Social and Personal EXMER

Miss Grace Honeyman and Alfred A. Aya were married last evening at the King Hill residence of the bride's father, Thomas Honeyman, the Rev. Father E. V. O'Hara officiating. Miss Helen Honeyman attended her cousin and John Wheeler was the best man. Miss Babbara MacKenzle and Miss Evelyn Carey who attended her sister, Mrs. Charles Hindemand, and who are the most intimate friends of both girls, also stood with the bridal party.

The rooms were redolent with lovely flowers and the bride stood a flower among them. She is very fair, with flaxen hair and big blue eyes. She was gowned in a soft satin robe made on simple lines, with elaborations of embroidered tulle. Her long tulle veil fell in filmy cascades to the hem of her long train. It was arranged most becomingly circling only the back of her coiffure, which was built high in a becoming psyche and a wreath of delicate crange blossoms banded her hair. Her bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley.

Miss Helen Honeyman, who is a charming girl of the sub-debutante set, wore a pretty frock of white net, with girdle of pastel shaded chiffons and huge butterfly sleeves caught up with clusters of dainty rose buds. She carried a great armful of pink Killarney

Wonderful big white magnolia blooms were banked in a fragrant mass as a background for the wedding party and about the other rooms the baby pink gladioli were used with effective greenery, except in the hall, where purple iris were used. A reception for the younger set followed the ceremony and a delightful evening was passed. The billiard room was arranged for dancing. Mr. and Mis. Aya will reside in La Pine, Or., after their wedding trip. Mr. Aya is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis

Aya, who also reside at La Pine. Wedding Reception Called Off.

Mrs. Warren F. Houghton has recalled the invitations for the wedding reception of her daughter. Miss Clair Houghton, and William Lines, tomorrow evening, owing to the death of Cyrus A. Dolph. The wedding will take place as previously planned, with only the relatives and a few of the close friends in attendance.

Yesterday afternoon she shared honors with Mrs. Clinton Butterfield of Detroit, Mich. who is visiting Mrs. Bruce Stewart (Irene Albee), when Mrs. Stewart gave a beautifully appointed tea in her Irvington home, Broadway and East Seventeenth streets. About 150 guests thronged the rooms during the hours from 4 until 6 o'clock. The hostess, who is one of the most beautiful girls of the younger set, was charmingly gowned in white satin draped with a beruffled tunic of pink flowered net. Miss Sterrett wore a becoming gown shell pink charmeuse and lace and Mrs. Butterfield wore a rose pink crepe de chine. The drawing room was elaborately decorated in red rambler roses and ferns and the dining room was massed in lovely clusters of the pink Dorothy Perkins rambler. The tea table was centered with a great mound of the roses combined with huge bow of pink tulle. Mrs. H. R. Albee, were daintily decorated with the pink Mrs. H. D. Hurlbert, and Miss Agnes McIntosh assisted about the rooms and In the dining room Mrs. Joseph Ma ginnis and Miss Marjorie Lewis poured Degree of Honor. some time in France and England.

Rev. Lovick Pierce Law,

Rev. Lovick Pierce Law, the pastor who succeeds Rev. J. Hardy Bennett as pastor of the First Methodist church, south, at Grand avenue and Multnomah streets, has arrived in Portland from his former home at Siloam Springs, Ark. He delivered his first sermon Sunday. Mr. Bennett resigned to take up the work of the Anti-Saloon league.

The new pastor has been a leading southern evangelist for 14 years, and in order to take up this pastorate cancelled appointments for a year ahead. His wife is a dramatic soprano and had charge of the music at his revivals.

Mr. Law held a revival here three years ago and is expected to do much in the upbuilding of the local church, Later in the summer he expects to return to Atlanta, Ga., for a month's protracted meeting.

Pilot Roy Donaldson of the balloon Springfield, one of the four in the flight from Portland during the Rose Festival week, was the guest of the Illinois Society of Oregon at its meeting in Cotillion hall, Fourteenth and Stark streets, last night, and was presented with a loving cup. Wilbur Henderson, his aide, and Attorney W. M. Davis, who headed rescuing parties after the balloonists when it was thought they were lost last week, were also present and spoke of their experiences. Donaldson compared his most recent race with other ballooning adventures. Minus his balloon and equipment, the aeronaut left for his
