When You Go Away

Have The Journal sent to your Summer address.

History can be formed from permanent monuments and records; but lives can only be written from personal knowledge, which is growing every day less, and in a short time is lost forever.—Johnson.

FOUR GREAT DAYS

JUDGMENTS conflict. It is human to differ. We are all born dissenters. There is scarcely a subject on which there is unanimity.

But the vote as to the late festival is practically unanimous. Every guest of the city was surprised and delighted. The spirit was a festival spirit.

The pageants were the best. Even the showers failed to dampen enthusiasm over the monster demonstration.

When practical business men talk in this strain, it is time to turn a deaf ear to the croaking of a few political birds of ill omen.

Business always has its ups and downs, tariff or no tariff. The causes are numerous and world wide.

MILITANCY RETARDS THE cause of woman suffrage in England has undoubtedly been greatly retarded by the outrages on property by the militant faction.

A curious feature about the outrages of the militants is that they are committed and approved by women of education and culture.

"LOGROLLING" AN OFFENSE THE Washington Supreme Court has established a precedent by holding that trading votes by city councilmen is malfeasance in office.

A BIRD CENSUS A CENSUS of birds in the United States is about to be taken, by the department of agriculture with the cooperation of bird lovers throughout the country.

The object is to determine how many birds of particular species, breed within definite areas. It is thought that by a comparison of census figures with others already available it will be possible to ascertain whether the present state and federal laws are effective and whether insectivorous birds are increasing or diminishing in numbers.

be saved if birds were given a chance to live and work. Nature has been, from the beginning, a crusader for bird conservation. The number of insects has been limited by birds and the number of birds by their food supply.

FOOL OF THE FAMILY?

IN OREGON, parades of school children, the welcoming of visitors, the keeping of open house by the chief city, the music of bands and the distribution of flowers are testimonial of peace and good will among men.

In Colorado, the disputants in a civil war between employers and employees are only kept from each other by the presence of federal troops.

Through the uncompromising arrogance and greed of the Rockefeller, men have been dehumanized, women have been shot and children slain.

Senators Chamberlain and Lane of Oregon were among those who opposed the repeal bill to the last.

GOOD TIMES

WHILE calamity howlers are staking their political fortunes on so-called hard times, Chairman Gary of the United States Steel corporation says we are approaching the door of prosperity.

Another manufacturer, who gives favorable testimony is Lewis W. Parker, head of eighteen Southern cotton mills, who asserts that a period of profitable business is right at hand.

When practical business men talk in this strain, it is time to turn a deaf ear to the croaking of a few political birds of ill omen.

Business always has its ups and downs, tariff or no tariff. The causes are numerous and world wide.

THE experiment of bringing country producers and city consumers into closer relations by means of the parcel post is being watched by government officials with great and hopeful interest.

PARCEL POST PURCHASES

THE Washington Supreme Court has established a precedent by holding that trading votes by city councilmen is malfeasance in office.

A BIRD CENSUS A CENSUS of birds in the United States is about to be taken, by the department of agriculture with the cooperation of bird lovers throughout the country.

The object is to determine how many birds of particular species, breed within definite areas.

The department estimates that American farmers lose a billion dollars every year through insect ravages. A vast deal of this could officials has nothing to trade. He is in office as the people's representative, and his vote is not a personal perquisite.

FREE TOLLS

THE passage by the senate of the free-tolls repeal bill was by a vote of 54 to 25.

The Simmons-Norris amendment specifically reserves all American rights under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and was a strong influence in drawing support to the bill.

Through the uncompromising arrogance and greed of the Rockefeller, men have been dehumanized, women have been shot and children slain.

Senators Chamberlain and Lane of Oregon were among those who opposed the repeal bill to the last.
