

LABOR RIOTS IN EVERY IMPORTANT CITY IN ITALY; MANY KILLED

Disorders Continue Despite Declaring Off of Strike by Working Men.

CENSORSHIP IS STRICT

Italian Government Permits Little News to Leak Out About Conditions; Greater Trouble Feared.

Modane, France, June 12.—Declaring that the past few days of labor trouble in Italy verged at places on civil war, arrivals here from the south denied today that anything like the real seriousness of the situation has been revealed to the outside world by the strictly censored dispatches which were all the government would permit to be sent out of the country over the state owned telegraph lines.

There was fighting, it was asserted, in every important Italian city, and in many smaller towns. How many deaths resulted could only be guessed. Some thought there were dozens, some put it at scores, and a few, probably exaggerating, estimated the total would run into three figures. To say that scores were wounded all agreed would be conservative.

Workmen in Revolt.
Though the general strike was called ostensibly as a protest against the shooting of demonstrators against a national fête which monarchists were trying to hold at Ancona, commentators on the situation said it was a symptom of widespread discontent among working men with the almost prohibitive rental rates, the soaring prices of food and clothing, the heavy burden of taxation, relatively low wages, the scarcity of employment and the sternness of the measures taken by the authorities to prevent the stirring up of sentiment against these conditions.

Not only, it was stated, was wire communication concerning the disorders attending the strike strictly censored, but discussions of the subject by telephone were cut off unless carried on with the greatest moderation, and even the mail of persons thought likely to be sending out strike news was carefully watched.

These things were pointed to as indicative of the anxiety the government felt.

Grave Trouble Ahead.
Though the strike was called off at midnight Wednesday, attention was called to the fact that yesterday's rioting was the fiercest of the week. A strongly anti-monarchical movement has developed in Italy in the past few years, it was declared, and many predictions were made that even though the present uprising may be crushed, grave trouble is ahead for the government in the near future.

In Naples troops fired among the Socialist demonstrators, killing one and wounding 10. In Ravenna the soldiers dispersed the crowds at the point of the bayonet.

On their side the demonstrators have fought with clubs, bricks, knives and pistols.

The troops and carabinieri have not escaped unscathed. In some places fierce fighting has occurred over street barricades erected either by troops or the rioters. Heavy damage has been done.

In Plambo, near Pisa, the chief of police was assassinated, the slayer making his escape.

Premier Balandra told the chamber of deputies that at least 100 officers and men had been wounded. The premier did not mention it, but there were reports that a number had been killed.

Osteopaths Open Annual Meeting
Attempt Will Be Made to Bring 1915 National Convention to Portland—Attendance is Large.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Oregon Osteopathic Association opened today at the Hotel Multnomah with a large attendance from all over the state, and a number of osteopathic physicians from Washington. President D. D. Young, of McMinnville, urged untiring work to bring the 1915 national convention to Portland. He praised the unanimous support of the osteopathic profession in its efforts to aid Dr. Van Brakle in his fight to maintain his rights as health officer of Clackamas county.

Dr. H. F. Leonard, of Portland, read a paper on the "Cause and Treatment of Adenoids and Hypertrophied Tonsils." He used clinics in presenting his subject. The discussion was led by Dr. Gertrude L. Gates, of Portland. The convention was divided into four sections for several hours, which were given over to practical demonstrations of technique.

In charge of the demonstrations were: Dr. E. H. White, of Salem, of "Cervical Region"; Dr. P. E. Moore, of Portland, and Dr. W. H. Arnold, of Vancouver, "Dorsal 1-5 and Ribs," and Dr. Elizabeth Lane-Howells, of Corvallis, the "Pelvis."
Tomorrow Dr. A. B. Cunningham and Dr. F. J. Felder, of Seattle, and others will present papers.

Clubs Must Cut to 20 Players on June 15

Coast League No Longer Fears Outlaw Organization. Baum Continues War on Baseball Gambling Evil.

San Francisco, June 12.—Directors of the Pacific Coast league today at their special meeting yesterday, decided to enforce the 20 player limit rule, starting June 15. The rule was winked at with the starting of the Federal league, but the Coast league evidently fears the outlaw organization no longer.

President Baum's crusade against the baseball gamblers was endorsed and he was empowered to continue his fight on the betting evil.

The directors decided to take the delegates to the national association meeting on a tour of the coast cities as part of the entertainment plans made for the 1915 meeting.

ATTACK ON MAZATLAN IS BEGUN BY REBELS

Big Guns of Federals Play Havoc Among Attackers; Hot Fight at Atravesada.

VESSEL RUNS BLOCKADE

General Iturbe Is Making Determined Efforts to Capture Federal City by Storm—Americans Watch Battle.

By Charles H. Raymond.
(United Press Correspondent With the American Fleet.)

U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mexico, June 11.—(By Wireless to San Diego, Cal., June 12.)—The general advance of the rebel army on Mazatlan is on today. Fighting raged all last night and continued today. The American fleet in the harbor is closely watching proceedings.

An attack by the Constitutionalists under cover of darkness last night was repulsed by a rain of artillery fire from the well placed big guns of the federals within the town. Their fire was remarkably accurate and seemed to bother the rebels considerably.

The rebel advance is from the north. Following the capture of a federal outpost near Atravesada, the federals strongly entrenched Atravesada and are putting up a desperate defense there before retiring to the main fortifications guarding the port.

The artillery and small arms fire is continuous, and plainly heard aboard the American warships. The rebel general, Iturbe, is making a desperate effort to take the city by storm. General Oregon, ranking rebel commander on the west coast, is still in the south.

The schooner Sinaloa today ran the blockade maintained by the rebel gunboats and landed a small supply of corn for the half starved populace.

MURRAY BEATS AL M'COY

New York, June 12.—Billy Murray's superiority over Al McCoy was unquestioned today by New York fans after McCoy's miserable showing here last night in a 10 round bout. It was one of the slowest contests seen here in months, McCoy refusing to come out of his shell and fight.

McCoy was on the defensive from the third round to the finish, and his miserable performance brought hisses and boos from the packed house. The only real action was in the eighth round, when both men slugged for a short spell, Murray having the better of the milling. In the last round the Californian's right eye was closed by bumping into an uppercut at close range.

Murray was willing, and tried to make a fight of it, but McCoy refused to open up.

Mendenhall Boat Wins
T. J. Mendenhall's "Virginia" won the two-mile race of the Rose Festival regatta last Tuesday evening by defeating the "Sparrow," "Graying," "Spiridrit" and "Kenosha," which finished in the order named.

The race was two miles and return. The trip down was made in 29 minutes and the return trip was made in 32 minutes.

The same boats will race again Sunday over the regular yacht club course from the Oaks to the Hawthorne bridge.

LEN POWERS TO UMATILLA
Leonard Powers, the local lightweight fighter, will leave for Umatilla, Or., tomorrow night, where he has a 10 round bout scheduled for next Wednesday night.
