

NO RAISE IN SALARY FOR DEPARTMENT OF COMMISSIONER DIECK

Recommendations Denied by Majority Vote at Council Meeting.

POLICE GIVEN INCREASE

Position of City Statisticians Will Not Be Created for the Present, Because of Failure of Ordinance.

Recommendations made by Robert G. Dieck, commissioner of public works, for salary increases for employees of his department were rejected by the city council yesterday afternoon, while it allowed all of the other increases and reclassifications sought.

Commissioner Dieck's recommendations were denied by a vote of 3 to 2, Mayor Albee voting with Commissioner Dieck for the salary increases.

The council yesterday allowed an increase of $120 a year for two employees of the civil service bureau and reclassified 26 employees in the water bureau under Commissioner Dieck.

Commissioner Bigelow voted against all of the increases proposed, both Wednesday and yesterday afternoon.

When asked why he had voted for one measure and against the others he stated that he wanted to see the men of the ranks in the police and fire departments get raises as had always been allowed.

His first ordinance up yesterday was for increasing the salaries of Miss Marcia Burton and Mrs. Laura Kennedy.

Both ordinances were defeated by the vote of Commissioners Bigelow, Daly and Brewster.

Commissioner Dieck's ordinance for increasing the salaries of 26 employees from $60 to $120 a year, each.

Both ordinances were defeated by the vote of Commissioners Bigelow, Daly and Brewster.

Commissioner Dieck's ordinance for increasing the salaries of 26 employees from $60 to $120 a year, each.

Both ordinances were defeated by the vote of Commissioners Bigelow, Daly and Brewster.

Commissioner Dieck's ordinance for increasing the salaries of 26 employees from $60 to $120 a year, each.

Both ordinances were defeated by the vote of Commissioners Bigelow, Daly and Brewster.

Commissioner Dieck's ordinance for increasing the salaries of 26 employees from $60 to $120 a year, each.

Both ordinances were defeated by the vote of Commissioners Bigelow, Daly and Brewster.

Commissioner Dieck's ordinance for increasing the salaries of 26 employees from $60 to $120 a year, each.

Both ordinances were defeated by the vote of Commissioners Bigelow, Daly and Brewster.

Commissioner Dieck's ordinance for increasing the salaries of 26 employees from $60 to $120 a year, each.

Both ordinances were defeated by the vote of Commissioners Bigelow, Daly and Brewster.

Commissioner Dieck's ordinance for increasing the salaries of 26 employees from $60 to $120 a year, each.

Both ordinances were defeated by the vote of Commissioners Bigelow, Daly and Brewster.

Commissioner Dieck's ordinance for increasing the salaries of 26 employees from $60 to $120 a year, each.

stalls in the Albina market and the Yamhill street market.

Scott Brooks appeared before the city council this morning and asked a special permit be allowed him to construct a frame building at Fourth and Yamhill, in violation of the building code.

REINSTATEMENT IS REFUSED

Former Patrolmen Not to Get Jobs Back; Engineer Asks Refund.

J. F. Sherill and E. L. Woodward, former patrolmen, were refused reinstatement to the police department by the Municipal Civil Service board meeting yesterday.

Recommendations of Commissioner Dieck for the vacation of East Sixty-second street, between Yamhill and Belmont streets, as sought by James D. Hart and others, were rejected by the city council yesterday.

RICHARD WILLIAMS IS CALLED BY DEATH; A WELL KNOWN CIVILIAN

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Richard Williams, a well known civilian, was called by death yesterday.

Permission Sought to Get Big Balloon

W. M. Davis Meets With Difficulty in Getting Authority to Enter Bull Run Reserve.

William M. ("Pike") Davis is seeking permission to enter the Bull Run reserve and get the balloon "Springfield," which carried Roy Donaldson and Wilber Henderson over the mountains.

Board of Directors Raises Pay From $4500 Per Year to $5000.

The board of directors of the city of Portland has voted to increase the salary of the city superintendent of schools from $4500 to $5000 per year.

GERMAN SYSTEM URGED

Plan of holding continuous sessions through year is given favorable consideration.

With M. G. Munly acting in his capacity of chairman of the board for the school year, the board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS ALDERMAN GIVEN MORE SALARY

The board of directors of the city of Portland has voted to increase the salary of the city superintendent of schools from $4500 to $5000 per year.

The board of directors of the city of Portland has voted to increase the salary of the city superintendent of schools from $4500 to $5000 per year.

Board of Directors Raises Pay From $4500 Per Year to $5000.

The board of directors of the city of Portland has voted to increase the salary of the city superintendent of schools from $4500 to $5000 per year.

GERMAN SYSTEM URGED

Plan of holding continuous sessions through year is given favorable consideration.

With M. G. Munly acting in his capacity of chairman of the board for the school year, the board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

The board of directors of the city of Portland met yesterday.

Educators Visit School Gardens

Party of Some Sixty Persons, Headed by Superintendent of Schools, Arrived in Big Suit Which Was Decided Last Year.

Headed by members of the school board and Superintendent of Schools L. R. Alderman, a party of some 20 city and state educators are today making a tour of inspection of Portland's public school gardens.

Squatters on O. & C. Grant Sue Southern

Same Issue Is Raised as by Intervenor in Big Suit Which Was Decided Last Year.

Asking that the Southern Pacific company be compelled to accept money offered it by settlers for lands of the old O. & C. land grant, suit has just been filed in the United States district court by attorneys for five settlers or "squatters" of Marion county.

The suit, which was originally filed in the circuit courts of Marion county, was removed to the federal court because the United States, through the land grant forfeiture suit, is an interested party.

The bill asks the courts to give an order that would, in effect, bear out the intervenor's contention in the main case. The intervenors demand that the government order the railroad company to carry out the terms of the original grant, which provided for the sale of 160-acre tracts to actual settlers at $2.50 an acre.

The bill alleges that W. R. Smith, Walter E. Hadley, Fred H. Hadley, E. C. McLaughlin and Ira Murray set aside 160-acre tracts in 1907, each tendering the company $400 in gold for 160 acres at $2.50 an acre, and that this tender was refused.

The intervenors, in his decree of last July, ruled against the intervenors and declared the land grant forfeited to the United States, and ordered the suits of the intervenors dismissed. The intervenors, as has the railroad, have appealed.

The bill asks the courts to give an order that would, in effect, bear out the intervenor's contention in the main case. The intervenors demand that the government order the railroad company to carry out the terms of the original grant, which provided for the sale of 160-acre tracts to actual settlers at $2.50 an acre.

The bill alleges that W. R. Smith, Walter E. Hadley, Fred H. Hadley, E. C. McLaughlin and Ira Murray set aside 160-acre tracts in 1907, each tendering the company $400 in gold for 160 acres at $2.50 an acre, and that this tender was refused.

The intervenors, in his decree of last July, ruled against the intervenors and declared the land grant forfeited to the United States, and ordered the suits of the intervenors dismissed. The intervenors, as has the railroad, have appealed.

The bill asks the courts to give an order that would, in effect, bear out the intervenor's contention in the main case. The intervenors demand that the government order the railroad company to carry out the terms of the original grant, which provided for the sale of 160-acre tracts to actual settlers at $2.50 an acre.

The bill alleges that W. R. Smith, Walter E. Hadley, Fred H. Hadley, E. C. McLaughlin and Ira Murray set aside 160-acre tracts in 1907, each tendering the company $400 in gold for 160 acres at $2.50 an acre, and that this tender was refused.

The intervenors, in his decree of last July, ruled against the intervenors and declared the land grant forfeited to the United States, and ordered the suits of the intervenors dismissed. The intervenors, as has the railroad, have appealed.

The bill asks the courts to give an order that would, in effect, bear out the intervenor's contention in the main case. The intervenors demand that the government order the railroad company to carry out the terms of the original grant, which provided for the sale of 160-acre tracts to actual settlers at $2.50 an acre.

The bill alleges that W. R. Smith, Walter E. Hadley, Fred H. Hadley, E. C. McLaughlin and Ira Murray set aside 160-acre tracts in 1907, each tendering the company $400 in gold for 160 acres at $2.50 an acre, and that this tender was refused.

The intervenors, in his decree of last July, ruled against the intervenors and declared the land grant forfeited to the United States, and ordered the suits of the intervenors dismissed. The intervenors, as has the railroad, have appealed.

The bill asks the courts to give an order that would, in effect, bear out the intervenor's contention in the main case. The intervenors demand that the government order the railroad company to carry out the terms of the original grant, which provided for the sale of 160-acre tracts to actual settlers at $2.50 an acre.

The bill alleges that W. R. Smith, Walter E. Hadley, Fred H. Hadley, E. C. McLaughlin and Ira Murray set aside 160-acre tracts in 1907, each tendering the company $400 in gold for 160 acres at $2.50 an acre, and that this tender was refused.

The intervenors, in his decree of last July, ruled against the intervenors and declared the land grant forfeited to the United States, and ordered the suits of the intervenors dismissed. The intervenors, as has the railroad, have appealed.

The bill asks the courts to give an order that would, in effect, bear out the intervenor's contention in the main case. The intervenors demand that the government order the railroad company to carry out the terms of the original grant, which provided for the sale of 160-acre tracts to actual settlers at $2.50 an acre.

The bill alleges that W. R. Smith, Walter E. Hadley, Fred H. Hadley, E. C. McLaughlin and Ira Murray set aside 160-acre tracts in 1907, each tendering the company $400 in gold for 160 acres at $2.50 an acre, and that this tender was refused.

The intervenors, in his decree of last July, ruled against the intervenors and declared the land grant forfeited to the United States, and ordered the suits of the intervenors dismissed. The intervenors, as has the railroad, have appealed.

The bill asks the courts to give an order that would, in effect, bear out the intervenor's contention in the main case. The intervenors demand that the government order the railroad company to carry out the terms of the original grant, which provided for the sale of 160-acre tracts to actual settlers at $2.50 an acre.

The bill alleges that W. R. Smith, Walter E. Hadley, Fred H. Hadley, E. C. McLaughlin and Ira Murray set aside 160-acre tracts in 1907, each tendering the company $400 in gold for 160 acres at $2.50 an acre, and that this tender was refused.

CHRISTIANS SAID TO BE ENDANGERED IN EUROPEAN TURKEY

Condition Is Serious Whether or Not Turks and Greeks Fight.

SENTIMENT ANTI-FOREIGN

Trouble Began With a Display of Hostility Against the Greeks in Asia Minor

Constantinople, June 18.—Whether there is a real war between Turkey and Greece or not, foreign diplomats here were looking today for a prolonged period of danger for Christians in Asia Minor.

The trouble began with displays of hostilities against the Greek residents. The authorities are believed to have given them more or less encouragement, partly because the Greeks were unpopular anyway and partly because the Turks wanted war and considered that one way of forcing one.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

Condition Is Serious Whether or Not Turks and Greeks Fight.

SENTIMENT ANTI-FOREIGN

Trouble Began With a Display of Hostility Against the Greeks in Asia Minor

Constantinople, June 18.—Whether there is a real war between Turkey and Greece or not, foreign diplomats here were looking today for a prolonged period of danger for Christians in Asia Minor.

The trouble began with displays of hostilities against the Greek residents. The authorities are believed to have given them more or less encouragement, partly because the Greeks were unpopular anyway and partly because the Turks wanted war and considered that one way of forcing one.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

No serious trouble is looked for in European Turkey, but in Asia the risk of looting and massacres was considered imminent.

The feeling rapidly developed, however, into a generally anti-foreign and especially anti-Christian sentiment. Europeans and Americans are not regarded with so much deference as are the Greeks and Armenians, but they are not viewed with friendly eyes.

AUTO SPEEDER FINED $45

William Hutchinson, 255 East Sixth street north, was fined $45 this morning in the municipal court for automobile speeding yesterday afternoon on Sandy boulevard. County Motor-cycle Officer White made the arrest.

The auto made 45 miles an hour, said the officer. Hutchinson said his speedometer was not working correctly and he was unable to determine his exact speed.

Stage Hands Will Unionize.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.

Centralia, Wash., June 19.—A proposed union of stage hands and moving picture operators was sanctioned at a meeting of the Centralia trades council Wednesday night.