

VACATION SCHOOLS IN PORTLAND WILL COMMENCE TOMORROW

Classes Will Be Held in Seventeen School Buildings of the City.

CONTINUE 'TILL AUGUST 7

Twenty-five Manual Training Shops Will Also Be Opened—The Schools Are Designated.

Tomorrow morning the vacation schools will open and the work will continue until August 7. Classes will be held in 17 school buildings, including schools of trade for both boys and girls. Twenty-five manual training shops will also be opened. Sessions of the high school and trade schools will be from 8:30 o'clock to 1 o'clock each school day, and elementary schools will be open from 8:45 to 11:30 o'clock.

The following schools will be open for classes:

Lincoln high school, Park and Market streets, W. T. Fletcher, principal; Albina Homestead, Beech and Malory streets, Hugh J. Boyd, principal; Astoria, Sixty-fourth street and First avenue, S. E. T. J. Newbill, principal; Hawthorne, East Fourteenth and East Alder streets, E. J. Hadley, principal; Holladay, East Sixth and Clackamas streets, A. M. Cannon, principal; Ladd, West Park and Jefferson streets, A. R. Draper, principal; Lewis, Gilbert and Main streets, A. F. Hershner, principal; Montavilla, East Seventy-sixth and East Pine streets, L. A. Wiley, principal; Oakley Green, Kingsworth and Patton avenues, E. H. Whitney, principal; Peninsula, Fourth and Lombard streets, W. A. Pettit, principal; Richmond, East Forty-second and Grant streets, O. R. Dinwiddle, principal; Sellwood, East Fifteenth and Unamilla streets, L. H. Morgan, principal; Vernon, East Twenty-third and Wygant streets, William Parker, principal; Woodlawn, Union avenue and Bryant streets, C. M. Stafford, principal; Boys' School of Trades, Eleventh and Davis streets, C. E. Cleveland, principal; Girls' School of Trades, Fourteenth and Morrison, Mrs. A. Alexander, principal.

The following pupils are eligible to attend the high school: Those who wish to repeat not more than three subjects in which they have failed.

Those who wish to take advanced work in one subject in order that the work for the fall term of 1914 may not be unreasonably difficult.

Those who lack one credit of graduation, and whose diplomas are withheld until this credit is earned, upon the recommendation of their principals very strong pupils may undertake two credits.

Pupils in grades above the third will be eligible to attend as follows:

Those who have failed during the spring term of 1914 may repeat the work of one or more of the three essential subjects in which they have failed.

Any pupil who is not in the same class in all of his essential subjects may take new work in not more than one of those subjects, which he is retarded, except upon the recommendation of the principal of the schools in which he last attended.

In the School of Trades the following departments will be opened:

Boys department: Machine shop, wood working, electrical construction, plumbing, mechanical drawing.

Girls department: Cooking, millinery, sewing.

Miss Gertrude Blackmar, of the Franklin high school, will be in charge of the cooking work at the Girls' School of Trades, conducting two classes, one for housekeepers and the other for beginners.

Miss Margaret Walker, plain sewing, and Miss Grace Funston, millinery, it is expected 150 will attend the school.

Game Refuge Near Portland Assured

Peninsula Industrial Co. of Kenton Enters Into Contract With the State for Five Years.

Through arrangement with State Game Warden C. H. Evans and W. L. Finley, director of the biological survey of the state, the Peninsula Industrial company of Kenton has entered into a contract to turn its property, extending from Kenton to a mile east of the Vancouver bridge, into game refuge. The contract is for five years.

This, the game officials consider, is one of the most important game refuges that has been secured in the state. The property has been a great hunting place for people who could not afford to rent duck lakes. The company frequently complained to the state game officers of valuable cattle having been shot, and it was decided to keep the hunters out of the district entirely.

The company has appointed four special deputies to patrol the range and District Game Warden Grvin has made special arrangements to keep the area well policed. William L. Finley will probably use the grounds for the rearing of game birds later in the season.

Clansmen Will Hold Their Joint Reunion

Clan Macleay and Caledonians to Enjoy Picnic and Frolic on the Fourth of July.

Clansmen from all parts of Oregon will gather at the Portland Cricket club grounds July 4, when the Clan Macleay and Caledonian club join in their annual picnic and frolic. A

BARGAINS

Says Uncle Ezra, are things that bargain, and he knows. You never swell your bank deposits by buying cheap goods, no matter what they be. Whether you invest in a cheaply priced house, farm, suit of clothes, hat, pair of shoes or meal, you are the loser. If you want to save real money, time and temper, always buy the best at the price of his worth. Aunt Abigail and myself never looked for bargains, but always traded at a reliable store where we could depend on good merchandise and satisfactory service and now, since the children grew up, and buy their own things, they trade at the same store and have their clothes and other things charged to their accounts and remit in weekly or monthly payments. None of us ever had occasion to complain. You know the store, the Eastern Outfitting Company, 405 Washington street, where merit reigns and popular prices prevail—and credit is free. (Adv.)

53 STUDENTS ARE GRADUATED FROM THE PORTLAND SCHOOL OF TRADES

Photographs by Cutberth.

Top row—Edward Bullock, Carl Pederson, Randolph Bundy, Ora Myers, Roy Nelson, Carroll Brock.

Second row—Margaret Willing, Therese Walsifier, John Christensen, Reynolds Neal, James Tracy, Gerald Scrutton.

Third row—Caroline Farschman, Anna Myers, Mary Warren, Elizabeth Fragmeier, Ethelyn Miller, Mildred Emmons.

Fourth row—Georgia Smith, Lillian Burkhardt, Hedwig Haehlin, Josephine De Young, Hope Higgins, Amelia Grischow.

Fifth row—Lydia Carlquist, Gertrude Floss, Angela Canning, Olive Mitchell, Florence Duthie, Helen Higgins.

Sixth row—Charles Rook, S. G. Myers, William Findlay, Harry Halstead.

The Portland public school of trades held its fourth commencement exercises on Tuesday evening when 53 young men and women were granted diplomas or certificates. Before anyone is graduated from the trades school he is taught a strict observance of principles, attention to detail, concentration of thought and well trained dexterity.

Those students who finished their work in the school of trades Tuesday varied program of athletic events, dancing exhibitions, saber tossing, football games and baptee competitions, has been planned, which it is believed will make the day an enjoyable one. The athletic program contains 30 different contests.

Music, both for the dancing and the amusement of the crowd, is to be furnished by the Portland pipe band, led by Pipe Major J. H. MacDonald. Refreshments will be served on the grounds.

Old Time Portland Resident Is Dead

William Larson Dies at Age of 75 Years; Had Lived Here for Past 35 Years; Funeral Today.

William Larson died last Friday, aged 75 years, two months and six days. His wife, Matilda Larson, died last December. Mr. Larson was born in Sweden in 1839. He came to Portland in 1875 and had lived at his late residence, East Eighty-fourth street and Section Line road, 35 years. He is survived by the following children and grandchildren: Gustaf Larson, McMinville, Or.; John R. Henry W. and Charles E. Larson, of Bull Run, Or.; Mrs. G. B. Pickard, Miss Emma and Theodore Larson, of Portland, and six grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Star Grange hall, East Eighty-fourth and Division streets. The Star Grange society will have charge of the services at Multnomah cemetery.

White Wife's Love For Jap Remains

Roundup Girl Will Return Home But Says She Will Join Deported Husband in Japan Later.

San Francisco, June 27.—Mrs. Louise McIlwain Gato, the Roundup, Mont., girl whose Japanese husband was deported recently after having been charged with violating the Mann white slave law, had decided today to accept

UNDERWOOD CHARGES THAT PEOPLE EVADE THE INCOME TAX LAW

Majority Leader Secures Additional Appropriation for Collection of Moneys.

DEFENDS NEW STATUTE

Alabama Answers Republican Congressmen Who Direct Shafts at Administration Policies.

(By the International News Service.) Washington, June 27.—Shortage in estimated income tax receipts was attributed in part to willful hiding by individuals and corporations by Democratic Leader Underwood in a speech in the house today, defending the present fiscal policy of the government.

He asked an increase from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 for use by the commissioner of internal revenue in making income tax and internal revenue tax collections.

The additional $500,000 would be used in income tax collection machinery, the commissioner estimating a return of from $15 to $20 for every dollar expended in this extra appropriation. The appropriation was granted.

Republicans Attack Administration. During the debate Republican leaders, including Payne, Mondell, Humphreys and Foss, charged the Democrats with wrecking business throughout the country by hostile tariff, currency and trust legislation.

"The Democrats now want an inquiry because the income tax receipts have not come up to expectations," charged Mr. Payne. "When they passed this law they said that the people would be nice about it and pay up. Now all the people are dishonest because they are not paying their taxes."

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

"The income tax is not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington," Underwood said.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

Underwood defended the law, saying that the income tax was not a new thing, but a part of the government's revenue since the time of George Washington.

YOUNG WRITER WINS AD CLUB'S CONTEST

Little Miss Alta Barnes.

Little Miss Alta Barnes is a young Portland booster, who has the distinction of writing the best letter on Portland of all the pupils in the grade schools entered in the recent Ad club contest. Alta won first place and a cash prize of $10 as the result of her effort. She is a pupil in the 6B class of the Holman school.

BIG DUNKARD COLONY MAY LOCATE HOMES IN CENTRAL OREGON

Names of 800 Families Obtained at Meeting in Seattle.

The names of more than 800 families who are interested in Central Oregon and may come there to locate were secured last week at Seattle during the national convention of the Dunkard church by I. W. Gray, agent for the Oregon and Western Colonization company.

Mr. Gray returned from Seattle yesterday, and in Portland on his way home to Redmond he reported that he had achieved great success in his campaign to interest the thrifty and prosperous Dunkards, whose religion does not permit them to take up the bankruptcy law.

Most of the delegates to the convention were middle aged or elderly people and Mr. Gray says that it would be a hard thing to induce them to leave their prosperous eastern homes, but he found them anxious to make provision for the rising generation. Many of these people expressed to Mr. Gray their desire to send the young people to the great western country.

To the 800 whose names and addresses were secured, and who are located in nearly every state of the union with the middle western states predominating, literature descriptive of the Central Oregon country, and particularly of the military road grant lands that form a narrow belt across the entire state in an easterly and westerly direction, will be sent at once.

Mr. Gray predicts that the first railroad to be completed in Central Oregon in the future will be the new Hill electric line from Redmond up through the Cascades by Sisters and connecting with the railroad at Jefferson on the Willamette valley side.

"This road will tap the richest yellow low region in the United States," Mr. Gray asserts. "The right of way has already been secured. Much of it lies across lands of the military road grant, already owned by the Hill interests. As surveyed the road will be about 50 miles long and crosses the mountains through a very low pass."

The power will be secured from Clime Falls on the Deschutes west of Redmond. There is a 90 foot fall and Chicago, June 27.—Much of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and the Dakotas suffered heavy damage today from another torrential rain. Streams were out of their banks, roads were washed out, many towns were flooded and immense damage was done to crops by the terrific downpour. LaCrosse, Wis., reported water three or four feet deep in some of the streets for a time.

Real Japanese Invasion. Seattle, Wash., June 27.—With bands about playing "Swanee River," "Tiger" and other brisk tunes, the Japanese battleships Azuma and Asama, with 1553 officers and men aboard, steamed into Elliott bay at 10:30 o'clock this morning under a clear sky and a bright sun. The officers were welcomed by Mayor Hiram C. Gill, on behalf of the city, and Judge Thomas Burke for the chamber of Commerce.

TO HOLD ANNUAL REUNION

Former residents of Albany, Or., will hold their third annual reunion and picnic at the Oaks Tuesday afternoon. Arrangements for a program of entertainment for the afternoon and evening are going ahead. Plans are being made to entertain about 200. Growing out of a picnic of old Albany people held one day three years ago, the affair has increased in size each year, with the indication that the 1914 picnic will be the largest of them all.

Willits, Cal., June 27.—Diving into a swimming pool, George L. Clark, formerly a well known athlete at the University of California, struck his head on a rock and was killed. Journal Want Ads bring results.

Through Summer Days at The Portland

Delightfully cool and restful during the morning hours, or through the long afternoon, are the broad balconies with their inviting chairs, overlooking the courtyard, now clad in a mantle of green and gay with flowers.

Delightful, too, are the menus now being prepared in The Portland's spotless kitchens to tempt your Summer appetite.

Breakfast 6:30 to 12
Mid-day Luncheon 11:30 to 2
Afternoon Tea 3:30 to 6
Table d'Hote Dinner 5:30 to 8
Service in the Grill to 1 A. M.

Open-air concert every evening in the courtyard.

The Portland Hotel

G. J. KAUFMAN, Manager.

Portland's Greatest Clothing Sale

Starts Tuesday Morning 9 o'clock

Wait for This Sale

See Monday Evening and Tuesday Morning Papers

OUR CREED

THE LUMBERMENS NATIONAL BANK, through the personnel of its officials and its connections throughout Oregon, is in close touch with this great and growing empire of wonderful potentialities. It has every confidence in the future of the state, and in the ability, the genius, the brain and the brawn of its citizens. It believes in their honesty, their integrity and their dependability. It believes in the government, in the business houses and the banks. It believes in its own customers and believes in giving them service.

LUMBERMENS NATIONAL BANK

We Invite New Accounts

A Wonderful Photograph of Portland's Business Center

Taken From a Balloon by Woodruff, The Journal Staff Photographer, at an Elevation of Twelve Hundred Feet, Appears

On Page Three of the Magazine of Today's Journal

Every person who will bring in a six months' subscription to The Daily and Sunday Journal will receive a 16x20 photo of this view. It is the most perfect photograph of Portland's business center ever taken.