargo on Board. The Hamburg-American liner Hoerde, Captain Hensen, cleared from the customs house this morning, and is to sail for Europe via the Orient and Puget Sound this afternoon. She carried in the neighborhood of 5000 tons of freight, valued at $60,000.

Her cargo included a heavy shipmen of salted hides, valued at $12,919; 10 tons of old horse shoes, worth $603 2500 barrels of flour for Hongkong, worth $14,000; 23,386 bushels of bar-ley, for Antwerp and Hamburg, placed at $12,000; 979,000 feet of lumber, for Oriental ports and Manila, the value of which is placed at about $15,875 and 44 tierces of beef casings, for Ant werp and Rotterdam, valued at $2630.50.
