DAY DAWNED TRIFLE GRAY BUT PORTLAND ROSE EARLY FOR FUN

Committees at the Various Stations Greet Visitors and Extend Warm Welcome.

ORGANIZATIONS EN ROUTE

Visitors' Booths Thrown Open at Every Hotel in City; Placards Purnish Information to Strangers.

The first day of Rose Festival dawned a trifle gray this morning but all Portland rose early for the fun just the same. Visitors to the flesta began arriving in the city by the early overnight trains from Seattle and other points but none arrived too early to be royally received by delegations from the several outside reception com-

At the North Bank depot to meet the 6 o'clock train from Seattle were A. L. Crozier of the Commercial club and E. S. Hinkle of the Transportation club. They were assisted by Station Officer J. F. Johnston,

When the 6:45 pulled in from Seattle at the Union depot, George T. Moore and E. W. Mosber of the Commercial club and F. P. Young and C. L. Horn of the Rotary club were on the job Depot Master G. W. Long and his assistant, A. Timmer, as well as Officer A. Welch and Matron Mrs. Isadora Kelly, also assisted in the welby the committeemen for the later

It had been the intention of the committees to pin a rose on every visitor that alighted from the trains, but the rains of the past week seemingly decreased the expected supply of blooms. Badges were given to every visitor, however, but all rose growers having flowers to contribute for this purpose are asked to send them to the booths at one or another of the stations.

Practically every organization in Portland is lending a hand in welcoming out-of-town visitors to the It is a cooperative work under the general supervision of the Royal Rosarians, and some 5000 men and women are engaged in the task. Visitors' booths opened in all of the hotels promptly at 7 o'clock this morning and will be maintained by the committees on reception throughout the Placards have also been posted in prominent places about town bearing information for visitors.

Visitors' badges can be procured at any one of the booths in the railroad stations, hotels or public buildings. For the convenience of strangers the Unitarian church, Broadway and Yamhill streets, has been set aside as the official rest room of the Festival. It will be open from 12 noon until 6 p. m. each day, while every afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock a free organ recital will be given there.

Among the visitors who will visit the Festival in organized bodies are the Milwaukee jobbers and manufactions are admitted to all the privileges rs who arrived this morning a sarians and local commercial bodies during their stay in Portland; the Tillicums of the Seattle Potlatch, who will arrive tomorrow and who will be of which will be identifier by the the guests of the Portland Ad club; the Cherrians from Salem, who will be here 200 strong with a band and uni-form drill team, and the Radiators NEBRASKANS ARE INVITED from Eugene.
